

May 16 Definitely Set As Date of Community Club Meet

ANNOUNCEMENT MADE PUBLIC

Entertainment of First Order to Be Given Declares Dr. P. O. Riley

Dr. P. O. Riley of Hubbard, president of the Marion county federation of community clubs, has definitely announced that May 16 is the date for the final community talent contest, which will be held at the Elsinore theatre in Salem.

"Many musical and dramatic surprises are in store for the audience on that night," says Dr. Riley. On April 25 the first sectional contest will be held at Salem Heights and a large crowd is expected. The management of the Elsinore theatre has donated a large silver trophy which will be the permanent property of the winner in three successive contests.

These contests, which were originated by Dr. Riley are unique and are well known in Oregon and throughout the country. The winner in the finals will appear in a special concert sponsored by the University of Oregon at Eugene later in the year.

which showed these papers had received money for printing and publishing the propaganda of the power company. He told how the Oregonian had got "$400 one place and there are several places." One attorney who fought public ownership got $1124. C. Chapman, whom he described as the "mopper-up for the Oregonian" received money for "advertising" and then they couldn't find the advertising.

Mr. Joseph attacked the power companies for selling merchandise in competition with the merchants, claiming the low prices of the power companies made it impossible for the merchants to sell the goods; and that their losses on the merchandise end could be made up in power rates.

Power Policies Landed
The Columbia (flows unharmed to the sea) was his frequent remark; and he attributed its idle and unproductive flow to the policy of the power companies not to develop the power until the demand was in sight, while the public can develop the power and attract the users. He cited Tacoma and Ontario as places where public ownership had been conspicuously successful. The power program could be launched at no cost to

U. OF O. SESSION OFFERS THRILLS

Here's a bit of sport that will be offered students of the University of Oregon summer session, who take the Hawaiian cruise next summer. Surf-boarding occupies the students between classes at the University of Hawaii, which is just a short drive from Waikiki beach, where (if you know how to master this thrilling art) you can "walk on the waves." The Oregon students will have classes on the Hawaiian campus, and will be allowed plenty of time for aquatic and other sports of recreation.

HOOVER 'ALARMED' AT SPENDING ORGY

WASHINGTON, April 22.—President Hoover reported to congress today that revised estimates for next year by the budget bureau show a treasury deficit of $20,000,000 to $30,000,000.

His letter to Chairman Jones of the senate appropriations committee warning that additional expenditures of about $200,000,000 are pending in congress said this situation "is cause for real alarm."

The letter was read to the senate and brought a demand from Senator Borah of Idaho, republican, for specifications.

Senator Jones in response to Borah said that up to date congress has kept its regular appropriations for next year beneath budget recommendations.

The letter as interpreted by senate leaders as a warning against enactment of any of the 125 bills which the president said would increase the prospective deficit for next year. However, Senator Borah demanded in the brief discussion that the bills be specified. Jones said he did not know which bills were "alarming."

Other opinions handed down by the supreme court follow: Ethel Josephson, appellant, vs. James Josephson; suit for divorce; appeal from Multnomah county. Opinion by Justice Brown. Judge W. A. Ekwall affirmed.

State of Oregon, for the use of Lester Sauer, vs. the C. J. Montag company, et. al, appellants; appeal from Curry county; suit to recover for lumber sold for construction of bridges on Roosevelt highway. Opinion by Justice Rand. Judges Walter H. Evans and J. T. Brand affirmed.

Mandel Dorfman vs. Portland Electric Power company, appellant; appeal from Multnomah county; suit to recover damages for personal injuries. Opinion by Justice Belt. Judge Fred W. Wilson reversed.

Motion to dismiss appeal denied in Turner vs. Jackson.

White Collared Men Don't Like Marketing Plan
CHICAGO, April 22.—(AP)—Directors of the Chicago board of trade endorsed a resolution which the Minneapolis chamber of commerce has presented to the United States chamber of commerce seeking to instruct directors of the latter body to move for repeal or amendment of the agricultural marketing act.

MEXICO CITY, April 22.—(AP)—Dr. George Edward Fursell, third American victim of Mexican kidnaping bands in a period of two weeks, was held captive tonight in a rough and wild country northwest of Guadalajara. Federal troops were securing the country in pursuit of the kidnapers.

Only this morning the American embassy received word that Dr. Fursell, a dentist who has lived for nearly 35 years in Mexico, had been seized near Guadalajara on Sunday.

RIGHT TO VOTE NOW GIVEN ALL

Supreme Court Declares Recent Legislative Act is Unconstitutional

to the legal voters of the state. "The right to vote in this case, conferred by the constitution, is a political right which attaches to every qualified voter seeking to cast his ballot at a general or special election and a statute which denies that right is unconstitutional because denying an existing constitutional right."

"The qualifications of legal voters are defined by Section 2 of Article II of the constitution. As originally adopted that section referred only to elections where public officers were to be elected, but this later was amended."

