

PETITIONS FOR O-W PURCHASE ARE OUT TODAY

Investigation Shows Names Must All Be in by 16th Of This Month
Hollywood Folk Plan to Restrict Signers to Pay-ers of Taxes

Initiative petitions designed to assure the voters of Salem an opportunity to express their sentiments regarding municipal ownership of the water utility at the May 16 election, will be placed in circulation today, members of the Hollywood community club announced Friday afternoon.

In case the ordinance authorizing a vote on this issue be passed by the city council over Mayor Livesley's veto Monday night, it will not be necessary for the Hollywood folk to proceed any further with the petitions.

Investigations conducted by members of the Hollywood club Friday disclosed that their petitions must be completed and verified by the city recorder April 16, if they are to be effective in forcing a vote at the primary election a month later.

A complication of the situation appears in a clause of the city's initiative law which provides that only persons who are privileged to vote on the measure to be initiated, may sign the petitions. This means, in view of the laws passed by the last legislature which limits balloting on financial measures to property owners, that in order to be safe, signatures on the petitions must also be restricted to taxpayers.

Argument on Eddy Law Is Scheduled Tuesday
There is a favorable prospect that the so called Eddy law on this subject will be ruled unconstitutional prior to the election, as a mandamus action brought by Kelly Loe of Multnomah county attacking these laws is to be argued before the supreme court next Tuesday.

Reports were current Friday that persons interested in preventing a vote on the water issue at this time were urging some councilmen who voted for the ordinance originally, to stay away from Monday night's meeting and thus defeat the measure, which will require an affirmative vote of ten aldermen for passage over the vetoes.

Possible Reasons For Mistake Found
Claims made Friday that the time within which an initiative proceeding might be started to force a vote May 16 had expired, were evidently based on the city's (Turn to page 2, col. 2)

Yank Delegation Buys Tickets To Make Trip Home

Envoys Finally Admit Failure in Matter of Five Power Agreement at London Parley; Japan Britain and U. S. to Complete Pact

By FRANK H. KING
Associated Press Staff Writer
LONDON, April 4.—(AP)—Having achieved their major objectives at the London conference in an American-British-Japanese naval agreement, Col. Henry L. Stimson and the rest of the American delegation today reserved cabins on the Leviathan for the homeward journey April 22.

Hope for a five power agreement is being abandoned and the belief is that the conference cannot last longer than that date. It is understood that the American-British-Japanese agreement will cover a five year period from the expiration of the Washington disarmament treaty in 1931.

Announcement that the Americans were preparing to buy their steamer tickets came during one of the tensest days of the conference and indications tonight are that a crisis exists which may end the many crises of the London conference.

No Relief Sighted In French-Italian Row
France and Italy are as tightly deadlocked as ever over parity and Prime Minister MacDonald of Great Britain is making strenuous efforts to save the situation.

Also the French security formula still eludes Foreign Secretary Henderson of Great Britain and Foreign Minister Briand of France, who are diligently seeking it.

Thus the whole trend of events points to a speedy wind up of the parley with a three power pact as the main achievement and a five power agreement on such problems as humanization of submarine warfare and the technical questions of naval standardization and construction.

Students Taken By Police For Stealing Auto

An interesting sidelight on the senior "flunking day" skirmish among Willamette university students was the arrest by local police of four fraternity brothers of William Mumford, student body president, for the theft of Mumford's automobile, at 3 o'clock Friday morning.

The quartet was released when Mumford withdrew the charges upon learning the identity of the purloiners. They had taken the car in order to prevent its use on the flunk day trip. Names appearing on the police blotter are those of Willis Baldere, Jack Grant, Sam Bove and Homer Roberts.

FATALITIES TOTAL 7
There were seven fatalities due to industrial accidents in Oregon during the week ending April 3, 1930, according to a report prepared by the state industrial accident commission Friday.

The victims were J. C. St. John, Portland, laborer; Lester French, Portland, foreman; William Williams, Portland, wagon maker; Albin Melton, Clatskanie, choker setter; Joseph Wallace, Kerry, choker setter; John E. Sandstrom, Portland, driver, and J. W. Jackson, Seneca, faller.

There were 649 accidents reported to the commission during the week.

TOT ESCAPES DEATH
EUGENE, Ore., April 4.—(AP)—Gordon Ralph, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Moore, Pleasant Hill, narrowly escaped cremation in refuse burner at the Moore Lumber company mill today.

The child crawled upon a conveyor at the noon hour while the plant was idle. When the conveyor started up at 1 p. m., the boy was carried to the very edge of the burner before his discovery. He was brought to Eugene suffering from a badly crushed left arm and lacerations about the face and body.

