EIGHTIETH YEAR

LONG SOUGHT GANGSTER IS SEEN AT L. A.

Frederick Burke Believed to Have Pulled Holdup Job in Western City

Suspect is Object of Extensive Search by Police in United States

LOS ANGELES, April 30.—(AP)—Captain Norris Stensland, of the sheriff robbery detail said today that he had obtained descriptions of two holdup men, one of which fits Frederick Burke, sought as the leader of the St. Valentine's day gang massacre in Chicago in 1929.

Captain Stensland said the victim of the holdup, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cooper of Huntington Park, a Los Angeles suburb, have described the robbers without previous knowledge of the identity of the suspects and that one of the descriptions "fits Burke perfectly."

"The other suspects, judging from Mr. and Mrs. Cooper's description," Stensland said, "fits the appearance of August H. Winkler, listed on our records as a Chicago gangster."

Pictures Identified Without Hesitation

Stensland said he was so impressed by descriptions that he obtained photographs of the suspects and showed them to the couple "without hesitation." Stensland said, "they verified the pictures as those of the robbers."

Burke has been the object of a nationwide search since seven gangsters were found slain in Chicago on February 14, 1929, presumably victims of a gang war. "We have had repeated information," Captain Stensland said, "that Burke has been in this vicinity and every effort is being made to trace him."

The robbery of the Cooper home occurred April 24 but information concerning identification of the holdups did not become known until today. The robbers obtained jewelry valued at $800. "It was not the usual sort of holdup," Stensland said. "The two men spent more than an hour in the house. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper had excellent opportunity to observe them. The description which they gave fits Burke perfectly and a pretty good identification of Winkler."

BUILDING RECORD IS NOT QUITE SO GOOD

Salem's building total for 1930 to date dropped behind the record of 1929 for the same period when April showed only $58,792.25 as compared to $132,532 last April. The four month comparison is: 1929, $326,412; 1930, $275,659.60.

April also dropped almost $100,000 behind March of this year, when the figure was $158,706. The largest permit in the month just ended was one for $14,000 for the Dan J. Fry, Jr., residence.

Records for the year so far and a comparison with 1929 follows:

January	...	$22,975	$20,732
February	...	56,892	27,023
March	...	114,015	158,706
April	...	132,532	58,792

Rabbi Will Give Commencement Talk at Oregon

EUGENE, Ore., April 30.—(AP)—Dr. Arnold Bennett Hall, president of the University of Oregon announced today that Dr. Enry J. Berkowitz, rabbi of Temple Beth Israel, Portland, would deliver the address at the baccalaureate service preceding the 1930 commencement exercises at the university.

The baccalaureate services will be conducted Sunday, June 15.

CLASH OCCURS

TOKYO, May 1.—(Thursday)—(AP)—Two policemen were injured in a May day clash at Kawasaki, a Tokyo suburb, today.

Dallas Gains 263 Persons In Past Ten Years Period

Dallas made a gain of 263 persons in its population in the last 10 years, according to the preliminary 1930 count made public yesterday from the office of the district supervisor, R. J. Hendricks. This count gives Dallas 2,964 persons this year, as compared to 2,701 in 1920. The 1910 count shows 2,124 and the 1900 one, 1,271.

The first count in Salem has been virtually completed, the supervisor reports, and now the work of picking up persons who were missed in this is under way. Coupons are now being published in both Salem papers asking that anyone who has not been enumerated in 1930 count make public yesterday from the office of the district supervisor, R. J. Hendricks. This count gives Dallas 2,964 persons this year, as compared to 2,701 in 1920. The 1910 count shows 2,124 and the 1900 one, 1,271.

Reds Plan Great May Day Events; Police Confident

Thousand Police Officers Detailed to Union Square Garden in New York Deprived of Nightsticks to Avoid Clashes

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—What with one celebration and another, Union Square, traditional gathering place of New York's radicals, will be a busy place tomorrow, but Police Commissioner Grover A. Whalen was so sure tonight that the city's May Day will be orderly that he directed the 1,000 policemen delegated to the Square to go without their nightsticks.

Six men were arrested today in two sections of the city for handing out or posting communist bills calling workers to join tomorrow's communist rally. Spokesmen for the International Labor Defense said more than 100 persons had been arrested this week on similar charges—mostly in the vicinity of Brooklyn factories.

