First Presbyterian Choir Will Present "Olivet to Calvary" on Easter

The choir of the First Presbyterian church will present Maunder's cantata "Olivet to Calvary" at 4:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The cantata tells of the scenes which marked the last few days gar E. Coursen of Portland, and of the Savior's life on earth. The rejoicing of the multitude, the and the lament over the city, the at Philadelphia, where Hofmann view of Jerusalem from Olivet scene in the Temple, and the lonely walk back over the Mount at night, form the chief features of the first part.

Part two opens with the Supper of the Passover, at which ing: "After hearing Richard Gan-Jesus gives the new command- ong, I decided that he is excevment of love for one another as tionally gifted and very well the sign of true discipleship. The | taught." scene passes to the pathos of the Garden, the appearance of the hostile crowd, the loneliness of Jesus forsaken by his disciples, the tumult before Pilate, and the final tragedy and triumph of Cal- of J.