BULL RAMPAGE TAKES STOCKS TO HIGH LEVEL

Wall Street Sees Most Aggressive Market Since Election Time
Turnover Nears Six Million Mark; Speculators Buy Immense Blocks

NEW YORK, April 4.—(AP)—Bulls cast restraint to the winds in today's stock market and what on such a ramping has not been seen in Wall Street since the post-election whoopee of November, 1928.

The price index of 90 representative issues was pushed up 3 points to a new high level for the year, and transactions aggregated 5,931,610 shares, the largest turnover since the trouble some days of last November. There has not been such feverish activity in a normal bull market since the speculative orgy during the Hoover election, although sales ran higher during some of the violent rebounds last fall.

Rather heavy profit taking appeared at times, but speculators for the rise did not hesitate to rush in to take up the sore spot was the amusement shares, which were depressed by rumors that first quarter earnings for this company would not approach the optimistic estimates heard a few weeks ago.

Scores of utilities and industrials, however, were hurled up about 1 to 11 points as stocks changed hands in blocks of 5,000 to 30,000 shares. Although public participation in the market appeared to be growing rapidly, the character of the trading suggested rather definitely that it was a speculative carnival of giants.

Activity was concentrated in a group of pool favorites, while scores of shares were more or less neglected.

Loans in local banks show a very slight increase over 1929 at the March call. The totals for the three institutions for March 27 showed $6,456,146 loaned locally in comparison to $6,565,880 a year ago.

Cash on hand with the federal reserve banks is in a healthy condition, there being $2,921,308 in the three banks at the time of call in comparison with $1,921,351 a year ago.

While the sale of the Salem Bank of Commerce to the First National Bank was completed this year, and the 1930 figures are for three banks as compared to four in 1929, no diminution in deposits or cash resources in the combined figures of banks in Salem is revealed.

TRESTLE BRIDGE IS TO BE BUILT SOON

Next week a crew of workmen under the direction of Phillip Fisher, Marion county bridge construction engineer, will start work on the 60 foot trestle bridge on Market road 54.

The location of the trestle is about one mile this side of Buena Vista and will bridge a gap in the road which was washed away by the high water of last winter.

Friday Hedda Swart, county engineer, and Fisher journeyed to the location of the new bridge and found that conditions were right for construction work. Last year when the road was being constructed the engineers knew that the road would be washed away at that point and that they should await the action of the flood season in order to best determine the location of the trestle.

A large pile-driver was left near the washout last fall in order to have it on hand for the first construction work of the year.

The bridge will be a three span affair, each span being 21 feet in length. The width will be 18 feet.

LARGE GAIN SHOWN BY BANK DEPOSITS

Increase Over Year Ago Reported by Salem Financial Institutions

Showing a gain in the face of business conditions supposed to be somewhat slower than in early 1929, Salem banks reported this week larger deposits than a year ago.

The combined deposits of the three banks as of March 27, showed $11,002,739 as of that date in comparison with $10,831,321 at the same date the year before. The gain of $171,418, while not large, is healthy considering that a number of communities in the state show a slight decrease from the high mark of a year ago.

Loans in local banks show a very slight increase over 1929 at the March call. The totals for the three institutions for March 27 showed $6,456,146 loaned locally in comparison to $6,565,880 a year ago.

RASKOB ADMITS HE IS ACTIVE AS WET

WASHINGTON, April 4.—(AP)—To the accompaniment of sharp exchanges between members of the senate lobby committee, John J. Raskob, chairman of the democratic national committee, calmly testified today that he had contributed $65,000 during the last five years to the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, and that he was a director of the organization.

In a low, even tone the democratic chieftain smilingly replied to questions about his relations with the association. He said it attempted to obtain the election of congressmen favoring repeal or modification of the prohibition act. He added he was not very active in the work of the association.

"I am largely in the position of being a contributor and a director," he explained.

Midget Market Struck by Fire Friday Evening

Fire originating in the smoke room in the basement caused considerable damage here and was extinguished, Friday night in the Midget meat market, 351 State street. The fire was discovered about 9:30 o'clock by Marion Putnam, night patrolman, who turned in the alarm.

Harry Levy, proprietor of the market, said he believed the fire started when a piece of meat in the smoke room dropped down into the fire at the bottom, causing it to blaze up and ignite the rest of the meat which was being smoked. All the meat in the department was burned and the walls were badly scorched. Smoke filled the basement and filtered into basements of adjoining buildings.

400 GIRLS ARE CITY'S GUESTS THIS WEEKEND

18th Annual Conference of Oregon is Started Here Late Yesterday
Leaders Appointed; Debate Scheduled on Brains vs. Personality

Approximately 400 girls from all sections of Oregon were already registered last night for the 18th annual Oregon Older Girls conference, sessions of which opened late yesterday in the First Presbyterian church here.