The veterans of foreign wars will use the Square from noon to 2 p. m., for a patriotic rally in celebration of Dewey Day, following a parade from Madison Square.

An hour after they have left the communists are to take possession of the square, parading thither from another east side square for their May Day demonstration.

Meanwhile the socialists will hold a rally at the New York coliseum far up in the Bronx at which they forecast an attendance of 18,000 and a celebration so peaceable that no policeman need come near.

Five hundred bluecoats will escort a communist parade to Union Square with ten emergency police trucks at close call along the line of march.

The thousand clubless police will be there on all day duty, and Whalen will be at Union Square with a field telephone system to direct operations, if necessary.

LONDON, April 30.—(AP)—Preparations for toning the reds and pinks and other blushing hues which are expected to dominate the May celebrations throughout the city are well advanced. The first number on tonight's program was the large high school chorus of Aumsville in "Song Revue." Miss Ellen Englund is the director. Rickey club was represented by Orville Pearce, a young lad who sang two pleasing solos, "The Where Mine Alone" and "Springtime in the Rockies."

The Turner entry which won first place consisted of an old fashioned skit consisting of old songs and fancy drills, staged by Mrs. J. R. Cox, Mrs. W. S. Burgoyne, Mrs. E. S. Prather, Mrs. P. Whitehead, Mrs. R. Lee Thiessen and Miss Helen Peetz.

Mill City put on a two act playlet, "Up in Society" written by two members of the club and presented by nine young people. Charles Martin led the meeting to order and introduced H. R. Crawford of Salem as chairman of the evening. Col. David E. Dow of the Fox Elsinore theatre was introduced and spoke a few words in appreciation of the efforts of the community clubs at the line of entertainment.

While the judges were preparing their decision, James Bryant of Riverside, president of the Linn County Federated Community clubs, was introduced and gave a short talk on the helpfulness of club activity.

FLY QUARANTINE IS MODIFIED SLIGHTLY

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—Secretary Hyde today modified the Mediterranean fruit fly quarantine to provide for movement of peppers and lima and broad beans from that part of Florida lying east and southwest of Oklawaha river to all except 18 states and western portion of Florida.

The states to which the three vegetables cannot be moved are Alabama, Arizona, Arkansas, California, Georgia, Idaho, Louisiana, Mississippi, Nevada, New Mexico, North Carolina, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Washington, and that part of Florida lying west of the Oklawaha river and the territory of Porto Rico.

Representative Ruth Bryan Owen, democrat, Florida, in announcing she had been informed of the step taken by the department said the new regulation provided that "permits will be issued for such movement only on conditions that the plants are sprayed and otherwise protected from possible infection in a manner satisfactory to the department."

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—Assurance of a "friendly attitude" to the London treaty and of speedy consideration of it was given Secretary Stimson today by Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee at a conference at the capitol.

Stimson, who was head of the American delegation to the London party, called on Borah after he had formally turned over the treaty to President Hoover. Mr. Hoover intends to send the pact to the senate for its ratification. Borah and Stimson were closeted for more than an hour discussing the treaty. Asked about the conference, the foreign relations committee chairman said "All I care to say is that if the treaty comes in I will seek to have it considered and passed upon by the committee as speedily as the importance of the matter will permit. Of course those who want to be heard must have an opportunity to be heard. It is impossible to care for all the important treaty and should have careful and deliberate consideration but I do not assume that there will be any attempt at delay. My own position is one of a friendly attitude but I want to hear all about it."

Hollywood Club Hears Candidates

Numerous candidates for public office will be speakers at the dinner meeting of the Hollywood Progressive Community club tonight, scheduled for 7 p. m. in the Hollywood cafe. Several items of business may be brought before the club but the major portion of the evening will be given over to the candidates.

On April 1, 1930, I was living at address given below, but to the best of my knowledge I have not been enumerated, either there or anywhere else.

EFFORT MADE TO DISCREDIT FARM BOARD

Supporters Rally to Defense Of Hoover's Agency as Debate Staged

Chairman Legge Hurls Challenge to Leader of National Chamber

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—Julius Barnes' acceptance of Chairman Legge's challenge to match him "dollar for dollar" in setting up an agency to ameliorate farm ills left highly speculative tonight the outcome of efforts before the annual convention of the chamber of commerce of the United States to discredit the agricultural marketing act.

