Underwriting in FIRE INSURANCE

Who shall, or shall not, be insured; what property shall, or shall not, be covered; and what amount of insurance shall be accepted, if any? These are problems which daily face the underwriter.

Fire insurance companies do not insure property, but do insure and safeguard the interests of persons or corporations in property.

The property owner's character, financial ability to possess and maintain the property, the usefulness of the property to its owner, his fire record, if any, and other pertinent particulars, concern the underwriter.

Property to Be Covered

The type of property to be covered, be it dwelling, mercantile, manufacturing or personal property, as well as construction, occupancy, fire protection, exposure, damage, ability, amount of insurance carried compared with the value of the property, along with many other conditions, must be studied by the underwriter.

The underwriter is equipped with insurance maps, surveys, engineering data, confidential character and financial reports, fire records, and other information upon which to base his judgment of a particular line of insurance.

Broad Experience

Underwriters of Stock Fire Insurance companies are men of broad experience who are carefully trained in the selection of desirable, and in the avoidance of undesirable, risks.

The Underwriter renders an important public service by endeavoring to avoid insurance on risks that are likely to produce illegal or questionable claims and a consequent effect on the cost of fire insurance.