Another 100 girls are expected to register today and to be here for the remainder of the conference, which ends late Sunday afternoon.

Organization of the conference and perfection of a smooth working order were accomplished at last night's session under direction of Miss Daphne Hughes of Roseburg and Mrs. Jean M. Johnson of Portland, conference director.

Many of the problems are being taken up in group study the conference being divided into six sections. Leaders of which are: Miss Pearl Sherlock, Miss Ruby Pergrine and Miss Dulcena Brown, all of Portland, Miss Elizabeth Hogg of Salem, Miss Margaret Edmundson of Eugene and Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaher of Salem.

Leaders Appointed
In addition to these leaders of youth, conference leaders include: Mrs. Virginia Judy Estery, dean of women at the University of Oregon; Dr. Walter L. Van Nuy of Portland, president of the Oregon Council of Christian Education; Mrs. Homer D. Chamberlin, Portland, of the Oregon social hygiene society. Mrs. Estery and Mrs. Chamberlin are personal advisors to the girls, and Dr. Van Nuy is devotional leader.

Outstanding on the program last night was the conference program, written by Clarence Thorpe-Parker of Portland; Ruth Frazier and Elizabeth Scruggs of University of Oregon; and Frances Marsh of McMinnville; Lucille Meserve, Portland, soloist; Vivian Cartier, Portland, pianist; and Ida Mae Stauffer, Portland, violinist.

Brains and Personality Subject of Debate
Highlights of today's program will be the annual election tonight and the debate on "Resolved, That Brains are a Greater Asset to a Woman than Personality."

To be heard at the general assembly will be: Clarence Thorpe-Parker of Portland and Pauline Paul of McMinnville taking the affirmative and Bess Templeton of Eugene and Artie Appleton of Albany arguing on the negative.

A complete program for today follows:
Morning—8:45—Morning devotions with Salem girls in charge; 9:00—talk number two in devotions led by Dr. Van Nuy and talk, "My Experiences as a Factory Girl" by Margaret Edmundson; 9:40—group discussion; 10:30—general assembly and talk, "The Soul that Yields True Friendships" Mrs. Homer A. Chamberlin; 11:00—group discussion; moving pictures and lunch.

Afternoon—1:15—"Grain through the Ages" Elizabeth Steele of Portland; 1:30—devotions by Dr. Van Nuy; 2:45—general assembly and debate; 3:15—politics; 3:30—conference tea at Lausanne hall, compliments of Willamette university girls.

Evening—5:30-6:30—buffet dinner at First Methodist church, with fun and fellowship on program; 7:45—assembly in conference church, marimba solo by Edith Findley of Salem and reports from Geneva Glen camp last summer in charge of Helen Scruggs and Adrienne Jensen; 8:45—vocal solo, Margaret Shumaker of Salem, election of conference officer and Geneva delegates and good night devotions.

Queen Victoria Of Sweden Dies

ROME, April 4.—(AP)—Queen Victoria of Sweden, long an invalid from a bronchial ailment, calmly and apparently painlessly died here today in the winter home that was her refuge every year from the rigorous climate of Sweden. She was 68 years old.

Queen Victoria had been gradually sinking in vitality for a long time from a pulmonary complication, yesterday her condition was disquieting and King Gustave, who had gone on an excursion to Naples and the Island of Capri, was sent for.

The queen, sinking rapidly, died as though she were falling asleep, only Dr. Munte, who had attended her for more than 30 years, realizing she was dead. He felt her pulse, listened to her heart and turning to the king sorrowfully announced that her majesty had passed away.

Alfred by nurses, Dr. Munte clad the body in burial garments of black and laid it out on the bed over which were strewn roses from the garden that the queen had loved and personally supervised. She used to say it was the sight and perfume of flowers in the sunny Italy that kept her alive.

By a coincidence, today was the first in weeks on which the queen had been deprived of the spring like sunshine of Italy. After weeks of fair weather, rain fell steadily.

Services for her will be held at the German church in Rome tomorrow, and tomorrow or Sunday the body will be sent to Sweden.

Older Boys From Marion And Polk Counties Meet

The seventh annual Marion-Polk county Older Boys conference got off to a promising start Friday night with 110 persons, mostly delegates, attending the banquet at the Y. M. C. A.

Registration up to late in the evening showed the following representation of cities and communities:
Salem 23, Silverton 11, Woodburn 2, Aumsville 8, Turner 1, Stayton 9, Independence 6, Corvallis 4, Albany 4, Toledo 4, Scotts Mills 2, Chemawa 4, Amity 5, Philomath 1.