It was not so much the challenge itself as it was its influence in rallying delegates to the farm board standard that led to the first prediction at the board's headquarters since the convention opened that the proposed resolution for repeal of the act would not be adopted.

Attacks Upon Act Set Up Strong Defense. With unheralded rapidity, five minute declamations from the convention floor against the act were interrupted by defenders who included Secretary Hyde of the department of agriculture, L. J. Taber, master of the National Grange, John Brandt of the Land-Owners' Association, Litchfield, Minn., and Alfred Stone, a Mississippi cotton planter.

The farm board chairman, reading an address in which he took the chamber to task for opposing the agricultural marketing act when he said it was making no effort to solve farm problems in a substitute plan, inserted an extemporaneous challenge as a fellow member of the chamber for other members to match him dollar for dollar in financing a philanthropic effort to help solve the economic difficulties of agriculture.

Legge Says Barnes Did Not Accept Challenge. Closing the session four hours later, Barnes, chairman of the National Business Survey conference, declared he was not wealthy enough to accept the challenge personally but he would start a collection from industry sufficient to match Legge's offer.

Later, at his office, Chairman Legge said Barnes had not properly met his proposition. "I offered and I still am ready to offer," he said, "to match members of the chamber individually in financing such an institution. Barnes erred in interpreting my challenge as being made to all members of the chamber collectively."

The Delta Phi trio, Jean Middleton, Marjorie Miller, and Edith Findley, and a tap dance by a selected group of girls in charge of Dorothy Eastridge are the specialties on the program. Competitive stunts between the men and women and several college yells and songs will complete the 30 minute entertainment, according to those in charge.

The Kollge Kapers is in addition to the regular program at the capitol and will begin at 9 o'clock. A section has been reserved to students and their high school guests, but townspeople and friends of the university will be allowed in the student section if they buy tickets from Williamette students in charge of the ticket sales at the school.

PLACES AWARDED IN POPPY SALE EVENT

Bruce Cooley, senior high student, Fern Hendricks of Parrish Junior high and Earl Dutton, eleventh school student, won first places in their respective divisions in the poppy sale poster contest conducted in the schools here by the American Legion auxiliary, it was announced yesterday by the judges. Dutton, who is in the fifth grade, failed to put the name of the school attended on the winning poster for the grades.

Two honorable mentions, to Kay Goulet and Colene Mennis, were given in the high school poster work. Cooley's poster, showing Flander's field in the background and crosses in the foreground is said to be the most effective and an excellent piece of work.

In the junior high contest both honorable mentions were won by Leslie students, Willys Percy and ChMford Gleason. Vera Dell Walker of the fifth grade was given honorable mention in the grade school contest.

Judges of the posters, which were designed in connection with a statewide contest to secure the prevention of war solely through the slow moving process of international cooperation.

MISS SHERWIN IS HEAD OF LEAGUE

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 30.—(AP)—True to a long tradition of holding a national convention, a woman leader, the league of women voters today set its slate for reelection of Miss Belle Sherwin, for six years president.

Miss Sherwin, only speaker and feted guest at tonight's session, was presented with a hand tooled "anniversary book" and tendered the ovation resulting from quiet circulation among the delegates of the news that she would again accept the office.

Miss Sherwin's address summarized ten years of accomplishment—maternity and infancy legislation, women's naturalization and citizenship acts; child labor laws—and called upon the women voters to face the next decade "in the spirit of adventure."

She declared the league "wise beyond its years" in its "initial guiding principle of seeking the prevention of war solely through the slow moving process of international cooperation."

Woman Is Slain By Young Farm Hand Who Had Been Given Home With Family

Mrs. George Dickenson Fatally Shot by Lawson

15 Year Old Youth Is Employed on Place for 13 Months

INDEPENDENCE, April 30.—Death stalked into the quiet of a rural farm home here today and took the life of Mrs. George Dickenson, 48, who died instantly from a gun-shot wound received full in the face and evidently inflicted at the hands of Dale Lawson, 15, farm hand and high school student who exactly 13 months ago to the day had entered the Dickinson home "as one of the family."

