

Wildcat McCann to Wrestle Mervin Barrackman Tonight

BRILLIANT GO IS EXPECTED

Middleweights Are Evenly Matched For Bout at Local Army

The set-up for one of the best wrestling matches of the season is provided for tonight at the army when Wildcat McCann is scheduled to meet Mervin Barrackman. Both of these middleweights, who are within a few ounces of even weight, have demonstrated that they are equal to the best in the northwest, and they should put up a brilliant match.

Barrackman arrived in Salem Wednesday from Seattle, but after a brief stay went on to Albany and will return tonight. He announced that he was in excellent condition and ready to give his best. McCann has kept up his strenuous training and apparently suffers no after effects of the punishment he took at the hands of Al Karasick last week.

CURT COMMENTS

Anybody who thinks size doesn't count in the fight game, was at the Capitol theatre Wednesday night to watch Primo Carnera perform. Not that size is all he has; he's thoroughly convinced he has everything but experience and is getting that rapidly. Did we hear you laugh? You weren't there either.

Bill Hunt and Mel Brown are big men, no fooling; but they looked like misfits alongside of Primo, and if there was ever a demonstration of how futile it is for a little 200-pounder to tackle the big Wop, we had it there. Hunt waded into the big boy and hit him a couple of times; blows that probably would have staggered most men, but against Carnera, it's better to say he just "touched" him. That's all it amounted to, practically.

Of course Primo pulled his punches—just showed his gloves out; but one of those gloves, broken after clear out through the ropes. When the three minutes were over Bill actually looked almost groggy from the "gentle" buffeting he took. For a little comedy, he "took a dive" at the end—over the ropes.

Mel Brown did some fancy stepping and demonstrated something else; why nobody has been able to keep away from the Alp long enough to last a few rounds. No matter how fast Brown danced away, Primo would overtake him with a couple of giant strides. A man would need an awfully big ring to outrun that behemoth. We'll say he isn't slow; he bounces on his toes and covers lots of territory.

We can see, too, why some of the "carneras" who have been labeled "push-overs," He doesn't seem to hit hard; it's the weight and the follow through.

As for boxing him, what could a fellow do against that tremendous reach, and those telephone arms that do nothing through? The ordinary fighter couldn't even get up to his altitude.

Lloyd Ambrose had the right idea; fight him on your own level, which for Lloyd was down around the knees. But Lloyd will look back on that with a lot of pride when Carnera is the champion of the world.

And he's just a big, fun loving boy; likes his exercises and doesn't like the wait between rounds. What a grin! You fellows who wouldn't go across the street to see him" are plumb off.

We sat in the middle at the back of the stage, and when the big boy stood out in front, we couldn't see a thing beyond the footlights.

The "exhibition" bout between Clarence Campbell and Don Marshall at Silverton looked more like a grudge battle. Referee Eastman called it a draw, which was about right.

Yesterday We Saw Primo Carnera.

Willamette Defeated 5 to 3 by Columbia's Ball Club

SCALES HURLS MOST OF GAME

First String Pitchers Saved For Conference Contests Later This Week

Coach "Spec" Keene of Willamette university almost, but not quite, solved the problem of winning a ball game without using any of his regular pitchers Wednesday when the Bearcats were beaten 5 to 3 by the Columbia university tossers.

Intent on saving his first string slabmen for conference games Friday and Saturday, Keene started Nelson in the box but his offerings were much to the liking of the Irish, and before Keene could make a shift they had scored three runs.

Scales was called in from center field and pitched bang-up ball for the remainder of the game; bruised Hunt clear out through the ropes. When the three minutes were over Bill actually looked almost groggy from the "gentle" buffeting he took. For a little comedy, he "took a dive" at the end—over the ropes.

PORTLAND NINE WINS ANOTHER

Hollywood Nicked 4 to 3 in Close Ball Game Held Yesterday

PORTLAND, Ore., April 30.—(AP)—Portland made it two straight by defeating Hollywood again today, 4 to 3. Walter the Great Malls pitched for Portland and errors of commission by his team mates made him battle for the victory in the late innings after Portland had accrued a four run lead.

Malls battled the first Portland run himself with a double and scored the second. Bob Johnson knocked in two more for Portland with a home run to center field.

SEATTLE, April 30.—(AP)—Dutch Ruether tamed his former team mates, the Mission Reds, here today while the Indians pounded two pitchers to win 7 to 4, evening the series at one victory for each club.

ROSENBLUM GETS DECISION

Chicago Negro Loses Nod to Beltino Buffon in Hot Fistic Contest

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, April 30.—(AP)—Fresh from a night club, trained to perfection on a shave and a hair cut, Maxey Rosenberg, the belting buffon, furnished high entertainment for 15,000 of the faithful tonight by soundly trouncing Larry Johnson, a long lean fighter from Chicago, in a ring pitched here the more orthodox circus clowns have been tumbling for the past three weeks.

Rosenbloom baffled the usually deadly punching negro with his complete assortment of leather leggerisms and his shapely, cutting demoralizing attack. A few weeks ago Larry gave the Harlem harlequin the roughest engagement Rosenberg has had here in years until a foul gave Max the verdict in six rounds. Tonight Rosenberg was the victor in coming back for more after Rosenberg had had a chance to think it over. The result was an outclassed negro and a decision after ten rounds, that was a formally.

