Aurora Observer Changes Hands

AURORA, May 1—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hendrix this week took charge of the Aurora Observer, having leased the plant from George E. Knapp who has been editor of the paper for the past eight years.

Mr. and Mrs. Hendrix, who are from Dallas, have for the past year been employed in the mechanical department of the can paper, but will make their home in Aurora.

Mr. Knapp has not announced his future plans.

Firemen's Dance At Aurora Recalls Days of Long Ago

AURORA, May 1.—The Firemen's dance Saturday night was a very colorful affair. The boys appeared for the first time in their new red sweaters. Those who have long since ceased to dance, attend the firemen's ball and have as good a time as those who do the latest stepping.

The size of the crowd, the hall filled with our own people from the head of the house down, reminded us of other days in Aurora before the advent of the automobile. Then our dances were attended by our leading citizens and their children. Then every one knew every one else, the youths and the maids became better acquainted with those of fathers' and mothers' friends, parents went home with a glow in their hearts after a good talk with Bill and a dance with Mary and the children were bubbling over with happiness at the fun of it all.

The Firemen's dance deserves the patronage of every citizen for miles around as the department responds with its new well kept fire track to all calls even to other towns.

Brooks 4-H Club Is Entertained

BROOKS, May 1—The 4-H sewing club of the Brooks public school was entertained at the home of the leader, Mrs. H. H. Bosch, on Saturday afternoon. This club has completed their work. Refreshments were served by the hostess to the following members: Millie Tschida, Hattie Aspinwall, Addie Colyer, Arleta Wood, Clara Umenovic, Minnie Ogura and Evelyn Moisan.

Miss Ellen Hackit and her nephew Robert Glover, are spending the week at the home of Miss Hackit's niece near Spokane, Wash.

O. O. Epley had as his guest over the week and Mrs. Joseph Lent of Middleton, Idaho. Mr. Lent visited Oregon about 13 years ago. Mr. Epley's daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Rollie Ramp have moved to Salem, where they will make their home. Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Epley of Jefferson, were also guests at the Epley home over the week end. Melvin is a son of Mr. Epley.

K. OF C. CLASS IS INITIATED

All Day Program at Mt. Angel is Well Attended Recently

GERVAIS, May 1—One of the largest classes in several years was initiated into the Knights of Columbus at Mt. Angel Sunday. Several from Gervais attended and seven men, Andrew Miller, Martin Schiechter, John Messer, Joseph Maisor, Albert Prantl, John Adelman and Michael Rauch, all of Gervais were in the class. The service began with early mass and communion at the church, then breakfast at six o'clock. Rev. Father Orth of Gervais was a prominent speaker at the banquet.

About 30 Knights attended a smoker at the community hall in Gervais Monday night among whom were members from Salem, Mt. Angel, Woodburn, St. Paul and Gervais. Fred Hecker, Peter Miller and A. DeJardin were the committee in charge and Fred Hecker was worthy lecturer for the evening.

DALLAS HIGH HAS PIONEER PROGRAM

DALLAS, May 1—The weekly assembly was held Wednesday with a program in honor of Oregon day, May 2. The program was given at the regular assembly instead of holding a special one Friday.

There were two songs, one by a boys quartet, and the other by a mixed quartet. In addition to this several students gave talks on various things of interest in Oregon's history and the history of Polk county.

The feature of the program was a short play given by the freshman English classes showing something of the early life in Oregon.