Mystery added its note to the tragedy of 9 o'clock this morning, when George Dickenson, the husband, returning from the fields at noon, found his wife dead on the dining room floor, young Lawson gone and the family car missing. Story Told Brother

Dickinson, shocked by his grief, rushed to his brother's adjoining farm, and between sobs told the story of his wife's death and the missing farm hand.

Authorities, notified immediately, communicated with the Portland police who later in the day picked up Lawson in Portland where he had gone in the Dickinson car, ostensibly to see his father who resided in that city.

The first story told by Lawson to the Portland police was that two men entered the Dickinson farm yard, one of whom held him

KOLLEGE KAPERS IS SCHEDULED FRIDAY

Willamette students and high school guests will hold the center of the stage in addition to the regular program at the capitol theatre Friday night when Kollge Kapers, featuring a "radio" idea will be given in connection with the May Day festivities.

A program of stunts, music, and college yells and songs is being arranged by a committee consisting of Frank Van Dyke, chairman, Eloise White, Marjorie Miller, and Josephine Albert. John Crnkovich will act as master of ceremonies.

The Delta Phi trio, Jean Middleton, Marjorie Miller, and Edith Findley, and a tap dance by a selected group of girls in charge of Dorothy Eastridge are the specialties on the program. Competitive stunts between the men and women and several college yells and songs will complete the 30 minute entertainment, according to those in charge.

PORTLAND OFFICERS NAB FLEEING YOUTH

Dale Lawson is Returned to Dallas Pending Report Of Special Quiz

PORTLAND, Ore., April 30.—(AP)—Dale Lawson, 15, an employee of the George A. Dickinson farm near Independence, Ore., was in the city jail tonight pending an investigation of the story he told authorities that he shot and killed accidentally Mrs. George A. Dickenson, 48, in her farm home early today.

Lawson, who told authorities two different stories concerning the shooting, surrendered to police after he fled from the Dickinson home to his father here where he told of the accidental shooting phase. M. L. Lawson, Portland, father of the youth, advised him to surrender to authorities.

The youth, who had been "boarded out" with the Dickinsons first told police he wanted to report a stolen automobile. He said two men entered the Dickinson farm yard, one of whom held him up with a revolver while the other ransacked the farm home. Lawson said they forced him into the Dickinson automobile and made him drive to Oregon City, Ore., where he was abandoned and the two men fled with the automobile.

While Lawson was telling authorities this story, police received a telephone call from Independence telling of the finding of the body of Mrs. Dickinson by her husband. She had been shot through the head apparently by a shotgun.

Under repeated questioning, Lawson changed his story and told authorities he was cleaning a shotgun in the Dickinson home when it discharged and killed Mrs. Dickinson. He said he was frightened when she fell to the floor and took the Dickinson automobile to Oregon City where he boarded a street car and came to Portland.

Lawson denied having trouble with the Dickinsons and reports received by police from Independence indicated the youth was considered a "member of the family." Dickinson said he last saw his wife and Lawson at the breakfast table and that "if Dale did the shooting it must have been an accident."

Mrs. Dickinson is survived by two daughters and one son, besides her widower. They are Mrs. Roy Young of Salem, Ore., Miss Pauline Dickinson, school teacher at Chapman, Ore., and Alva, 9 year old son.

Young Lawson was returned to Dallas, Ore., tonight to await a coroner's inquest there tomorrow.

Good Business Is Reported By Realty Company

J. F. Ulrich, local realtor, says the past month has been one of the best he has experienced in the years he has been in the real estate business in Salem, and adds that in the last few days he has closed up three deals.

He sold a 218-acre farm near Pedee and owned by the Hooland Loan company to Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Vanway of Jefferson, who will move onto the farm in the fall. He also closed a deal whereby Sara Felchler transferred a $6,000 home in Corvallis to a Salem buyer and a trade in which M. M. and Mabel Back of Salem exchanged property here for a five-acre tract in Roseburg owned by F. A. Hayes.

Tourist Travel Not Yet Heavy Report States

Tourist travel is as yet very light as reflected in the Salem Municipal Auto camp registrations according to H. S. Poisel who is in charge of the camp. Over the weekend ten parties were registered but this is but a slight indication of the heavy traffic later in the year.