Johnson's trouble was that he couldn't hit the Slippery Slim of Harlem and when occasionally he smacked Maxey a fairly stiff clout, Rosey turned loose a whirlwind attack that promptly wiped out the advantage.

Larry, who seems destined to become the next big name of the heavyweights, made his best showing in the eighth round when he caught Rosenberg four solid whacks on the chin.

ELKS BALL TEAM IS WINNER OF OPENER

The Elks, last year champions of the Commercial baseball league got a good start Wednesday night when they defeated the Statehouse 3 to 0 in the first game for both teams.

One run scored in the first inning when Schultz and Greig hit two baggers in quick succession for the Elks. The other two came in the second inning. B. Kitchen hit a two bagger and scored on Schultz's single, and McNulty scored on an error after getting a hit.

Tonight the Postoffice and Peppo will renew their annual warfare in an Industrial league game. Friday night was to have been an open date but a game between the Southern Pacific and American Legion has been advanced to this date.

WALKER CUP TEAM LEAVES

Yankee Not Overconfident Of Victory on Invasion Of British Isles

NEW YORK, April 30.—(AP)—The hazards of Sandwich, where the Walker cup matches will be played May 15-16 are numerous but over confidence is one that the players from the United States will not have to overcome. As Captain Robert T. Jones Jr., and seven other golf stalwarts sailed for England tonight there was no suggestion from them that the Americans would successfully defend the famous international trophy just because they always have done so.

As in great amateurs left for the second big golf invasion of England in eight days, they agreed the British attack at Sandwich would be hard to repulse. The first mass movement on the British golf circuit was made April 22 by a group of women golfers who will go into action tomorrow in a team match with British women stars.

Both the golf nieces and nephews of Uncle Sam are using the team matches as tuning up affairs for the championships to follow the women at Formby beginning May 12, and the men at St. Andrews, for the amateur, May 26, and the open at Hoylake June 16.

The Walker cup team sailing tonight—Jones, Harrison, Johnson, Francis Oulmet, George Van Elm, George Volen, Dr. O. F. Wilking, Don Moe, and Ronald McKenzie, left in fine health and spirits but all said they were glad they would have opportunity to practice at Sandwich for a week or ten days before the Walker cup play is started.

Yank Women Meet British Team Today

SUNNINGDALE, England, April 30.—(AP)—All was in readiness tonight for tomorrow's Anglo-American women's golf matches, the first of their kind and perhaps the forerunner of official international competition such as the Walker cup matches for men.

The American team, headed by Miss Glenna Collett, will meet the British team, captained by Miss Molly Gourlay, in foursomes and singles, the foursomes being played in the morning and the singles in the afternoon.

Today the greens and fairways of Sunningdale were shorn and rolled to velvet perfection and even the rough with golden gorse blooming on the Berkshire hillsides beckoned invitingly.

The competition is styled "unofficial" because Misses Collett and Gourlay have arranged the meeting without official support, the players paying their own expenses to Sunningdale.

Never has an international match been staged with less practice. The Americans arrived yesterday and have had only one full round over one of England's most difficult layouts while only a few of Miss Gourlay's team have had any recent practice at Sunningdale. Mrs. J. B. Watson and Miss Jean McLaughlin, Scottish players, reached London last night and practiced with the Americans.

TITLE IS ANNEXED BY CHEVROLET CUBS

The Chevrolet Cubs emerged as champions of the Commercial bowling league for the second half of the season when the final series was ended Tuesday night.

The Barr Plumbers nosed out General Petroleum by one game for second place, winning two games out of three when these rivals met, even up in standings at the opening of the match, to settle the matter. The champions won from the Capital City Bedding company, likewise by two games out of three. Valley Motor won by default from Studebaker.

In the first round of the doubleheader, Barr Plumbers won two games from the bedding quintet and General Petroleum won two from Valley Motor.

The Cubs also finished the season with both team records as in their possession; 2659 for series and 968 for game. Woodruff holds the individual series record, 625, and Newton the game record, 265.

Can They Come Back?

By HARDIN BURNLEY

A FEW baseball seasons back himself. "Shuck" did not stop completely, but the going was so uncertain that he was finally sold to Newark in the International League. Last year, "Hub" did so well that John McGraw, of the Giants, bought his contract during the winter. In training this year, the erstwhile southpaw of Newark showed much of his pristine form.

Incidentally, unless Pruett succeeds in starting this season, he voluntarily will retire from the game since he needs but a few months more study to qualify for a medical degree. In fact, "Shuck" took up professional ball in order to obtain funds for an education. It will not surprise some keen judges of such things, however, if the future doctor has great success administering to opposing batters this season.

Hub also showed much promise of achieving a comeback to second greatness. Friends and foes in the game agree that Hub is one of those who "has everything when right." In training, he showed up splendidly—not once showing any signs of the erratic inefficiency that seemed to beset his panning from the big leagues last year. But in the opening game, the Chicago Cubs laced him for two singles, four doubles and three runs in the first two innings, knocking him from the box. That was a ugly ome for Pruett to stub his toe on as he started officially on that rocky comeback road.
