

CURT COMMENTS

Now, just judging from the Turner-Gregory fracas in Portland, we sport writers are in for tough times. The sport moguls have decided they can get along without us; pass lists are to be suspended, press boxes barred against us. Pretty soon we won't even be permitted a glance at the schedule so we'll know who's playing and when.

Of course, that may not be until the rest of the boys have viewed the outcome of Tom Turner's stand; if he can make Lair Gregory pay for a grandstand seat, keep on disinguing a bunch of cripples as a ball team and get away with it, all the other club owners will about the chorus to the Battle Cry of Freedom from Sport Writers.

Once upon a time a couple of hams came to Salem to build up the wrestling game and started in by acting mean to the sport writers. Remember? Oh, what joy when the bouts turned out putrid and we managed to roast them with a clear conscience! We saved the fans a little money, maybe not much, because what racket would have died anyway in a couple more weeks.

So we expect to sit next to the bell at the wrestling matches and pull the bell cord at the ball park a few weeks more before getting the axe. And if it so behooves you'll hand out a little friendly criticism occasionally—yes indeed.

Right now we could start raving about the need for some more hitting in the Senator batting order—but what's the use? Frisco knows what's needed as well as we do, and he'll probably get it—but his buying power isn't quite equal to Tom Turner's, and crowds like we had last Sunday hardly merit the brand of ball that played. In fact, it surprised us that the boys were willing to work overtime.

HELP! HELP! HELP!
The observations aren't coming in as fast as we would like. Tell Curt Comments what you see. Here's one:

Sixth Victory Chalked Up By West Salem

WEST SALEM, June 3.—(Special)—West Salem played its seventh baseball game Sunday with Silver Creek Falls, winning by a score of 14 to 6. This game was the sixth victory out of the seven for West Salem. The West Salem team will play Clear Lake Sunday, June 8 at the West Salem diamond.

West Salem Has Junior Tossers

WEST SALEM, June 3.—(Special)—A junior baseball team is being organized under the leadership of M. A. Groves of West Salem. It looks as though it might be a success. They are contemplating playing Molalla Saturday. The West Salem boys did some practicing Monday afternoon at the baseball diamond in West Salem.

Anderson and Jones in Match for Title Tonight

CLEAN BILL IS ON AT ARMORY

Provo Man and Salem Favorite Stick to Straight, Hard Grappling

The type of wrestling that Salem fans have indicated they really prefer, despite all claims to the contrary, will be on tap tonight when Des Anderson, local favorite, meets Henry Jones for the western welterweight championship.

Anderson has always indulged in straight, clean, hard wrestling when he could get his opponent to do the same, and Jones is one of those who will cooperate in a program of that style—at least such is his record here.

As for the fans, they have arrived at that state of erudition where they look on "rough stuff," so called, as so much bologna, realizing that most of it is less harmful to an opponent than an ordinary punishing hold, and that anyway it isn't wrestling.

Demonstration Seen
One Last Card Here
They look upon these tactics, too, as a subterfuge employed to beat an opponent who could win with practical certainty on straight wrestling; that was shown in the last match here when Sallor Watkins was thrown quickly after abandoning his horseplay and going.

Tonight's match has the further virtue of a championship at stake; a title which is not one of the paper affairs often touted around the country. The history of the western welterweight championship belt has been reviewed here before and is well known.

Art Reilly and Louis Garrett, the latter from somewhere in the vicinity of Monroe, will open at 8:30 with a 30 minute bout which will prove speedy if Reilly's past performances here are any criterion.

MISSIONS TO SIGN GROVER ALEXANDER

SAN FRANCISCO, June 3.—(AP)—Manager Wade Killefer of the San Francisco Missions baseball team revealed today he will continue to play with a minor league club, preferably on the Pacific coast.

Killefer said he will write President Baker of the Phillies to find if Alexander is free to talk business. Alexander expressed a desire to pitch in the coast league following his release.

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(AP)—Philadelphia has beckoned another former star out of the major leagues. Grover Cleveland Alexander today was declared a free agent to go when and where he wills.

The veteran pitcher of the Phillies, who holds the national league record for victories, has been given his unconditional release.

What "old Pete" expects to do in a baseball way he says he does not know but he would like to continue to play with a minor league club, preferably on the Pacific coast.

Karr Leading in Marathon Match

Fred Karr took the lead, 1985 to 1862, in the first ten games of the special 30-game bowling match with Sam Steinbock on the Winter Garden alleys Monday night. Scores by games were:

Steinbock—184, 172, 150, 202, 197, 205, 206, 159, 171, 216, 1862.
Karr—157, 202, 156, 193, 218, 193, 213, 216, 213, 234—1958.

Art Akers Will Box Again Soon

WEST SALEM, June 3.—Art Akers, lightweight boxer, will meet Lee Davies of Verona sometime in the near future at the Salem armory. Davies is also a lightweight. This will be a ten round match or less. Art is now training every day for the match.

Henry Applies Lock

The great Henry Jones, master of all the tricks known to matmen, is here pictured bearing down on a whip whistock which is one of his favorites. Jones will try to get this on Des Anderson tonight at the armory, when they battle again for the western welterweight title.

Britain All Agog Over Epsom Derby Scheduled Today; Diolite Favorite

EPSOM DOWNS, England, June 3.—(AP)—Premier Ramsay MacDonald is being telling the British empire editors gathered here all about the future of the British empire, but what the Britons, high and low, would like to know tonight is what speedy colt will win the 1930 derby to be run tomorrow at 2 p. m., over 12 furlongs of the famous horse-shaped course atop Epsom Downs.