Dean Roy R. Hewitt of the Willamette university law school was toastmaster at the banquet and the principal speakers were Dean J. R. Jewell of O. S. C. and Prof. W. C. Jones of Willamette. Prof. Jones sounded the keynote of the conference, "First Things First," in his address, approaching the subject from the standpoint of moral, mental and spiritual interests. Dean Jewell developed the same topic from the viewpoint of vocational guidance in a talk leading up to a more thorough discussion this morning at 9:30.

New Cell Block Is Ordered

Addition to Oregon's Penitentiary Will Be Put Up
Total of $271,051 Is Voted by Emergency Board

It required less than three hours here Friday afternoon for the state emergency board to approve deficiency appropriations aggregating $271,051.50. None of the requests was refused, although there was considerable discussion in connection with two appropriations sought by the Oregon State college through the state board of higher education.

The largest deficiency appropriation was $53,000 for the construction of a new cell block at the state penitentiary. The cost of this improvement was estimated at $88,000, of which $35,000 is now available.

Prison Population Shows Rapid Increase
Reports submitted to the board showed that the population at the prison has increased at the rate of approximately 100 a year, and that 222 prisoners are now compelled to sleep outside of the cells. Of the prisoners outside of the cells 81 are housed on the second floor of the penitentiary garage, while 50 are at the prison annex six miles east of Salem.

The proposed cell block will have as accommodations for 320 prisoners. Representative Hamilton who, by virtue of being speaker of the house of representatives is a member of the emergency board, said it was his opinion that the people of Oregon should consider seriously a proposal to erect a new cell block. He charged that the present plant was inadequate and that the new cell block would be nothing more than a make shift.

Circuit Judges Get $45,000 in Salaries
Another deficiency appropriation of $45,000 was approved for the payment of salaries and wages of circuit judges. This deficiency was the result of a bill passed at the 1929 legislative session authorizing the creation of a new circuit judgeship and increasing the salaries of the circuit judges an additional $500 during the current biennium. At the time the bill was presented to the legislature it was represented that increased court fees would offset the additional cost. Records of the secretary of state submitted to the emergency board today show that the increased court fees for the biennium would total less than $40,000.

The board also allowed an appropriation of $35,000 sought by the secretary of state for maintenance of the new state office building now nearing completion here. At the time the legislature authorized the construction of this building no provision was made for maintenance. Items included in the maintenance appropriation were wages of $20,000, general and operating costs $14,000 and purchase of an automobile at $1,000.

Tuberculosis Hospital Gets $28,500 Appropriation
Another appropriation of $28,500 was authorized for the operation of the Eastern Oregon tuberculosis hospital during the remainder of the biennium. Of this amount $24,000 is needed for maintenance and operation, and $4,500 for salaries and wages. It was explained that this deficiency resulted from increased costs of commodities, and the fact that the population is in excess of that estimated at the time the principal appropriation was authorized.

Requests for deficiency appropriations of $14,000 for the employment of two market specialists and $11,000 for cooperative (Turn to page 2, col. 7)

ANCIENT WHISKEY FOUND
THE DALLES, Ore., April 4.—(AP)—Shovels and shovels were at a premium here today as the result of the discovery of an old liquor cache by men excavating for a basement.

The whisky—only two bottles found thus far—was several feet underground and was marked "bottled in bond, 1913." Containers were found in the rubble of the pre-prohibition days which tested the find before police were aware of its existence, pronounced the labels correct.

TEAM TO PRACTICE
EUGENE, Ore., April 4.—(AP)—The Eugene team of the Willamette valley baseball league will hold its first workout Sunday morning with the entire squad expected in attendance. Although some of the Eugene players will not be able to participate until after the school year is over, since they are attending the University of Oregon, the locals expect to put out a strong aggregation from the start.

Candidates For Governor to Be Speakers Here

At least two candidates for the governorship, and possibly four, will be speakers at the Marion County Chamber of Commerce banquet Tuesday night at 7 o'clock in the Elks temple.

Charles Hall of Mesfield and Ed Bailey, of Junction City are the candidates definitely slated to appear, and invitations have also been sent to Harry L. Corbett and Governor Norblad. Another speaker will be R. J. Kirkwood, secretary of the state association.

This banquet takes the place of the regular April meeting, and a number of matters of importance are slated to come up for discussion.

Corbett to Be Speaker Before Chamber Meet

Harry L. Corbett, former state senator and candidate for the republican nomination for governor, is slated to speak Monday noon at the chamber of commerce meeting according to announcement made here Friday.

Corbett, born in Portland in 1881, began his political experience with a term in the state senate in 1922. He has been reelected two times, resigning when he entered the present race. Mr. Corbett is now serving as president of the Pacific International Livestock exposition.
