

STOCKS AGAIN SEEM NORMAL

Speculation For Rise Sets In After Sensational Price Drops

NEW YORK, April 22.—(AP)—The stock market was called upon to absorb further heavy liquidation in pivotal issues early today, but as the selling wave appeared to have spent its force by afternoon, speculation for the rise was briskly resumed, several pool favorites shooting up in spectacular fashion as short commitments were hastily covered.

The recovery was somewhat irregular, but a handful of shares surged up three to 11 points, several reaching record levels for the year, and J. I. Case rushed up 29 points. The index of 98 leading shares recorded a gain of only less than half yesterday's loss. Trading was in slightly greater volume than yesterday, transfers aggregating 4,589,090 shares.

The outstanding corporate news, General Motors first quarter earnings statement, appearing after the market close, was a little more favorable than forecast. Earnings of 98 cents a share showed the regular quarterly dividend of 75 cents earned by a good margin. March railway operating income reported for some of the larger carriers showed substantial declines, as had been indicated by freight car loadings figures.

Diamond Match, rushed up 10 points in a large turnover, and American Water Works, Eastman Kodak, Electric Power and Light, and Washington Pump sold up seven to 11 points. Radio rose nearly five points to a new high for the year at 68.

Crucible Steel, American Can, and Westinghouse Electric lost a point or two. Ingersoll Rand, six, and Federal Mining 10, touching a new low at 170.

EASTER BREAKFAST IS PLEASING AFFAIR

WEST SALEM, April 22.—An Easter breakfast was given at the Billings-McAdams home of Plaza street Sunday morning.

ROBERT HILLMAN'S FUNERAL IS TODAY

SILVERTON, April 22.—The funeral of Robert Hillman, who died here today of infantile paralysis, will be held at the Hillman home in 10th Brush Creek district Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. At first the funeral was scheduled for the Larson chapel, but health officers believed that it would be better to hold it at the home. The body and the family will be within the house. While physicians do not believe there is any danger at the last stages of the disease, they were of the opinion that it would be well to take all possible precautions.

PIONEER'S TRIALS TOLD TO STUDENTS

SALEM HEIGHTS, April 22.—B. G. Merrill of Salem Heights was invited by the Oregon history class of the Salem Heights grade school consisting of students of Mrs. Wiegand's and Mrs. Booth's grades, to give a talk on pioneer life in Oregon. Mrs. Merrill taught in one of the first log cabin schools in Oregon and having gone through the trials and hardships of the early days was well qualified to give the children a true picture of conditions that existed at that time. Her talk was interesting as well as instructive and was greatly appreciated by the students.

West Salem News

Funeral Rites Said For Night Watchman, Mill

MILL CITY, April 22.—Funeral services for Carl Smith who was found dead at the Cochran-Hinkle mill Monday morning were held Wednesday afternoon at Fairview cemetery. Mr. Smith was night watchman at the mill and had served in the same capacity at the Sylverson mill near Gates and also at the old Gooch mill. Death was caused from a stroke of paralysis.

Mr. Smith was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Smith, early Oregon pioneers of the Gates community. He had been night watchman at Hinkle-Cochran mill for about four years.

APPLICATIONS SEEK WATER

Rights Asked by Numerous Persons in Various Sections of State

Albert Anderson, Eugene has filed with the state engineer here application to store 18,700 acre feet of water from the south fork of the Coquille river and to appropriate 75 second feet of such stored water for power, manufacturing and lighting purposes.

Other applications for water permits filed with the state engineer recently follow:

Joseph Eisele, Sheridan, water from Mill Creek for irrigation, domestic and manufacturing purposes in Polk county.

Leslie J. McDougall, Dayton, water from unnamed spring for domestic purposes in Yamhill county.

V. S. Howard, Madras, water from Deschutes river for irrigation of six acres and domestic purposes in Jefferson county.

F. C. Vaughan, Baker, application to store 2500 feet of water from Stanley and Vaughan reservoirs and to appropriate two second feet of such stored water for irrigation in Baker county.

Corbett because of his reputation for careful thinking and responsibility in action. If this drift continues three weeks more, Corbett will get the nomination." A similar condition is reported from various sections of the state. Certainly in Eastern Oregon Corbett is far out in front. Even other candidates admit he will carry most of these counties by big margins. There is some Norblad talk—not much—and practically nothing is heard of other republican contenders.—La Grande Observer.

MILL CITY TO HIRE SEVERAL TEACHERS

MILL CITY, April 22.—The school board has several vacancies to fill for the coming year in the teaching personnel of the grade school, as a result of some of those teaching this year desiring to go to college or obtaining positions elsewhere.

Miss Frieda Holzmeyer and Miss Mildred Leighton each plan on going to University of Oregon in the fall. Mrs. Abbie Geersten was not an applicant for next year although she has been a teacher in the Mill City schools for a number of years. Miss Irene Iverson has accepted a position in the Bend schools.

Those who taught here this year and have signed contracts for next year are Miss Zella Halley, Mrs. Velma Pearson, Miss Flow Wright and Miss Bonnie Haack, Miss Minnie Tatom and T. J. Means, Mr. Means is principal of the grade school.

MUD ROADS FACED BY FISHING PARTY

Muddy roads which made travel impossible were the first barrier faced Saturday night by a party of local young men who went into the Valsetz territory on a fishing trip. Their car was stalled just as the men reached the town and two hours were required to dig it out.

On Sunday Edward Zehara and Clarence Grief, both members of the staff at the First National bank, fell in the river and even then were not very successful in their quest for fish. But both report "a good time" and blame weather conditions for their lack of success in landing fish.

Others in the party included Mike Zehara, Royal Christofferson and Clarence and Charles Andresen.
