

BEEBE FUNERAL IS WEDNESDAY

Burial of Woodburn Man Is Scheduled at Hubbard Tomorrow

WOODBURN, May 5.—Funeral services will be held at the Masonic temple here Wednesday afternoon for George H. Beebe, city recorder, who died suddenly at his home in this town Monday. Interment will be made in the Hubbard cemetery. Beebe was 76 years old and had only recently returned to his office in the city hall after a severe illness which kept him from duty for about six weeks. The aged recorder died sitting in a chair at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lois Grubb, and was alone at the time Mrs. Grubb has been out of town for two weeks, and during her absence a son, Seth Beebe of Silverton, has been spending the night with his father. The son left the home about 6:30 o'clock, and the elder Beebe was discovered two hours later by John Muir, street commissioner, who had been asked by the son to look in. Mr. Beebe had lived in Woodburn more than 30 years, first entering the mercantile business. He had served two terms, not consecutive, as city recorder before he was elected again in 1924, since when he has been in office continuously. He had also served two terms as mayor of Woodburn. Mrs. Beebe died in Woodburn in 1917. Besides the son and a daughter already mentioned, he leaves three grandchildren, a son of Silvertown and Gladys Grubb of Silverton. Mr. Beebe was a member of the Woodburn lodge A. F. and A. M., and of Evergreen chapter No. 41, O. E. S.

BAYONET RULE THREATENED IN PRISON REVOLT

Aerial view of Ohio State Penitentiary, showing prisoners roaming about the yard of the prison in open rebellion against the warden, who threatened to use bayonets to force their submission. Discipline at the institution has been lacking since the fire that took a total of 318 lives. (Inset) Deputy Warden Woodward, who is expected to succeed Warden Preston E. Thomas as head of the prison. His new duties will be dangerous ones as the inmates are said to be on the verge of a mutiny. State troopers have been called to restore order.

West Salem News

A recent visitor at the Guy Neuge home of Rosemont avenue was Mrs. A. E. McIntyre of Portland. Mr. and Mrs. I. W. Thomas and family accompanied by Art Akers motored to Dexter Sunday, where they took their son, Lyle, back to the school where he teaches. Lyle spent the week-end at home and attended the May festival at Monmouth, where he went two years ago. Agatha Loewen has moved into the home on Patterson avenue, which she recently purchased from E. C. Stewart of Edgewater street. Louis Lorenz has bought from L. S. Sloper of West Salem a dwelling and two lots on the corner of Gerth and Skinner streets. Harold Davis motored to St. Helens the latter part of the week where he visited with his brother, Donald Davis, who teaches school there. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Allor of New Grand Ronde and daughter, Thelma and Eloise, visited at the I. W. Thomas home Saturday. They attended the Willamette valley May Festival while here as their daughter, Eloise, took part in the program. Eloise spent the evening at the Thomas home. Mrs. Harry McDowell of the Tourist Auto Camp has been confined the past few days at her home with the flu. L. S. Sloper has been making quite a noticeable improvement at his meat market and grocery store by installing a new refrigerator ice cream cabinet and a new refrigerated meat case. They have now all of the equipment which is needed to handle fresh meats. It has added much to the appearance of the store also. The Ladies Aid of the West Salem Methodist church are sponsoring a cooking school, which will last one week, starting May 12 at the basement of the church. Mrs. Humphreys will be in charge. She is a demonstrator for the Crown flour. Anyone wishing the latest instruction in pastry, etc., making, should plan to attend. Recipes will also be given. S. E. Stewart was a visitor in West Salem Friday. He is a candidate for the republican nomination for representative. F. O. Needham improved his service station at Edgewater street by having a load of gravel scattered in front of the station. Lawrence Snell of Albany visited with his friend, Harold Davis, in West Salem Saturday afternoon. The gravel being dumped on the vacant lot near the Gehler dryer will be used for widening the pavement and any other road improvement necessary. Mrs. George Davis of Second street, who has been quite ill for some time with pneumonia, is now

