

Largest Crowd Gathers for Last of 3 Cooking Matinees

SCHOOLS FOUND REAL SUCCESS

Home Chefs Learn Much of Interest in Preparation of Tasty Dishes

The last of the Oregon Statesman Cooking Matinees was held yesterday morning in Bligh's Capitol Theatre from 9:30 to 11 o'clock. Elizabeth Reger and Victoria Warner and Rita Calhoun, assisted by Elizabeth Culbert, demonstrated oven cooking, and canning and had several surprises for the largest crowd of the three days.

It is declared that these matinees have been a great success in all respects and that everyone will be glad to welcome these charming ladies back again next year.

Nearly everything of interest to the housewife was discussed at some time during the three days, and the husbands of Salem from now on can be prepared for some surprise dishes, or perhaps some of their old favorites served to them with the addition of some new wrinkles.

Best of Cooks
Learn New Points
Even the best cooks in our city have come away with renewed interest in their every-day job, for every job grows monotonous and mechanical unless we stir around and get some different ways of adding "spice" and zest to it. That is the purpose of these affairs—not to teach us how to cook, for many of us know how and extremely well too, but it is to refresh our interest in our job and to review various short-cuts we may have heard of and forgotten, and to add new ones to our store of knowledge.

Oven canning for instance is becoming more popular as housewives find how easy and simple it is. There is no fuss and muss with the boiler and no filling of jars after the fruit is cooked and is hard to handle. Oven canning is made absolutely sure with the new heat-controlled ovens of the new gas ranges. The temperature is controlled so that there is no breakage of jars or lack of sterilization.

Frozen Desserts and Salads Found to be interesting ways of using our refrigerator! We are now full of ideas for frozen salads and desserts.

Another time-saving method it is good to be reminded of and which was brought out in these matinees is the method of preparing a whole meal in our oven at one time. Here is a brief resume of the rules for Oven Dinners:

Sear all meats uncovered for 15 to 30 minutes, according to size of roast. Then broil and place in oven with other food.

Vegetables must be covered with boiling salt water. Cold water should be used only in emergency. If possible, bring vegetables quickly to the boiling point before placing in the oven.

The temperature for meals according to length of time cooked is as follows:

300 degrees for 2-hour meal.
275 for 3-hour meal.
250 for 4, 5 or 6-hour meal.

These are only a few of the things covered in these interesting affairs.

Rita Calhoun, who was one of the instructors in the cooking school, resides in Salem, and she may be reached at any time by calling the local office of the gas company. She will be pleased to answer any inquiries from women interested in cooking problems.

PRINCESS WORKER GET MAID'S JOB

VIENNA (AP)—Telling for a middle-class family in the seventh district of Vienna as a maid-of-all-work is the Princess Ida Rosa Sulikowska, only daughter of the late Prince Josef Maria Sulikowski, who died in 1929. She is listed on the Almanac de Gotha.

The princess is glad to have something by which to earn a living, although an exceedingly modest one. She receives approximately $6.00 monthly with board and lodgings, but looks on with her condition three months ago, when she sought refuge at night in the city's asylum for the homeless and during the daytime went around with a pail and scrubbing brush picking up odd jobs at cleaning floors and windows.

The father of the princess lived in Vienna and founded the famous Sulikowski theatre. He married the well-known opera singer, Ida Jaeger, and the prin-

"MYSTERY BEAUTY" BELIEVED SLAIN BY CORVALLIS MAN

Exclusive photo of Mary McCoy, "mystery beauty," who, according to C. L. King, was slain in the woods north of Eureka, Cal., during a struggle with him over a pistol. Camera study of C. L. King, arrested by Portland, Ore., police as slayer of Mary McCoy, and his wife, King says she was kidnapping him from Mrs. McCoy. First and exclusive photo of Mrs. C. L. King, formerly Eunice Pardee of Corvallis, Ore. She and King were married shortly after death of Mary McCoy, who police say was slain by King.

PETITIONS TO BE OUT TODAY

Investigation Shows Names Must All Be in by 16th Of This Month

Original initiative law, ordinance No. 818 passed in 1910, which required a 60 day period between the filing of petitions and the election.

Ordinance No. 1464, which supersedes the original provision, provides that petitions must be filed and certified 30 days before "the next regular city election."

It is presumed that the primary election is a regular city election, as it will be the only one at which city offices and measures will be voted on this year.

Special Election to Be Called if Necessary
In this connection members of the club, which is headed by P. M. Gregory, candidate for mayor on a municipal ownership platform, said they would dislike to force a special election, with the attendant expense, but would do so if necessary to accomplish their purpose.

Petitions must bear names amounting to 15 per cent of the votes cast at the last city election. This will mean a considerably less number than was required for the referendum petition circulated last year against the bus franchise ordinance, which required 10 per cent of the total number of legal voters.

Princess Ida Rosa was their only child. The young princess was rearing in a Vienna palace, visiting in the summertime the country seats of the family at Felstritz and Pankofa.

In 1909, when she was nineteen years old, Princess Ida Rosa married Dr. Alexander Tagany, trustee for her father, who had become mentally unable to manage his property. The union lasted two years and was ended by divorce, which, however, did not become final till 1908. Thereafter she married a Prussian count, Bernhard von Schmettow, from whom five years later she also obtained a divorce. A third marriage was with a Pole, Georges Yan Kunowski, from whom she soon separated.

At her father's death in 1929, the princess bought some property near Amstetten with the small sum she obtained from her father's estate, but owing to her ignorance of management she lost everything and was soon walking the streets of Vienna, searching for work, as her relatives refused to aid her.

