

ONE AVIATOR IS KILLED AT SEA

Four Military Planes Lost; Dozen Flyers Spend All Night On Ocean

HONOLULU, May 15—(AP)—A dramatic adventure of air and sea cost the life of Staff Sergeant Joseph Becker of Brooklyn, N. Y., and the loss of three military airplanes between the Islands of Maui and Hawaii yesterday. Twelve other army and navy fliers whose planes rode the rough waves from noon yesterday until early today were brought safely ashore by rescuing surface vessels.

Becker died when an army bombing plane fell into the ocean while accompanying a fleet of 41 army and navy planes from Luke and Wheeler fields, near here, to Hilo, Hawaii. A navy seaplane and two army amphibian planes were brought down by their crews to rescue the bomber's men. They picked up three men, but the rescuing planes were unable to rise from the high waves.

While flying 8000 feet high, the bomber broke an aileron control and began its descent. Becker's parachute opened prematurely as he was about to leap and became entangled in the bomber's rigging. Two others of the crew parachuted at an altitude of 4000 feet and were picked up by the rescuing planes.

Lieutenant Tellmadge Leslie Boyd of Washington, D. C., pilot of the plunging bomber, remained with the ship in a heroic effort to extricate Becker and was drawn into the whirling stabilizer. Boyd's legs were incised, his shoes and socks torn off and his clothing reduced to rags. Three thousand feet above the sea, Boyd freed himself and leaped with his parachute into the waves.

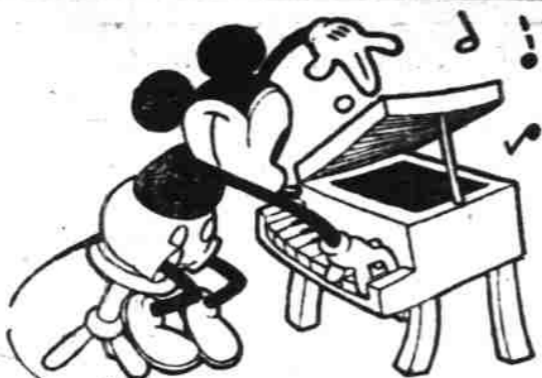

A naval seaplane commanded by Lieutenant M. A. Schur followed the parachuting men down and picked up Boyd, Staff Sergeant H. Alexander of Kennedy, Ala., and Private H. L. Cowan of Syracuse, N. Y. Becker was carried down by the bomber beneath the waves.

Boyd, Alexander and Cowan were taken aboard hours later to the steamer Hawaii which was ordered to their aid. Later they were transferred to the steamer Waialeale and brought to a hospital here to be treated for exposure.

The first army amphibian to dive to assist the fallen aviators was manned by Lieut. E. W. Rawlins and Sergeant R. F. Summers. Unable to get their plane into the air again, they were picked up by the steamer Hawaii, but the plane was lost.

Well, I hope every Mouse enters in the model airplane and glider contest to be staged by the Fox Elsinore. There will be all kinds of prizes given. For full details read this Sunday's Oregon Statesman.

Last week we were supposed to give a yell for our Chief Dow, and didn't, but we'll give it to him this week for sure, and especially as he has started another contest. Here it is:

Boomelacka, Boomelacka, Boomelacka, Bow
Chickelacka, Chickelacka, Chickelacka, Chow
Yelling for our Chief Mickey Mouse Dow

The honor roll is still booming right along. Three more members this week.

Eva Burgess, 4A Richmond.
Janet Frye 4A Richmond.
Dorothy Johnson, Highland.

We sure had entertainment galore last week, and all of it came from members of our own club, with the exception of one special. First was a real hooper, Frances McReynolds, who did a tap dance. Next were songs by the "Mickey Mouse 4". Florence Dougherty, Marjory Pickens, Virginia Coates, and Barbara Crites. Third was a violin and saxophone duet by Dale Loveland and Eugene Strickland.

INQUIRY FINANCED BY HYGIENE BUREAU

GENEVA, May 15—(AP)—A gift of $12,500 from the social hygiene bureau of New York City for an inquiry into traffic in women and children in the eastern countries was accepted today by the council of the league of nations.

Bascom, Johnson, American officials of the bureau, will head a commission of three social experts on a tour of investigation in the far east. The other two members were not designated. The commission will visit Japan, China, India, Persia, the Malay states and Java.

The secretary general of the council today said he would ask the United States to include the Philippines in the inquiry. The council took steps to back up the league's anti-opium crusade. Mexico, Uruguay, Spain and four other countries where the narcotic traffic was said to be heavy were asked to appoint a committee to the council. It developed that few of the Latin-American countries had furnished the council committee with statistics on narcotic traffic.

Clifford C. Cravath, once with the Philadelphia Nationals, led the league in home run hitting for six seasons.
