Likewise, the fact that a housewife decides to serve simple, wholesome food does not mean that it should be lacking in taste appeal and uninviting in appearance. Yet, too often, this is the case. As a result there is either patient indifference to the food, or outspoken rebellion by old and young. One of the most popular ways to make wholesome foods zestful is to flavor them with sugar. A dash of sugar to a pinch of salt works wonders in the seasoning of vegetables, canned and fresh, meat stews and salad dressings. This seasoning does not change the characteristic flavor of the food but emphasizes it. Many other foods can also be improved by sugar. Fresh and stewed fruits, and most cereals need sugar to make them inviting to the taste. Doctors and dietitians endorse this use of sugar. What is more, they recommend the regular practice of serving desserts-for their nourshment and their satisfying qualities. Most foods are more delicious Statutory resident attorney for service -H. H.
