

State Fair Exhibits Are Planned By Sunday Schools

CADY VISITS HAZEL GREEN

President of Hayesville Sunday School Works for Fair

HAZEL GREEN, May 20—Charles Cady of Aunou visited the Sunday school May 19 to arrange about exhibits for a booth at the state fair.

Mr. Cady and his wife started this work at the fair some years ago in the face of much discouragement when Mr. Cady was president of the Council of Religious Education of the Hayesville district. Mr. Cady was with us on Temperance Sunday. He told of working in a construction camp of a railroad in the Rocky Mountains during the winter of 1908-09. The town had 32 homes with 30 saloons. The other houses, post office and the home of the man who owned the 30 houses used as saloons.

When the snow melted in the spring there were the bones of 750 men on the hillside back of the saloons. He told of the difference in camp when he worked as engineer during 1921-22.

WOODBURN KIDDIES PRESENT FANTASY

Pupils of Fourth Grade Are Directed by Mrs. Margaret Davenport

WOODBURN, May 20—At the Monday assembly at Woodburn high school the students of the fourth grade from the grammar school presented an interesting fantasy under the direction of Mrs. Margaret Davenport, their instructor.

Following a reading, "Ma and the Auto Ride," by Jack Lee, the playlet "The Interrupted Wedding" was given. The setting was in a toy shop owned by Mr. T. Emy Woony, John Myers, who seemed to get into a great many difficulties because of the efficient business methods of his bookkeeper, Kenneth Presthus, who was repeatedly selling the wrong doll at the wrong time in an effort to put the shop on a paying business much to the disgust of the shopkeeper who would rather lose his profits than cause his dolls to be unhappy.

The other characters in the play were: Tippy Twinkle, a fairy, Betty Marie Hugill; the bride doll, Lucille Arslanian; the groom doll, Raymond Freeburg; the bishop doll, Eddie Armstrong; maids of honor, Betty Frenz, Genevieve Jones, Frances Woodfin and Betty Jane Hicks; the best man, Clair Hill; jazz dolls, Beryl Incedon and Annette Lytle; Red Riding Hood, Eleanor Russell; Buster Brown, Buddy Clark; Jumping Jack, Bobby Dean; soldiers, Herbert Tange, Kenneth Mulkey, Dick Whitman, Merton Belcher, Lowellyn Holm, Bobby Frenz, Harold Livesay, Buddy Tyson, Harlan Nelson, Keith Tweedie, Billy Smith and Ralph Gant; commander of soldiers, Fred Evenden; clowns, Charley Shaw, Harold Shiel, Robert Bramby and Earl DeHut; announcer, Jack Lee.

Miss Teruya Otsuki, a senior at Willamette university, accompanied a party of classmates on a trip to Mt. Hood Friday.

CHARGES WHIPPING

Mrs. Evelyn Turner, blonde 25-year-old entertainer of San Francisco, who charges she was whipped during a party attended by George Whittell, Jr., social favorite, yachtsman and war hero. Employed by Whittell to entertain him and some friends at a party, Mrs. Turner claims she received a lashing with a "quirt-like whip" by another woman, manhandling and assault by a man, while her host sat idly by. She is suing him and the two others for $25,000 each.

Hubbard Families See Historical Museum, Guests Of Dr. and Mrs. Horner

HUBBARD, May 20—Undaunted by the drizzling rain a group from Hubbard including members of the Hubbard Woman's club with their families and friends left Hubbard about 10 o'clock Sunday forenoon to accept Dr. and Mrs. J. B. Horner's invitation to a covered dish luncheon and also a visit to the museum of the Oregon State college.

Dr. Horner, who has been a member of the college faculty for the past 40 years, said that to his knowledge the Hubbard group of 51 men, women and children was the first in the history of the college to gather at the campus for a community luncheon with a member of the college faculty and for the purpose of studying an educational subject in which all were vitally interested. In the case of the Hubbard group the subject of interest was Oregon as it was in pre-historic times and the desire to learn more about that age as revealed by the specimens which Dr. Horner, acknowledged authority on Oregon history, has placed in the college museum.

Has Addressed Club
Dr. Horner had aroused an interest in the pre-historic life of Oregon in an address at January meeting of the Hubbard Woman's club but the facts were more strongly impressed upon the group when it saw tusks, teeth and other bones of elephants and also the skeletons of other animals that lived here at a time when Oregon had a tropical climate.

By studying the specimens the group realized that Oregon has undergone many climatic changes and that it is a wonderland of pre-historic life as well as a wonderland of natural resources and beauty with a climate as our state is known today.

Dr. Horner pointed out to the visitors that it has been estimated that the north pole is approaching Oregon at the rate of 40 inches a year, so that we are moving toward another glacial age which in turn will be followed by a tropical age, all many thousands of years hence.

Museum Attracts
The group lingered in the museum and enjoyed Dr. Horner's hospitality as he carefully explained the specimens and entertained with interesting anecdotes about many. The museum was found to contain not only the wonderful collection showing the development of our own state but in it were also found many rare specimens from all parts of the earth.

The visit to the museum followed the luncheon, a jolly affair, held in the students' room of the Presbyterian church.

The coffee was furnished by Dr. and Mrs. Horner and the guests spread their lunches and all gathered around the several large round tables, placed for the occasion.

Dr. Horner was toastmaster and in his delightfully witty manner talked on his guests for short talks with the result that no room was left for dull moments.

Following the visit to the museum Dr. Horner conducted the group to the college library which was found to be well equipped and a delightful place for the students to read and study.

Picture Is Taken
At Dr. Horner's request the group assembled on the steps of the building in which they had had the pleasure of feasting on Oregon history and there they posed while their host took snapshots of them. Afterwards a motor tour of the college grounds was enjoyed with Dr. and Mrs. Horner in their car in the lead and followed by the ten cars of their guests. At intervals the procession halted and Dr. Horner got

In a debutante it's Charm

in a cigarette it's Taste

MANY FINE QUALITIES make up the "charm" that is Miss America's, but her genuine wholesomeness appeals most of all.
IN A CIGARETTE, TOO, the real appeal is wholesomeness of taste.
WITNESS CHESTERFIELD'S popularity, growing every day. No flash in the pan, but enduring popularity, earned by giving smokers a cigarette of better quality, richer aroma and finer fragrance, blended and cross-blended to just one end... "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. LAGUETA & MYERS TOBACCO CO.
