BUTTER FAT DROPS ONE CENT HERE... BUTTER FAT DROPS ONE CENT HERE. PORTLAND ALSO NOTES REDUCTION

White Wheat Is Given Tumble Upon Local Markets... A drop of one cent in the price of butter fat and white wheat were the outstanding events on Salem market row on Tuesday.

PORTLAND, May 20—(AP)—(AP)—Commodity prices hit the dough-eaters today. Butter and butterfat declined one cent each, making the price of extras in butter 35c and of butterfat delivered Portland 24c.

The price of sugar was reduced 2c following a similar cut by California refiners. The market was quiet, but sugar $4.75 and beet sugar $4.75. Egg prices were weak, but unchanged.

Reviewing the fruit and vegetable situation, the Portland bureau of the U. S. department of agriculture says: "Portland's wholesale fruit and vegetable market opened the week with active trading and general firmness in asparagus, peas, strawberries, apples, and citrus fruits. Local asparagus and strawberries were in light supply. Peas from the Dalles were more plentiful and moved to retailers at 9-10c per lb. California peas are decreasing in volume.

"Local beets, turnips, etc., are displacing California's offerings, and will soon dominate the market." "Total potato loadings of 900 to 1000 cars daily are discouraging to holders of old potatoes, in some prices are generally 85c to 90c per cwt. lower than prevailed a month ago, both at northwestern shipping points, and at Pacific coast terminal markets. Twenty-three cars of new potatoes passed northward through Roseville Saturday and Sunday, assuring the northwest of liberal supplies in the immediate future.
