

THREE DEFENDANTS BROUGHT TO COURT

LOS ANGELES, April 25.—(AP)—With legal guns in action on several of the many Julian fronts, three defendants in criminal proceedings growing out of the sensational $100,000,000 over-issue of spurious Julian Petroleum corporation stock in 1926, appeared in court today. Efforts to return others here for trial were under way.

Jacob "Jack" Friedlander, former state corporation commissioner, and Charles P. Crawford, politician, appeared before Superior Judge Walton J. Wood and entered pleas of not guilty to indictments charging conspiracy to commit bribery. After first refusing a motion to set aside the indictment, Judge Wood reconsidered and set May 7 for hearing further arguments. He said he believed the charge should have been "bribery" rather than bribery conspiracy. E. C. Lewis who is being returned here from Seattle to face several state charges, is co-defendant with Crawford and Friedlander. The trio is charged with giving and accepting money to issue permits for sale of stock while Friedlander was corporation commissioner.

William Rhodes Hervey, banker, surrendered late today on an indictment charging conspiracy to commit usury and was ordered to appear tomorrow to enter plea. Hervey was in England when the indictment was returned against him by the county grand jury recently. Thirty six other persons face identical charges.

GOVERNOR DENIES HUGE SLUSH FUND

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., April 25.—(AP)—Walter J. Kohler, Wisconsin's millionaire governor, accused of attaining office by excessive campaign expenditures, today scored a debated point in his ouster trial as Circuit Judge Gustave Gehres rendered an "informal" opinion that so long as the governor was not responsible, other persons might spend as much as they desired in his campaign.

Four "progressive" republican leaders headed by Phil LaFollette, seek the "conservative" republican governor's removal on charges that he spent more than $100,000 in his successful 1928 campaign in violation of the corrupt practices act.

Defense attorneys readily admitted that more than the $4,000 was spent but insisted the excess was managed by Kohler. The prosecution maintained any excess funds were expended by the governor's "authorized agents" and he was responsible for them.

"What's wrong if you ask another person to spend what's his own?" Judge Gehres demanded. "If you spend your own money and ask another to help, that's agency." The judge assured attorneys he spoke "informally."

FINANCE SITUATION TALKED BY BOARD

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(AP)—The federal reserve board in its annual report to congress today said the success of the country's banks in meeting the stock market collapse of last fall was attributable to "direct pressure" it exerted to prevent diversion of federal reserve credit for speculation during the first nine months of 1929.

The board reviewed its statement of February 7, 1929, in which it warned banks that federal reserve credit must not be used for speculation. It said that in such a situation as then existed that it was not for the federal reserve board to "estimate the general expediency of the larger public consequences of its intervention by direct pressure" in the complex situation existing at that time.

"It may be remarked that the course adopted by the board," said the report, "resulted in a substantial conservation of the credit resources of the banking system of the country and particularly of the federal reserve banks for essential needs which arose later in the year."

FOREIGN INFLUX IS DUE FOR REDUCTION

WASHINGTON, April 25.—(AP)—Voting to cut down European immigration to this country from 150,000 annually to 80,000, the senate today also restored to the Harris immigration measure the existing basis of allotting this immigration on the national origins plan.

The bill by Senator Harris, democrat of Georgia, proposing to apply quota restrictions to persons coming into this country from Central and South America was pending at adjournment with a vote in prospect tomorrow.

Senator Norbeck, republican, South Dakota, had gained an amendment to the Harris bill earlier in the week providing for repeal of the origins basis of allotting European immigration which he contended was discriminatory to Germany and the Scandinavian countries.

Senator Swanson, democrat, Virginia, moved the Norbeck repeal provision be stricken from

ROYALTY MEMBER LANDS IN COURT

NEW YORK, April 24.—(AP)—A member of the ancient line of Hapsburgs, one time ruler of most of Europe, was fingerprinted and "mugged" by the police today and then arraigned in general sessions court on two indictments, charging him with first degree larceny in connection with the sale of the $400,000 Napoleon necklace.

Carrying a leather coat on his arm, Archduke Leopold of Austria stood in silence while his lawyer, Ferdinand Peora, entered plea of not guilty for him, obtained an adjournment until May 2 and arranged for $7,500 bail.

Then the archduke posed for photographers and left the court building. He surrendered to the district attorney today soon after a bench warrant had been issued for his arrest. The warrant resulted from his failure to appear yesterday as he had promised, through his attorney, to do

When the women went into session this afternoon it was known that some were holding for repeal while others would ask only modification. The unanimous vote for repeal came as a surprise, officers said, for it had been considered likely the organization would go on record as campaigning for modification.

The delegates represented 26 states and the District of Columbia. Mrs. Charles H. Sabin of New York was elected permanent chairman of the organization in the executive session today. Mrs. Amasa Stone Mather of Cleveland was named a vice chairman. Other
