

Two Salem Churches Making Plans for New Buildings

CHURCH VOTES SCHOOL TEMPLE

M. E. Congregation Prefers East Side Structure at Cost of $82,000

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the members of the First Methodist church was held in the church parlors on Thursday evening, at which time the whole program and program of the church in building of the new church school temple was presented by the committee and considered. H. H. Klopping presided as chairman of the meeting and Miss Amy Martin acted as secretary.

A number of important matters of business were acted upon by the congregation. It was voted to go ahead with the project of the construction of the new church school temple and considered. H. H. Klopping presided as chairman of the meeting and Miss Amy Martin acted as secretary.

The financial policy adopted was to take subscriptions covering a period of three years payable in six semi-annual payments, bearing six per cent interest after the construction is begun. Half of the estimated cost of the building is to be in cash before the construction is started or any contracts let.

The building committee elected by ballot to have charge of the plans of construction and of the financial campaign were A. A. Schramm, J. O. Goltz, Dr. B. L. Stevens, W. C. Winslow, R. C. Glover and Dr. M. C. Findley. This election is to be confirmed by the quarterly conference of the church which will be held in the church on June 4 by Dr. Thomas H. Temple, the superintendent of the Salem district. The committee may be enlarged by the addition of others at that time and to organize as chairman of subcommittees on various phases of the work.

The perspective drawings for the new building were made by Fred A. Legge, a Salem architect, who is a member of the church and on its official board. It is expected that the work of organization and the financial campaign will go forward as rapidly as economic conditions will permit.

HISTORY TO BE GIVEN Unusual Service Sunday Night at Leslie Church THESIS PROGRAM BASIS

Old fashioned flowers and flowers from fields and woods will form a setting for the interesting service which will be held Sunday evening at Leslie Memorial church. Ormal B. Trick, assistant pastor, will give "The Story of Leslie Memorial Church."

This story will be based on the thesis written by Mr. Trick for his school of Theology and Rookwood, founder, builder and first pastor of Leslie Memorial church, and to his collaborators.

Mr. Trick has interviewed a number of people and written many letters to get material for his subject. This story will present the results of a great amount of work, and will bring to the hearers many interesting incidents connected with the early history of the church.

The scripture to be read by Leslie Judson from a Bible that belonged to David Leslie, the man for whom the church was named. This interesting Bible is the prized possession of the Judson family.

To add to the occasion will be several other features. Old time songs will be used, and Mrs. Mason Bishop will be soloist. Four young women, dressed in the dresses of long ago, will act as ushers.

Following the evening service there will be an informal reception in the social rooms of the church. This will give an opportunity for former members of the church to greet their friends.

Former members or those who have had any connections with the church are especially invited to attend.

Castle U. B. Church Talks New Edifice

Prospects for another new church building in Salem are evinced by the Castle United Brethren church members and friends to meet next Tuesday night, at 8 o'clock at the church, to decide on future building program.

During the past few years, the Englewood community has grown so that there is pertinent need of a modern church building to care for the community's religious, social and group needs. The present structure, at North 17th and Nebraska streets, has served for 22 years, but it now inadequate for the purposes.

Before moving to the present location 22 years ago, the Castle United Brethren church was situated on the corner of Marion and 13th streets.

The Home Mission and Church Erection Society of the denomination, which has been assisting the local church with its local budget is now ready to give substantial aid so that a new building can be erected. Dr. Russell S. Showers, associate secretary of the society will be present next week to present plans to the congregation and community. He will propose that one unit of modern two-unit church be erected at this time. It will be necessary to move and remodel the parsonage, to make room for the new edifice. At least $10,000 will be provided by the Church Erection Society.

Every one in Englewood should be much interested in this enlarged program of Christian work and community betterment, states the pastor of the church, Rev. L. W. Biddle. All are invited to attend the meeting at the church next Tuesday night, and the potluck supper at the 6:30 hour.