TUNNEL UNDER PRISON WALL IS DISCOVERED

Hole Started by Prisoners Leading to Residence of Warden Thomas

Strong Military Force Used To Gain Control of Ohio Pen Situation

COLUMBUS, April 30.—(AP)—Ohio national guardsmen, in making a routine inspection of White City in Ohio penitentiary tonight, discovered the beginning of a hole which was being dug in the wall leading to Warden P. E. Thomas' residence.

The officers came upon the hole and a 3 1/2 foot cross bar in the basement of the prison.

COLUMBUS, April 30.—(AP)—Enforced by the strong arm of military rule, discipline prevailed in Ohio penitentiary tonight for the first time since fire that claimed the lives of 320 convicts last week.

The rebellion of 1,500 prisoners in the idle house which culminated yesterday in a fatal attempt to gain liberty through the guardroom door, was broken completely. Under the business-like command of national guard officers all outward signs of revolt disappeared.

Stockade of Barbed Wire Erected. A barbed wire stockade erected on the prison recreation field was rapidly being furnished with tents. The officials expected to herd the unruly convicts into this enclosure so the damage they wrought in the idle house might be repaired. When that was finished the prisoners again will be safely placed in locked cells.

Late today 800 convicts were marched into the stockade while hundreds of national guardsmen stood ready to maintain order.

The next step in restoring complete discipline will be the reopening of the prison workshops according to Col. Robert S. Harbich, in charge of the prison. For more than a week the convicts have refused to return to work.

Some Convicts Consent To Return to Work. This defiant attitude toward work was partly broken today. About 500 of the riotous convicts were sent to the auto license tag warehouse and some were put to work under military guard.

Repairing of cell blocks is expected to start tomorrow. Plans likewise were made for replacing the wooden roofs on these and the fireproof cell blocks with insulated concrete roofs.

The report of Gov. Cooper's investigating committee was placed in the hands of Welfare Director Hal H. Griswold. It will be sent to the governor before it is made public.

INSURGENTS OUSTED FROM CHURCH BODY

EUGENE, Ore., April 30.—(AP)—A warning that the "doors of the church swing both ways" was issued tonight by T. B. Westbrook, president of the southern Oregon conference of the Seventh Day Adventist church, to the several members who had been ousted on alleged non-conformity with certain rules of the organization.

Westbrook, who termed the ousting as a "rebellion" said the trouble started at Roseburg, Ore., where many members are alleged to have refused to comply with observance of denominational requirements.

While Lawson was telling authorities this story, police received a telephone call from Independence telling of the finding of the body of Mrs. Dickinson by her husband. She had been shot through the head apparently by a shotgun.

Under repeated questioning, Lawson changed his story and told authorities he was cleaning a shotgun in the Dickinson home when it discharged and killed Mrs. Dickinson. He said he was frightened when she fell to the floor and took the Dickinson automobile to Oregon City where he boarded a street car and came to Portland.

APPLICATION FILED

WASHINGTON, April 30.—(AP)—Authorization to abandon part of its Yaquina branch in Corvallis, Oregon, was sought today by the Southern Pacific company in an application to the interstate commerce commission.

The line extends from a connection with the west side branch of the Southern Pacific near Chestnut street to a point in Ninth and Harrison streets and the carrier contended that this west side branch provided adequate rail facilities for the city.

SHIP LINE SUEED. PORTLAND, Ore., April 30.—(AP)—Harriet Reynolds, Portland, one of the passengers on the Pacific steamship company's Admiral Benson, which was wrecked on Peacock Spit off the mouth of the Columbia river February 15, today filed suit against the company for $25,350 damages.

In her complaint she alleged she was bruised, lacerated and nearly drowned because the steamship company was negligent in employing a pilot unacquainted with the river's mouth.

STRANGLER LEWIS WINS. PORTLAND, Ore., April 30.—(AP)—Ed (Strangler) Lewis, former world heavyweight wrestling champion, tonight defeated John Freberg, Minneapolis, two out of three falls in the main event of the weekly grappling card. Lewis lost in the first fall when he missed with a headlock and Freberg pounced upon him to gain a head scissor and then a pin fall.

Lewis took the second fall with a series of rabbit punches and headlocks. The final fall went to Lewis by the same method.