sanku was also a guest there Friday. Miss Cleo Wallen and friend, Mr. James of near Brownville were Sunday visitors at the home of Mrs. Mary McGee of Ruge street. Mrs. McGee is the grandmother of Miss Wallen. Mrs. Homer Barber of Sixth street entertained with a dinner for Miss Willa Sampson who is leaving for California. Those present were Miss Willa Sampson, Mrs. F. A. Miles and children, Mrs. Ralph Sebern and children and Mrs. Homer Barber. Harold Davis worked at the Ferguson service station Saturday and Sunday taking the place of Ray Ferguson, who could not be there then. Chester Frederickson has been confined to his home on Ruge street with an attack of the flu. J. I. Blessing is now driving the West Salem bus. He took the place of Charlie Frederickson, who will take a rest for a while. He has been improving their home by kalsomining the rooms. Roy Eicher, formerly of West Salem, is working at the Triangle ranch on the Wall place road. The ball game played on the West Salem baseball field between Clear Lake and West Salem was a very interesting one. About 150 people were present. Clear Lake won by a score of 16 to 15. Joseph Willis, county school superintendent, was a visitor at the Hubbs Young home on Third street Saturday. Mr. and Mrs. Gilliland of West Salem have bought the property belonging to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Thomas, of Skinner street. The Thomases will stay here until fall when they will go to their home near Bellfountain, Gilliam. Dale Lemon of West Salem is spending a week in California on business. Mrs. F. M. Moore of Edgewater street was a Sunday visitor at the Billings-McAdams home. Mr. LaDue and son Frederick, who have been working in Camas, Washington, spent the week-end at their home on Third street in West Salem. Habbe Young of Plaza street made a short visit in Portland Sunday and was to come back Monday. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gosser of Kingwood avenue and two sons went on a fishing trip on the Astoria river. They went Saturday afternoon and came back Sunday. They caught several fish. Miss Willa Sampson of West Salem, left Monday evening for Modesto, California, where she will remain for the summer with her uncle Willie Giddens, who runs a store there. She will work in the store. If her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Miles come later in the summer, she will remain there with them. Mrs. Watson of Salem visited at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Clarence Chatterton of Ruge street Friday. Mrs. Priscilla Bo-

WEST SALEM GIRL HONORED AT PARTY

WEST SALEM, May 5.—Little Frances Friesen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Friesen of Ruge street, was honored on her fifth birthday by a birthday party given her by Mrs. Hilda Baum at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hike of Second street. Twelve little guests were present, and each one was awarded a little present as they played several games out-door. Late in the afternoon the 12 little girls were seated around a dining table, which was centered by a beautiful birthday cake with five lighted candles on it. Twelve little May baskets were also placed on the table, which were given the little guests as favors. Mrs. Hilda Baum, assisted by Teresa Mae Greene and Janice Woolley, served the refreshments. Those present were as follows: Margaret Rose Greene, Teresa Mae Greene, Erma Davis, Janice Ruth Woolley, Marjorie Friesen, Lena Grosso, Alvina Friesen, Carmella Grosso, Blanche Friesen, Mary Jensen, Helen Doris Friesen, and the honor guest, Frances Friesen.

STEED SUPPORTERS TO GIVE TESTIMONY

Witnesses favorable to J. Lyman Steed, who is under fire in connection with his conduct of the state training school for the deaf, will be heard by the state board of control here today. Opponents of Steed were given a hearing two weeks ago. Three separate petitions asking for Mr. Steed's removal as superintendent of the deaf school, were presented to the board at the first hearing. It was alleged in these petitions that Steed was cold in his attitude toward the students, discriminated against the teachers, and had replaced manual with oral instruction. One petition presented by the Oregon association of the deaf contained 80 signatures. Most of the teachers at the school are scheduled to testify favorably to Steed at tomorrow's hearing.

HAL PATTON FLAYS NORBLAD'S CRITICISMS

Sharp criticism of citizens who have reproached Governor Al W. Norblad for permitting Fred W. Brady, black-top paving lobbyist, to attack himself as a follower to the Norblad campaign, was injected into the chamber of commerce meeting Monday noon by Hal Patton, Norblad's manager here. Patton asked two minutes at the close of the meeting to make his statement. "Why can't we say good things of people rather than hurl criticisms at them?" Patton queried. He went on to explain that he thought Norblad had been unfairly attacked and he read from a Portland paper a denial by Norblad that he had made any commitments whatever in regard to the state highway commission. Patton in particular scored newspapers which had attacked the governor. FARM IS RENTED TURNER, May 5.—L. D. Roberts has purchased the 100 acre farm belonging to Calvin Small, situated on the Astoria road, three miles east of Turner. Mr. Roberts will not take possession until fall when his three year lease of the W. T. Riches dairy farm expires. Mr. Roberts has been quite successful as a dairyman and will continue in that line of work.

COMMUNIST

Dr. Otto Landberg, as he recently appeared at the time of his selection as new leader of the radical Socialist party of Germany. Dr. Landberg is former Justice Minister of Germany and has been German Ambassador to Belgium. Although rejecting any suggestion of anarchy, the radical Socialist party is adopting the doctrine of Communism with reservations.

