Good Local Burbanks Priced at Three Dollars

Retailers' demands for potatoes. on the wholesale market, have shown greater activity during the last day or two than has existed in many weeks. Growers' home storage stocks are now very light; thereby necessitating retailers obtaining supplies from jobbers' stocks, Good local Burbanks advanced to $3.00. Total U. S. shipments coutinue light, with firm market tene prevailing at all potato shipping points, and at most terminal markets.

The season's first car of asparagus from Oregon was loaded at The Dalles yesterday, for eastern shipment. Some "grass" from the north side of the Columbia was included in the car. This shipment removed a threatened oversupply from the Portland market, and today's prices strengthened slightly, to $1.35@ $1.50 per dozen bunch-

California strawberries continue to arrive in liberal volume, but movement is slow, probably due to cool weather. Slight price declines occurred, especially on 'hold-overs' from previous arriv-

Tomato supplies are light, and demand is fairly good; 'consequently, prices advanced 50 to 75c per lug, for both original packs, and repacks.

California beets and turnips are arriving in mixed cars, shipped in bulk. These bulk receipts show very fine quality.