Spanish Veterans Invited to Attend Jason Lee in Body

The veterans of the Spanish American war and the auxiliary members will be guests of honor at 11 o'clock morning services at Jason Lee church Sunday.

A special patriotic theme has been selected by Rev. H. E. Garding for the sermon at the hour, and patriotic hymns and anthems will be sung.

Members of the Boy Scout troop of the church will act as guard of honor for the veterans and auxiliary visitors.

Woodburn Folk Past 70 Entertained by Churches At Unique Dinner Event

WOODBURN, May 23.—A committee composed of delegates from the different churches of the city entertained all the elderly people in Woodburn who passed the 70 year mark, at a dinner in St. Luke's community hall Wednesday.

Mrs. John Myers of the Church of God was the chairman and the representatives from the other churches were Mrs. E. T. Sims and Mrs. Ada Doud, Presbyterian; Mrs. A. E. Austin, Mrs. Alice Gay, Methodist; Mrs. Andrew Prethuis, Mrs. L. M. Erickson, Lutheran; Mrs. Henry Miller, Mrs. L. M. Bitney, Episcopal; Mrs. John P. Hunt, Mrs. Eugene Mohlbeier, Mrs. Joseph Nibler, Catholic; Mrs. William Uppendahl, Mrs. Walter Uppendahl, Harriett Jones, Christian; Miss Alma Trullinger, Free Methodist; Rev. G. S. Hartung was in charge of transportation and much of the credit for the success is due to his efforts.

Mr. Father Rubis offered blessing at dinner which was served at attractively arranged tables decorated with spring flowers. The oldest guest was Frans Nibler who was 95 years old, Wesley Low was 92 and Frances Feiler is 90.

A program from the different high schools and arranged by Mrs. Myers was presented after dinner. The high school girls' octette sang "The Cake Shop Romance," Opal Dickey, Opal Hodge, Gerald Bonney, Edith Shrock, Ruth Geer, Mabel Halvorsen, Grace Shrock and Maxine Giesey. Wilbur Warty, Edna She Powers, Her Nose and the high school trio, Grace and Edith Shrock and Opal Dickey sang "The World is Waiting For The Sunrise." Inex Smith received the music for the church in the absence of Dr. H. C. Epley, who with Mrs. Epley will take a three weeks' vacation, going to Los Angeles, California.

Williet Jesse will have charge of the music for the church in the absence of Dr. H. C. Epley, who with Mrs. Epley will take a three weeks' vacation, going to Los Angeles, California.

Ministers Will Hold Final Meeting of Year At 10 o'clock Monday

The closing session for the year of the Salem Ministerial association will be held on Monday, May 26 at the Y. M. C. A. building. Rev. Jehu Oliver, a retired minister of the United Brethren church, will conduct the devotions. Rev. A. P. Larson, pastor of the Evangelical church, will bring the message upon the subject, "Reaching and Winning the Masses."

The officers and standing committees of the association for the coming year will be elected and installed on Monday. A large attendance is expected.

General Aid Will Meet At Church on Wednesday

The General Aid society of the First Methodist church will meet in the church parlors at 2:30 on Wednesday for their regular business session and tea hour. Mrs. W. C. Young will preside at the business session. The women of the Naomi Circle, of which Mrs. E. B. Millard is president, will be hostesses at the tea hour.

Rev. Warren, leader. Official board. Sunday school board and Board of Stewards meet Monday night.

Play Which Won Gold Medal Will Be Shown Sunday at Church Here

As a part of the Sunday evening service the moving picture "Four Sons" will be shown. This play was the gold medal winner last year by vote of motion picture fans throughout the world. It is an inspiring story of love and sacrifice against the background of the world war. The mother part is taken by a 60-year-old Scotch woman, Margaret Mann. It is a story of a grief-stricken German mother who lost three sons in the war and who came to America to start life anew with her only surviving son, his wife and child. The whole story is so wholesome and fine as to win the commendation of all ages of people.

