Gravel Price Cut—Lower prices for gravel prevail this year than for several years past, because of the apparent slump in paving operations. Sand and gravel dealers admit they have cut the price in the hope of stimulating business, but point out that the result is an opportunity to get paving done at a lower cost than is likely to prevail after the coming season is over.

CENSUS TAKERS HAVE TROUBLES

R. J. Hendricks, Supervisor For District, Puts in Busy First Day

If persons who were visited by the census takers yesterday think all the questions in the world were shot at them, they should have been in the office of the district supervisor, R. J. Hendricks.

Once the census takers took to the field, there were plenty of questions which they found they were not clear on, and of course these were referred immediately to Mr. Hendricks' office, with the net result that his assistants were kept as busy as before the big count actually started. Every enumerator in the four counties, Marion, Polk, Yamhill and Tillamook, was in the field yesterday. Supplementary instructions for enumerators were received yesterday from Washington and were mailed out, together with special instructions in regard to fruit and nut schedules. In Marion and Polk counties these schedules go with every farm schedule, however this overlooked a definite census on lots on which fruit is raised and yet not passed as a farm, hence incidental schedule will catch this.

Under a new rule, soldiers, sailors members of the marines and officials of all kinds will be enumerated only if they are on the sea. Among the new instructions from the federal offices is that for a census on vacant lots. Hendricks says a number of residents who are out of town have written him, and that special schedules have been sent out to them.

In the unemployment census here in Salem there are many questions, particularly because there is danger of listing the 4,000 cannery employes who do not work at this time of the year but yet find regular employment at the canneries, as unemployed, the district supervisor says. This, however, will make no difference in the population enumeration.

All work has been suspended on the distribution and manufacturers' census in Salem until after the population and agricultural count has been completed, reports Mr. Hendricks.

"The census job this year is many, many times as large as it was 20 years ago," says Mr. Hendricks who was district enumerator at that time, and at that time he handled the whole of the first congressional district, rather than four counties. Three different supervisors are now working in the first congressional district.

Y. W. C. A. DRIVE HAS PROGRESS

First Half of Week's Work Is Completed by Campaigners Here

Y. W. C. A. workers, on the annual drive for funds to continue their work for another 12 months, yesterday completed the first half of their six-day campaign. Check on the work for the first three days will not be made until the luncheon meeting this noon, but yesterday's reports totaled $1,180.56, bringing the total for the first two days' effort to $2,271.70. The goal is $9,000.

High report yesterday, for Tuesday's work, was made by Mrs. L. O. Clement, her team raising $200.

Miss Beryl Holt, representing the A. A. U. W. and also speaking from her experience as a high school teacher, gave the pep talk yesterday, pointing particularly to the fact that the Y. W. C. A. has done and is doing much, through its Girl Reserve organizations, for the teen age girl. The greatest need of the high school girl is guidance, Miss Holt opined, adding that the Y. W. C. A. long ago met this problem, and has since kept pace the times in guidance of youth and works from the individual angle as much as the group.

As many workers as possible are asked to attend the luncheon today, which will be the next to the last in the group, and at which Dean Roy R. Hewitt of Willamette will be the speaker. Mrs. Gordon McGilchrist will be soloist. Mrs. W. J. Minkiewicz sang two solos yesterday and group singing was led by Mrs. George R. K. Moorehead, with Miss Ruth Bedford as accompanist.

Special guests at yesterday noon session were C. A. Kells and Ben Rickell of the Y. M. C. A. All luncheons are being held at the Y. M. C. A.

NEW BUILDING WILL RAISE BIG AMOUNT

The state board of control Wednesday fixed the monthly rental for floor space in the new state office building now nearing completion here at 7 cents per square foot. It was estimated that this rental would raise between $44,000 and $48,000 a year. Money received in rentals will be turned over to the state industrial accident commission to apply on the loan of $600,000, which was necessary for the construction of the new structure.

The board authorized the secretary of state to grant a request of the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs to use the hall of representatives in the state capitol during the annual convention of the organization to be held in Salem May 15 to 15, inclusive.

Renewal of a lease held by the state industrial accident commission on the lower floor of the Odd Fellows building in Portland was authorized by the board. This space is used for the rehabilitation department of the commission. The board secured a substantial reduction in rentals under the new lease, which runs for a period of two years.

Various requests for deficiency appropriations to be submitted to the state emergency board at its special meeting here Friday, were discussed by the board of control. Final action was referred to the emergency board.

RILEY GIVES TALK TO ROTARY GROUP
Salem Rotarians listened to the eloquent Dr. F. O. Riley, editor of the Hubbard Enterprise, at their noon luncheon Wednesday. Dr. Riley is a past member of the Chicago Rotary club and a past president of a Rotary club in Illinois. His address dealt with the responsibilities of the individual Rotarian to community upbuilding. He recommended a "wailing wall" for professional grouchers and complainers who bewailed conditions, the weather or their personal affairs. The Rotarian who lived up to the club motto, "He profits best who serves most—Service above self" is the man who plays the part of a real man in the battle of life, overcoming obstacles and rendering a service to his community.

Mrs. Eric Butler of the Y. W. C. A. placed the needs of that organization before the Rotary club and Mrs. J. M. Deveraux spoke on behalf of the benefit at the Fox Elsinore next week for the Salem Woman's club which is hostess to the meeting of the state federation in May.

Brown Nilsson of the nominating committee reported the following nominees for offices of the club for the year starting July 1.
President: W. H. Dancy, Will Phillips.
Vice President: C. A. Howard, Grover Hillman.
Treasurer: Dan Fry, Sr.
Secretary: Eric Butler.