HENDRICKS SEEKING COUNT OF 26,000

His promise to obtain a population count of more than 26,000 for Salem has been met. R. J. Hendricks told the chamber of commerce Monday noon but he added that every effort should be made by the city to bring that count to 26,000. "Travelers, inmates of jails, tramps, Salem residents away on travel or at school," all these are eligible to the count and should be named, Hendricks said. He urged chamber members to at once check their businesses and see if any employees, or their relatives had not been enumerated. Hendricks said a special enumerator had been put on the downtown district to make a re-check of the entire area.

WOMAN COLLECTS ON ACCIDENT POLICY

Mrs. Ella Edelman, 343 1/2 North Commercial street, was paid $50 by Gux Hixson, circulation manager of The Statesman on Monday as settlement in full under the accident policy Mrs. Edelman carries through that newspaper.

CHECK AND RECHECK URGED FOR CENSUS

Letters being sent out today by the chamber of commerce will go to leading industries in the city asking the managers of these plants to use every means possible to check their employees regarding the census. The chamber is very desirous that the 26,000 mark be exceeded in the '36 count and it feels that the cooperation of managers of industrial plants may make this possible.

Portlander Pays Visit to Salem's Air Field Sunday

E. E. Rasmussen of Portland was a visitor at the Salem airport Monday with his New Day Barling monoplane. Rasmussen is distributor for these planes and makes his headquarters at Vancouver, Wash. As a passenger with Rasmussen was W. L. McLean of the Mc-

Lean Sales company, distributors for the Baker Oil burner, who made a call on the local distributors, Vibbert and Todd. Both Vibbert and Todd were treated to an air-ride by McLean. A feature of the plane, said Vibbert after returning from the ride, was the ease with which it handled. "They say it will make 19 miles to the gallon and that you cannot get into a spin. That's what interests me. I'll have to have one to go back and forth to work from my ranch," declared Vibbert. Managers are requested in the letter to telephone any new names to R. J. Hendricks at the federal building, phone 656. Hendricks stated Monday that he had found names of several prominent citizens who had not been counted. Among these were Mr. and Mrs. Ruben P. Boies. Their house having been moved and this led to their being missed by the enumerator.

OREGONIANS MEET ON CHAMPOEG DAY

NEW YORK.—Champoeg Day (May 2) scarcely known anywhere in the United States outside of Oregon, and yet "as important as the signing of the compact by the Pilgrim Fathers," was celebrated by Dr. Howard R. Driggs, professor of English Teaching in New York university and president of the Oregon Trail Memorial association, at a luncheon of Oregonians at the Hotel Astor May 2. Champoeg Day is the second important date in the Covered Wagon Centennial celebration which opened on April 10th, 100th anniversary of the first covered wagon train from St. Louis in response to President Hoover's Proclamation. It will close on December 29th, 100th anniversary of the birth of Ezra Meeker, Champoeg Day is the anniversary of the first civil government established on the Pacific coast. Dr. Driggs outlined the work of the Oregon Trail Memorial association in organizing the history of the pioneers and the early west and its plan to commemorate the anniversary by marking and monumenting the Oregon Trail, symbol of their valorous emigration. The history of Oregon furnishes many examples of their great enterprise and Champoeg Day commemorates one of the most important of these.

Horse Chestnut Trees Laid Out In State, Word

Barbara Bayne, tree historian with headquarters at Inglewood, Calif., has sent to the state department here a dozen horse chestnuts to be planted in different parts of Oregon. The nuts were obtained from a tree at Bath, Penn., where General Washington, Lee and Brown of revolutionary war fame, pledged their friendship. It is known as the "friendship tree." The move to establish horse chestnut groves in different states has the indorsement of the national forestry association.

How Long Should a Wife Live?

was the subject of a talk by Bruce Barton, well-known author and advertising man. The answer, in the old days, was "not very long." Of interest to every woman is the following, taken from his talk: "Do you know what happened to the Pilgrim Mothers? I will tell you. They died. They died young. It took two or three of them to bring up one family. The fathers were tough and lived long, but work and hardship made short work of the wives." It has been truly said that you can measure the height of any civilization by the plane on which its women live. By that standard we have made great progress in the United States, but we have not made enough. An electric motor which runs a washing machine or a vacuum cleaner works for a few cents an hour. There are still millions of women doing this work which motors can do—selling their time at coolie wages.
