

CALIFORNIANS SEEK AIR BASE

$5,000,000 Raid on Pork Barrel Being Planned Carefully

WASHINGTON, May 14—(AP)—A contest by California groups for a proposed $5,000,000 naval airship base began today as the house naval affairs committee opened hearings and measures proposing sites at Sunnyvale and Camp Kearny, California.

Besides the groups led by Representative Swing and his colleague, Representative Free, republicans, California, sponsoring Camp Kearny, near San Diego, and Sunnyvale, near San Francisco, respectively, high ranking naval officers were prepared to present divergent views as to which should be selected.

Some member of the committee indicated by their questioning of the only witness of today's session, Rear Admiral Jehu Chase of the naval general board, who advocated a site in the San Diego-Los Angeles area, that they held widely different views as to where the base should be located.

A second dirigible base was authorized by congress last year, to house one of the two giant airships being constructed at Akron, Ohio, for the navy. Decided that it should be placed on the west coast in view of one already having been established on the seaboard at Lakehurst, N. J., and a special board was dispatched to study about 60 sites in Washington, Oregon and California.

A majority of the special board headed by Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the naval bureau of aeronautics recommended the site at Sunnyvale but Rear Admiral J. M. Reeves a member of the naval general board favored the site at Camp Kearny, because he held it was a more strategic point from which to operate a dirigible with the fleet in the San Diego-San Pedro area.

Secretary Adams also recommended Camp Kearny, but acting Secretary Jahnke of the navy advised the naval committee in reporting on the Free and Swing bills to accept donated sites that the navy regarded both as suitable for a dirigible base.

Chairman Britton disclosed that sites at Bakerfield, Alameda, Newton, Sacramento, Coati and Visalia, Cal., and one in Alaska, had been offered.

CROWDS INVADING CHURCHILL DOWNS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 14.—(AP)—The first contingent of the huge Kentucky derby crowd which travels thousands of collective miles to view a fraction more than two minutes of horse race, today was on its annual trek to Louisville. The derby will be run at Churchill Downs here Saturday.

By road, rail, boat and plane the vanguard of the thousands of visitors which each year assist Kentucky in its tribute to the thoroughbred horse, was filtering into this city today. The leading hotels reported all reservations taken and little cards in each room informed guests that unless they had reservations they would have to vacate by May 15.

Local airports were making plans to care for more than 100 planes and civilian, army and commercial airplane organizations have ordered their entire personnel on duty to service the visiting ships. Weather conditions from every section of the United States will be available and new wind cones, indicators, ground markings, flood lights and boundary and obstacle lights have been installed for those coming by air.

GUEST IN GERVAIS
GERVAIS, May 14—George Harklerod of Agate Beach Inn on the coast, spent last Thursday night at the hotel. It was his first time to remain over night here in 46 years. His parents came here when he was a small boy. They lived just west of town and his father operated a warehouse in Gervais. Mr. Harklerod has spent a greater part of his time in California, but is now assisting his sister who built and operates the Agate Beach Inn.

MOTHER'S DAY IS MARKED BY DINNER

WEST SALEM, May 14—Mother's Day was appropriately celebrated Sunday at the home of Mrs. Matilda White and Mrs. John Thomas of Edgewater street. A large dinner was enjoyed by all who attended.

Mrs. White's son, Mr. Chester White, wife and two children, Floy and Peggy came and spent the weekend at the Thomas-White home. They remained for the Mother's Day dinner and returned to their home in Seattle Monday.

Those present for the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hendrickson of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. Chester White and two children of Seattle, Mr. and Mrs. A. V. White of Salem, Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas and Mrs. Matilda White.

Would you like to try this doctor's laxative free of charge?

Every family has occasional need of a laxative, but it should be a family laxative. One that can't form a habit, but can be taken as often as needed. When the breath is bad or tongue is coated. Or appetite fails. Only a doctor knows the right ingredients. Dr. Caldwell discovered the right mixture years ago. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin combines harmless herbs and pure senna. It starts muscular action and soon corrects constipation. Gently, but surely, it relieves a bilious or sluggish condition. It is mild. Delicious. Effective. All druggists keep this famous prescription ready, in big bottles. Or write Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Monticello, Ill., for a free trial bottle postpaid.

Prepared Mustard

Roast beef acquires a delicious flavor when coated with Schilling Prepared Mustard Sauce, before slipping it into a hot oven.

Spread slices of cold roast beef with Schilling Prepared Mustard Sauce, add a dash of Schilling Cayenne and Onion Salt. Brown in hot fat.

Schilling Prepared Mustard Sauce added to batter in which fish is dipped before frying, will greatly improve its flavor.

A thin layer of Schilling Prepared Mustard Sauce spread on an omelet before folding lends a most piquant touch.

Fish dishes put on a new dress when served with a sauce made by adding 1 tablespoon Schilling Prepared Mustard Sauce to 1 cup medium white sauce. This sauce is a delightful accompaniment for cauliflower, asparagus, and artichokes.

PEANUT SALAD DRESSING
Mix together:
2 teaspoons Schilling Prepared Mustard Sauce.
2 teaspoons peanut butter.
2 teaspoons sugar.
Add cream to make thin enough to pour over salad.

For savory sandwiches, blend equal parts of Schilling Prepared Mustard Sauce and butter, and spread on the bread. Meat, chicken and cheese sandwiches are ever so good this way!

Cinnamon

Artichokes may be baked in oil and water to which 1 teaspoon Schilling Ground Cinnamon has been added.

A sprinkle of Schilling Cinnamon over the top of meringues before baking gives an unusual touch to cream pies.

To vary hot chocolate, add a dash of Schilling Cinnamon to each cup. Or, if topped with whipped cream, shake the cinnamon over the cream.

Before pricking muffins in the oven sprinkle the top with a mixture of 2 teaspoons of Schilling Ground Cinnamon and 4 teaspoons of sugar.

Did you ever serve cinnamon honey waffles? Just honey blended with Schilling Cinnamon to taste.

A dash of Schilling Ground Cinnamon in cranberry sauce gives a new flavor.

Sprinkle Schilling Cinnamon on pan-fried apples.

And when you bake apples—Schilling Cinnamon dusted over each apple is a magic sprinkle.

A bit of pastry rolled out, spread with a little melted butter, sugar and Schilling Cinnamon, and a piece of banana rolled up in it, is baked and served with cream or lemon sauce.

Maple

To almost any plain sugar cookie dough add 1/4 teaspoon Schilling Maple Flavoring and finely chopped nuts.

When milk for the youngsters goes "a-begging," add 1/4 teaspoon Schilling Maple Flavoring to the glass.

For a sweet dessert, prunes may be baked slowly in Maple Syrup (made the Schilling way—see below). Serve with a swirl of whipped cream.

Home-made Maple Syrup is made by pouring one cup of boiling water over two cups of granulated sugar. Boil without stirring for two minutes. Remove from fire and add 1/4 teaspoonful of Schilling Maple Flavoring. A dash of salt improves the flavor. (This recipe makes one pint of delicious syrup at a cost of less than eight cents.) This easily made syrup has many uses besides the usual hot cake or waffle accompaniment. It may be used as a sauce for ice cream, pudding and cake, and for flavoring frosting and candies.

Malted milks are delicious flavored with a bit of Schilling Maple Flavoring and colored a rich brown with Schilling Caramel Coloring.

Tapioca cream is a long remembered dainty when Schilling Maple Flavoring (1 teaspoon to a quart of milk), and coconut or sliced bananas are added.
