5 IDEALS OUTLINED BY SPEAKER HERE

Five items which every boy and girl must do and live up to, to be the best kind of work, he or she is capable of being, were outlined last night by Dr. E. J. Bulgoin in his sermon given at the Calvary Baptist church. They are: concentration, consecration, education, agitation and characterization.

"Any boy who has one fired habit that he is not able to break himself away from is not the boy that he ought to be," said Dr. Bulgoin. He impressed the point of honesty upon the minds of his listeners and used as an illustration the story about the man who robbed himself of eight hundred dollars when he was building his own house and did not know it. "Every boy should find out what kind of work he is best fitted for and stick to that particular kind of work," said Dr. Bulgoin. He pointed out that a man working at the kind of work which he is not fitted for is wasting his time. Dr. Bulgoin stated that when he visited the Illinois state penitentiary recently he made an investigation and found that only 24 out of 1200 boys under the age of 21 who were serving sentences in that institution had ever read the Bible or gone to Sunday school.

150 KILLED IN CHURCH BLAZE

Fire Sweeps Rumania Building During Easter Vigil Services

BUCHAREST, April 18.—(AP)—Dispatches from the village of Choesi, near Pitesti, 65 miles northwest of here, said tonight that at least 150 persons were burned to death or severely injured in a church that took fire during an Easter vigil service. Several hundred persons were imprisoned in the flaming church. It was not known how many had escaped. Meager reports available said the fire brigades of Choesi and Pitesti were desperately fighting the flames and trying to break in the church doors jammed by the pressure from the crowd withing. During the vigil service tonight wind carried a curtain across the flames of lighted candles. The curtain caught fire and the flames were quickly communicated to the altar and the panellings. In a panic that followed the fear-crazed congregation pressed at the doors which opened inward and thus cut their own escape off. Among the dead were two priests, a notary and the burgomaster of Choesi.

CHARGES AGAINST STEED GET AIRING

Charges preferred against J. Lyman Steed, superintendent of the Oregon state school for the deaf, which have to do with the conduct of the institution, will be aired at a special meeting of the state board of control to be held here Friday, April 25. Opponents of Steed alleged in complaints filed with the board of control that a number of his teachers are incompetent, and that the pupils do not advance as rapidly as in similar institutions in other states. It was said that two teachers now employed in the school would testify against Steed at the hearing. Steed will be given an opportunity to reply to the charges. Mr. Steed has been connected with the Oregon school for the deaf for several years. The board of control Friday authorized the employment of John T. Myers as parole officer at the state training school for boys at a salary of $120 a month. Myers will act as chaplain of the school, a position formerly held by Mr. Myers. No action was taken by the board in connection with a proposed increase of salaries for several employees of the state home for the feeble minded.

GUS ANDERSON IS IN CITY FOR VISIT

Gus Anderson, former Willamette student and a graduate of the Northwestern school of law, at a member of a committee of world tours for the past five years, is a guest of Dr. B. F. Pound this week. His present home is Chicago.

While at Willamette Anderson was active in glee club work being a member of the quartet of 1918. During his time at Willamette he was manager of the glee club and conducted several tours, and shortly after his graduation he conducted the first of world tours, which have since taken him through most of Europe and into the Holy Land. He was in Jerusalem last year and witnessed the riots between the Jews and Arabs at Walling Wall, and he succeeded in getting some of the first motion pictures of the massacres. He predicted that the riots and skirmishes at Walling Wall will continue as long as the Jews encroach upon the rights of the Arabs, who constitute about 90 per cent of the population of the country. This year he will conduct another 36 day cruise, the party being scheduled to leave Montreal, June 27. Every capital and important city in Europe will be visited as well as the Holy Land, Smyrna, and other points in Asia Minor, he says.

Portland Firm Bitterly Fought By Undertakers

A large number of independent undertakers from various parts of Oregon appeared before Mark McCallister, state corporation commissioner here Friday, and protested against issuance of a permit to the Merrill Mortuary to continue its sale of burial certificates in Oregon. The concern was incorporated in Utah, but now operates in a number of western states. Oregon headquarters of the company are in Portland. A permit previously issued to the Merrill Mortuary was canceled when the concern failed to file required reports with the state corporation department.

Home Economics Confab Supervisor Plans Meet In Salem on Wednesday

A parent education conference will be held in Salem next Wednesday and Thursday under joint auspices of the home economics extension service of Oregon State college and the state board of vocational education, announces Miss Frances Wright, state supervisor of home economics with the vocational education board. Miss Wright is directing the conference, which will be held at the First Presbyterian church. Several outstanding state leaders in child development will participate in the program, including Mrs. Sara H. Prentiss, specialist in child development from the school of economics at Oregon state; and Miss Ruth Glassow, director of women's physical education at Oregon state. Claribel Nye, state leader of home economics extension work will also participate in the program, as will Mrs. C. A. Downs of Salem, chairman of the child study class of the A. A. U. W.

MISS FRANCES WRIGHT MAN KILLS WOMAN AND THEN SUICIDES

CHICAGO, April 18.—(AP)—After probably fatally wounding a woman who had been in a room with him, W. M. Costello, Santa Fe railroad conductor, jumped from a seventh floor window of a hotel in the Loop tonight and was instantly killed. After he had fired five shots at the woman, believed to be Mrs. Margaret Ryan, she ran into the corridor with Costello in pursuit, apparently bewildered by his act. The woman's screams brought guests into the hallway and Costello ran back into the room, hastily scrawled a farewell note and as a hotel employe ran in to seize him, he ran to the window and jumped. The woman said Costello had shot her because she refused to marry him.