"At the time of amendment the word 'elections,' as understood by the constitution, had a much broader meaning than when first in the constitution. We think the word 'elections,' as used at the time of the constitution, of this amendment, should be given the meaning the people understood it to have. I might mean a general or special election, an election held to elect a public officer, to enact a law, to repeal a law, to authorize the issuance of bonds or to authorize a special tax levy."

"How then can it be contended that as now used the word 'elections' should be applied only to such as are held for the purpose of electing public officers? There is no other definition in this section of the constitution. We must assume that it was intended to refer to every class of elections known to the constitution except those where a different provision of the constitution controlled the election or defined the rights of the persons entitled to vote."

"This statute is unconstitutional because it takes away from the plaintiff his constitutional right to vote, and we are not concerned with the wisdom or expediency of the statute. These are matters purely for the legislature when within the scope of the legislative power. We merely hold that, under the constitution as it now exists, the statute in question is unconstitutional."

Other opinions handed down by the supreme court follow: Ethel Josephson, appellant, vs. James Josephson; suit for divorce; appeal from Multnomah county. Opinion by Justice Brown. Judge W. A. Ekwall affirmed.

State of Oregon, for the use of Lester Sauer, vs. the C. J. Montag company, et. al, appellants; appeal from Curry county; suit to recover for lumber sold for construction of bridges on Roosevelt highway. Opinion by Justice Rand. Judges Walter H. Evans and J. T. Brand affirmed.

4-H CLUB FAIR WILL BE HELD THIS WEEK
will be Miss Helen Cogswell of Corvallis, assistant state club leader; another member of the Oregon State college faculty; and Mrs. L. A. Humphreys, field representative of the Crown Flouring company of Portland who has been closely allied with club work in the state for a number of years.

All exhibits, accompanied by entry blank and final record books, for the fair must be in place before 10 o'clock Friday morning, Mr. Fox says. Exhibits will start coming in Thursday evening and will be cared for as fast as they come in.

A. N. Fulkerson will have charge of the fair. He is an experienced hand at fair business, having conducted the corn shows held here in previous years by the chamber of commerce and having assisted at the state fair for a number of years.

There is no check on the number of entries that will be made, however more than 200 entry blanks have been sent out or called for at the club leader's office. In addition to the regular exhibits, an exhibition of school work, and particularly novel projects, will be made in connection with the fair.

PARKER'S STATUS TO BE CONSIDERED

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP)—The senate will begin consideration next Monday of the unfavorable report of the judiciary committee on the nomination of Judge John J. Parker of North Carolina to the supreme court with the signs pointing tonight to a close decision.

Leaving the White House today, Senator Watson of Indiana, the republican leader, was confident that upon a showdown Parker would be confirmed. However, senatorial republican leaders were jolted later in the day by reports of unexpected opposition to the nominee from the democratic side.

Senator McNary of Oregon, the assistant republican leader, pleaded successfully to defer the Parker debate until Monday after Senator Borah of Idaho, republican leader of the opposition, had proposed that it be taken up Thursday.

With their ranks badly split on the nomination, republican leaders are making a thorough canvass of their strength. Watson said after the White House conference that President Hoover was standing by his nominee. Republican friends of Parker had been counting on considerable support from the democratic side but these hopes were shaken by informal pools made late today.

PRESIDENT HOOVER HAS VETO UPHELD

WASHINGTON, April 22.—(AP)—President Hoover's first veto was sustained in the house today which voted 243 to 96 to reject the Hudspeth bill to provide for coinage of 10,000 50-cent pieces, commemorating the Gadsden purchase of territory in the southwest.

This action definitely kills the measure. Mr. Hoover returned the bill to the capitol yesterday with the recommendation that it be shelved. He said the monetary system of the country existed for certain "well defined and essential purposes" and that the "growing practice of issuing commemorative coins" appeared to run counter to the fundamental principle.

Friends of the measure, to obtain its enactment into law over the objections of the chief executive need a two-third vote in senate and house. Instead, they obtained considerable less than a majority vote in the house. Thus, a senate vote is unnecessary.

IT COST A DOLLAR but it paid $58.57

(First of a series of actual experiences of local people with the One Dollar Accident Insurance Policies purchased from The Oregon Statesman)

Last New Year's eve Miss Florence Snodgrass of Amity, Oregon, was seriously injured in an automobile collision, and was confined to her home for a period of six weeks. There was loss of time, and doctor bills. But—very fortunately—Miss Snodgrass had invested One Dollar in a North American Accident Insurance, Travel and Traffic policy. So, in good time she received a check for $58.57.

IT HELPED. The check came in time of need.

These One Dollar Policies—little in cost but big in value—are sold by The Oregon Statesman, without profit, as a service to its subscribers. They are issued by the North American Accident Insurance company, the oldest and strongest accident insurance company in America.

If you have one of these policies already, DON'T LET IT LAPSE! If you haven't one, get one without delay! Summer season is accident season. Don't let a dollar stand between you and protection.
