A series of special revival meetings will open in the First Methodist church on next Sunday with Miss D. Willia Caffray as the evangelist doing the preaching. The services will be in the form of a campaign for the enlistment in and the enrichment of the Christian life based upon the words of Jesus. "I am come that they might have life and that they might have it more abundantly."

The month of April with Palm Sunday and Easter as special days will be observed by the church members as church attendance month and the congregations will be enlarged and the church school attendance increased.

What the Church Is For

By M. HOWARD FAGAN, D. D. (Visiting Evangelist, First Christian Church)

If the churches of Salem should go out of business real estate values would collapse, and the best citizens would move away at the first opportunity. There is no more valuable institution in the nation than the church. To be sure it is imperfect, but it is made up of imperfect individuals. For any of us to join a perfect church would be to spoil its perfection.

The church stands for the worship of God. Every church building is an invitation to men to remember God. Oliver Wendell Holmes said, "I find I have in one corner of my heart a tender plant called reverence that needs to be watered at least once a week." In our age there is no greater need than a consciousness of the reality and presence of God.

There are three great realities in the message of the church—reality of God, reality of sin, and reality of salvation. The church alone proclaims salvation from sin through faith in Jesus Christ. There is no other institution that is set for this task, if the church should become silent the gospel message would not be heard. And every man needs a saviour—one who can save not only from the penalty of sin, but also from the practice of sin. Jesus Christ is that saviour.

The church also stands for the development of Christian character. It opposes all that destroys peace and happiness; it fosters all that brings out the best that is in man. The law of the jungle teaches the survival of the fittest; the law of Christ teaches that we should take the unfit and make them fit. The churches invite you to their fellowship because of what they can do for you, not because of what you can do for them. "Unto Him be the glory in the church."

Church of God's Program Of Dedication Scheduled For Tomorrow Afternoon

Formal dedication of the new Church of God edifice at the corner of Hood and Cottage streets will be made at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, April 6, and in observance of the event the congregation has planned an all day session, starting at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The dedicatory sermon will be preached by Rev. C. K. Chapman of Eugene, who is well known to many of the local congregation.

Work on the church building has been under way for a number of months, having been started late last fall and within a comparatively short time after Rev. C. W. Hatch assumed the pastorate here.

Much of the labor in construction of the new temple was volunteered by the church members, and although there is still considerable work about the grounds to be done and a second coat of paint for the exterior will be given later, the plant which will greet the members and friends tomorrow will be virtually complete. Ample room for the present congregation, and for future growth, has been provided.

The dedicatory program in detail follows: An appreciation, Rev. C. W. Hatch, pastor. "Old Hundred," Prelude of instrumental music. "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name," congregation. "Glory to His Name," congregation. Prayer, Evangelist F. W. Hopkins of Grants Pass.