Salem Students Are Entered in Speaking Meet

Two Salem high students, Fred Blatchford and Esther Keuscher, will represent this district in the state extempore speaking and reading contests at Corvallis next Friday and Saturday as a result of the district tryouts held last night at the Salem high school. Blatchford will enter the extempore speaking and Miss Keuscher the reading contest. Judges were Justice O. P. Coshov, Prof. R. M. Gatte and Martin Ferrey. Other entrants in the reading preliminaries were Ruth McMaisters of Sweet Home and Jane Goodale of Albany. Lyle Barch of Albany was the other extempore speaking contestant. Mrs. Mary Childs of Albany, district chairman, was in attendance.

Cottage Grove Group Talks of New Armory

A delegation of Cottage Grove citizens conferred with Adjutant General White here Friday in connection with the location for the new state armory to be built there during the current year. Several locations were said to be under consideration. The armory will cost approximately $40,000, half of which was appropriated by the 1929 legislature. The remaining $20,000 will be contributed by citizens of Cottage Grove. Actual building operations probably will get under way in June.

POLITICAL FACTIONS BUSY UPON CAMPUS

Politics will hold the spotlight on the Willamette university campus throughout the next week with the filing of petitions for student body officers Friday afternoon starting the campaign among the several campus organizations. The elections will be held next Friday. Warren McMinnimee and Leslie Frewing will oppose each other for president of the student body. McMinnimee is second vice president, the great comical actor in law next year, while Frewing will be a senior in liberal arts. Betty Lewis and Helen Pemberton are on the ticket for first vice president, and Roy Harland and Paul Ackerman have been put up for second vice president. Three nominees, Virginia Edwards, Josephine Albert, and Grace Henderson, have been nominated for secretary. Only one name was submitted for the editorships of the Collegian and the student, and unless more names appear during the election next Friday, Dorothy Pemberton will edit the school paper, and Helen Stiles, the annual. Students will have the privilege of placing names of additional candidates upon the ballots during the election.

JETTY PLANNED TO CONTROL SANTIAM

The county court today will probably order the construction of a jetty to throw the Santiam river back into its old channel and thereby prevent the stream from doing damage to farm lands in the Talbot region during high water. This week the court was called upon by a group of farmers from near Talbot who pointed out the danger which they faced should the Santiam leave its course at flood season. Thursday the court, County Engineer Hedd Swart, and 50 or 60 farmers held a public hearing, which would be damaged in the event of a flood, inspected the river and found that conditions had not been exaggerated. Should the river leave its course during a high water period, thousands of acres of second and third class road, and several ranch homes would be endangered. Engineer Swart believes that a jetty could be constructed at the danger point and the waters could be diverted into the old channel where it belongs. At the present time there is only a 15 foot sandy dam which is holding the river. The court is favorable to the proposition of holding the river in leash and it is expected a favorable vote will be cast when a working plan is put before it.

Crack Aviator Will Fly Here In Short Time

Captain John A. MacReady, manager of the Shell Oil company's aviation department, will fly to Salem sometime next week in a new low wing Lockheed Sirius plane, said to be one of the fastest commercial planes in existence, according to word received by the local Shell agency Friday. The exact date of Captain MacReady's visit has not been announced. Over a test course, Captain MacReady flew this ship at 206 miles an hour top speed and 193 miles per hour.

AURORA GROUP TO TALK NEW ROUTE

AURORA, April 18.—A called meeting of the Aurora Community club Tuesday night, was held for the purpose of giving consideration to the many surveys having been submitted to the city, and property owners relative to the proposed change of the present route that passes through the town. Earnest attention was given to the blue print map of Aurora, having five surveys for submission. After much discussion, it was the unanimous voice of those in attendance that the route, designated on the map as D, be the route acceptable to the community. A committee was appointed to confer with the highway department at Salem.

TOURIST TRAFFIC'S PROBLEMS BLOCKED

Problems arising from the collection of the 1930-31 motor vehicle license fees on July 1 of this year, coupled with the heavy tourist travel which reaches its peak at that time, were discussed at a conference of the state transportation officers of the state traffic force and Secretary of State Hoss here Friday. Hoss said that the annual collection of motor vehicle license fees added materially to the work of the state traffic department for the reason that it was necessary to station at least two of the officers in both the Salem and Portland offices. In past years these license collections came at a time of the year when tourist travel was at its lowest ebb. Hoss told the officers he was desirous of patrolling the highways efficiently without adding any more men to the force.

Accounting Body Submits Report Here Yesterday

Members of a committee appointed by Hal Hoss, secretary of state, to recommend a uniform municipal accounting system held a meeting in Salem Friday, and submitted their final report to Mr. Hoss. Adoption of a uniform municipal accounting system was authorized by the 1929 legislature, and had the endorsement of the Oregon League of Cities. Members of the committee selected to work out the accounting system were Conde J. Hagg, Portland; C. L. Kelley, University of Oregon; J. W. Butler, Marshfield; and W. B. Dillard, Eugene. Sephus Starr, chief accountant for the state department, assisted in the work. Hoss said the report of his committee was technical.

Woman Awarded $1360 Damages In Court Here

Damages in the sum of $1,360 have been awarded to Etienne Schmidt by a jury in circuit court following the trial of Mrs. Schmidt against the Mt. Angel Truck line. It took the jury four and one-half hours to make its decision. Friday court was resumed with the case of Bank of Clatsop versus Berlinger, the bank seeking to collect about $1,500 on promissory notes alleged to be unpaid.