Standard Bearers to Meet For Social Tuesday Night

The Standard Bearer's society of the Jason Lee church is planning to hold a social at the church Tuesday night, beginning at 7 o'clock. The young people of the church are planning to hold an all day hike Friday.

Preaching Services Hollywood Theatre

Sunday Morning 11 o'clock, Evening Service 8 o'clock, at Fraternal Hall located on Center St., between High and Liberty, Conducted by Robert L. Payne

Many times each day I am asked what my future plans are. Will say I expect to continue to make Salem my home for many reasons, and as I am a preacher, of course will preach. Salem was my home before I became a local pastor. I moved to Salem because I liked the city and felt that I was providentially led in coming here. I still like it here and have not felt led to leave.

Salem in many ways has been good to me; I am especially grateful for the splendid schools my children have had the privilege of attending. I have also had the privilege of bringing a little gospel message to thousands, having been honored as I am told with largest congregations in the city.

Another reason for my staying is that like many other folks I have certain obligations, some of which were made through no fault of my own, all of which I must and will take care of. I am not a fighter as many think. I have only fought in defense of my family and the cause I represent, and would do the same again under like circumstances. It has been my lot to take some pretty hard blows, but I have tried to take them standing up.

We are told that all things work together for good to them that love the Lord. So for all the hurtful things that have come to my family and myself, I will not doubt work out for good. I bear no malice toward any one, and if I can ever serve or help those that have tried to hurt me, I will count it a privilege to do so.

My present plans are to preach the Gospel as best I can to all that come to hear it. Paul, the greatest preacher of them all, worked with his hands and hired a building and preached the Gospel to all that came.

Most preachers know that the average church is but little more than a collecting agency for the denomination, and that Souls saved and service rendered to the community count for little with the over Lords.

There will be no collection plates passed at our services. If you care to have a part in them you can hand your gift to the usher, or address me 549 North Liberty St.

If you are among those that claim to be perfect do not come to these services, as all the rest of us feel ourselves so full of faults and so imperfect, including the preacher. But if you are tired, blue, disappointed, hungry for Spiritual food and drink, and do not attend some other place, come and worship with us.

Why Men Live and Die

By REV. L. W. BIDDLE (Pastor Castle United Brethren Church)

Text, "What shall a man give in exchange for his life?" Matt 16:26.

Another Decoration day draws near and with thankfulness of a spirit and solemnity of soul we dwell in thought upon some of the greatest realities of life. The light of the physical life is sweet, but for reasons the heart can understand, men have sometimes allowed it to fade, never to be renewed. The heart of mankind has always held a deep conviction that there are some things for which it is worth while to die. And for these same things it is eminently worth while to live, saving both soul and body.

Religion has supplied many joys and blessings to sweeten and enrich human experience and for the sake of religion, to make proof of their faith, many have gone to the fires of sacrifice of the wild beasts, not counting their lives dear.

The home, also has been one of the dearest of earthly objects. For this men have lived and for this, among interests of life, have been ready to give proof of their highest regard.

Patriotism has been the key of the devotion of unnumbered thousands and for the sake of the country that held their allegiance, how many have lived the lives of heroes. For the demands of the country multitudes have died. "These died in war that we in peace might live. They gave their best that we our best might give."

Christ gave his life that men might truly live and be victorious over all the enemies of the soul and body. Upon this higher plane the fighting instinct of man need not atrophy for. "We fight, not against flesh and blood but against the rulers of spiritual wickedness in high places."

"He serves his country best who lives pure life and doeth righteous deeds, and walks straight paths, however others stray, and leaves his sons as utmost bequest, a stainless record which all men may read. This is the better way."

After the 9 o'clock mass on Sunday morning, the May devotions will close in St. Joseph's church with procession and benediction. Reception of new members into the sodality of the Blessed Virgin Mary, will take place immediately afterwards. Rev. J. R. Buck is pastor.

AID TO MEET
The Ladies' Aid society of the Court street church of Christ will hold an all-day session Wednesday.