Mickey Mouse NOTES

BY SCRIBE
Mickey Mouse
Zella Volchok

Hey Kids! Let's get aboard this Minstrel show that Chief Dow told us about last Saturday. Something to look forward to. If you'd like to be in it, give your names to the chief or to the scribe in the lobby, Miss Hickman, or to me. Already we have over a dozen members signed up for it.

Get on the honor roll. A surprise for those on it each week.

Wasn't it good? You don't know what I'm talking about? Well, here's what was good, from Barbara Barnes School of Dance, last week we were entertained with a Highland Fling, something "Scotch" by Margaret Bailey, Miss Eleanor Drager, Barbara Miller, Catherine Anderson and Helen Keesley; and with an acrobatic dance by two charming little Mickey Betty Ewery and Jean Adams.

So long, see you at the Fox Elsinore Saturday at 12:30.

Norblad Club Formed Here By A's Supporters

First activity in political organizations locally was manifest this week with the organization of a Norblad-for-Governor club with Hal D. Patton as president. I. M. Doughton was named vice-president of the group, while Newell Williams will act as secretary and Dr. O. A. Olson as treasurer. An advisory committee of seven members will be chosen.

Patton said yesterday that the club would distribute campaign literature here and do other services to help the governor in his strenuous campaign for election.

Four membership lists asking support for the incumbent have been turned in with 135 people signed as members while six other lists are being circulated.

HANSEN WHIPS THYE EASILY

Seattle Heavyweight Throws Portland Grappler Two Times Out of 3

PORTLAND, Ore., April 4.—(AP)—Charley Hansen, Seattle heavyweight won two of three falls to defeat Ted Thye, Portland in the principal match of the wrestling card here tonight. Hansen weighed 195 pounds against 188 for Thye.

Thye took the first fall in 30 minutes with a combination wristlock and hammerlock. Hansen won the second and third, the second in eight minutes, 45 seconds with a hammer lock and the deciding fall in less than five minutes when Thye, in trying to apply a wristlock, rolled over on his own shoulders with the Seattle grappler on top.

NEW PLAYERS SEEN AT OBERAMMERGAU

OBERAMMERGAU (AP)—This year's Passion Play, beginning in May, will break tradition in more ways than one.

Two of the leading roles, the Virgin Mary and the Christ, will be portrayed by actors whose appearance and style are in marked contrast to that of their predecessors.

For the first time in the Passion Play's history the mother of Christ will be a blond. The new Mary, played by Anni Rutz, also is more girlish than usual. She has a gentle dignity and a melodious contralto speaking voice.

Alois Lang's presentation of the Christ probably will be in marked contrast to Anton Lang's interpretation, which has come to be almost traditional. Alois, with dark hair and beard, is expected to give a more lyrical

Impersonation than fair-haired Anton, who will speak the prologue this year.

Even the old text and music of the play have been completely revised. The stage is to be thoroughly modernized.

A large staff exclusively from Oberammergau's populace has been recruited to make costumes and properties.

Active preparations for the play have been in full swing for weeks. Principals have been reading their parts regularly in private rehearsals.

Six hundred players in the cast will be augmented by a chorus of 50 and an orchestra of 50. Large dressing rooms have been built with such designations as "Roman Room," "Room for Traders," and "Room for the Priests."

George Lang, the stage manager, who stands almost seven feet in his stockings, is designing the vast assortment of costumes and properties.

NEW ADDITION TO PEN VOTED

Total of $271,051 Appropriated at Session of Emergency Board

Investigations resulted in considerable discussion. These appropriations were sought by the state board of higher education in behalf of the Oregon State college.

Federal Farm Relief Act Cited by Pease
E. C. Pease of The Dalles, said the market specialists especially were needed at this time in case Oregon was to take advantage of the federal farm relief act. He said it would be the duty of these market specialists to assist in the organization of cooperative groups so that loans might be obtained from the federal government. Mr. Pease made special reference to the necessity of federal aid for the wheat grower, sheep raiser and fruit grower. Other cooperative groups entitled to relief under the federal market act were discussed by President Kerr of the state college.

Although Secretary of State Hoss, State Treasurer Kay and Representative Hamilton said they doubted whether these appropriations came within the category of emergency appropriations, all members of the board voted in the affirmative. The appropriation of $11,000 will be used in conducting various investigations under the direction of the state college experimental station.

Orphans and Foundlings Given $49,977 Sum
The board also authorized an appropriation of $49,977.48 for the payment of the state's share of taking care of orphans and foundlings in state-aided institutions. Other deficiency appropriations included $29,073.32 requested by the state treasurer to pay interest on bonds issued by irrigation districts, $3,000 for the payment of salaries of district attorneys, and $2,500 to take care of additional supreme court costs pending department proceedings involving George W. Joseph and Thomas Mannix, Portland attorneys.

He recalls the strong and effective position of Seligland, "a miserable heap of sand armed by Germany," and says "let us consider the possibility of there being tens of hundreds of American Heligolands in the Atlantic and Pacific in a quarter of a century."

Also, he urges the French government to raise the problem at the coming London naval conference so as to restrict the zone in which any country could place such islands. It is his theory that at present the United States has only to raise its flag over a sea-drome, outside any country's ten mile limit and thereby create a new spot of American territory where fleets of war planes might be gathered under the protection of strong anti-aircraft batteries.

Webtoots Defeat Badgers by 7 to 0

EUGENE, Ore., April 4.—(AP)—The University of Oregon won its initial baseball contest of the season here today, defeating Pacific university 7 to 0. The Badgers were hit hard in the seventh and ninth innings. They got only three men on bases.