Britain's annual attack of derby fever is at its height. Nineteen derby entries are at Epsom tonight, petted and provided for as babies rarely are. Diolite, the firm favorite at the short odds of 5 to 2, slumbers in his luxurious box with Scout II from America not far away. The William Woodward colt and Ballyferrius from Ireland are the only foreigners in the running and they're hardly running, according to most dopest.

Diolite, which will sport the silks of Sir Hugo Hirst, has already won the 1930 to hear most tipsters tell it and should the American or any other colt come in first, there'll be some talk alluding to that by those experts who pretend to know which horse can run the fastest.

SCHMELING POUNDS NEW RING BUDDIES

under Schmeling's devastating of fighting condition, a bit light socking. The German is in the pink at 186 pounds, but browned and vigorous from his weeks of work in the open air.

He fought his mates for six rounds today and drew up at the finish hardly breathing heavily. He socks only to hold that fighting edge until the night of June 12 when he will face Jack Sharkey in the blazing square of light in the center of Yankee stadium.

Club Standings
The following Teuton took three new sparring partners and one old one into his outdoor arena today and for the sake of condition and amusement of 600 paying guests all but took their features apart with cutting left hooks and numbing right crosses. He did not knock his working men out for that would have ended their usefulness, but he did mold them from earnest, rather apprehensive young men into grinning, blood-smeared caricatures with his steady flow of cutting leather.

The three new comers, Frankie Bush, Jackie Shaw and Karl Ackner, novices to the prize ring, replaced the last of a long string of human punching bags who have tried unsuccessfully to stand up

Misplays Give Visitors Lead But Hits Bunched in Seattle Fourth

SEATTLE, June 3.—(AP)—Bunching their hits in the fourth inning to drive over three runs, the Seattle Indians took the lead in today's game here against the Oakland Oaks after a ragged start and were never headed, winning 5 to 4.

The Oaks took a 3 to 1 lead in the second but only one run in that inning was earned. Catcher Borreani's wild throw accounting for the other two scores.

Arlet homered in the sixth for the only other earned run off Paul Zahniser, who fanned six and helped win his own game by knocking in a run with a two bagger and scoring himself in the fourth. Holland poked out a homer for Seattle's first score in the opening frame.

Helene Is Champ One More Time

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 3.—(AP)—Helene Madison, Seattle girl swimming sensation, today added the 400 yard free style indoor American swimming record to her long list of aquatic feats, when she negotiated the distance here in 5 minutes 6 1-5 seconds.

The former record of 5 minutes 14 seconds was made in 1927 by Martha Norelius of New York.

Miss Madis competed against time in an exhibition race sanctioned and timed by American amateur athletic officials. Her coach, Ray Daughters of Seattle, said he would seek to have the record made a world's mark.

He said that Martha Norelius time had been considered a world's figure as there never had been international competition in the 400 yard indoor event. Miss Madison shattered eight world's records and tied another in Florida swimming meets last February.

SENATOR-BEARCAT GAME POSTPONED

The baseball game for the city championship, between the Salem Senators and the Willamette university team which last week won the Northwest conference championship, has been postponed until Friday afternoon, the opposing managers deciding Tuesday night that Olinger field would be too wet this afternoon for satisfactory play even though the rain should cease.

A lot of rivalry has developed between the city's representatives in the Willamette Valley league and the college ball tossers, and a hard fought game is in prospect when they get together.

TAYLOR IS VICTIM

CHICAGO, June 3.—(AP)—Bud Taylor, Terre Haute, Ind., knocked out Jackie Johnston, Toronto, in the second round of a 10 round match in the open air stadium tonight. Taylor floored Johnston for a nine count and then put him away with a right to the chin.

ROSENBLOOM WINS

NEW YORK, June 3.—(AP)—Maxie Rosenbloom, Harlem contender for the light heavyweight championship, gained an easy 10 round victory over George Holman, New York heavyweight at the Queensboro stadium tonight. Rosenbloom weighed 175 1/2, Holman 196.

COMMERCIAL GRADS NOW SEEKING JOBS

Fifty-one high school seniors who have finished their commercial courses have registered with the employment bureau conducted by Merritt Davis, head of the department. Davis will conduct the placement bureau for his students this summer, as he has done in the past.

Rearrangement of the school schedule the past year did not permit the apprenticing of students which had been conducted in the past through the department.

The students who are seeking positions are: Beatrice Cernik, Hazel McElroy, Claudine Gillespie, Florence Ritchie, Delpha Savage, Delphine Harrison, Mildred Schmidt, Mabel Savage, Barbara Ames, Ernestine Porter, Dorris Kemp, Helen Mize, Lily Nelson, Victoria Schneider, Isobel Morehouse, June Fitzpatrick, Anna Mae Alsmann, Mildred Crabtree, Margaret Burns, Georgia Hunt, Evelyn Coburn, Esther Scott, Elvina Kasberg, Donna Harlan, Pearl Sampson, Alva Rodgers, Elsie Grenquist, Agnes Sandifer, Marlon Shaw, Ida McNeill, Ruth Mitchell, Joy Greig, Evelyn Erickson, Ruth Winkelman, Chester Garrison, James Johnston, Henry McCollum, John Nekuda, Fred Heinke, Fred Hurst, Russell Gardner, George Sugal, Ivan Osterman, Harold Massey, Arthur Golden, Lawrence Rich, Charles Kelley, Melvin Propp, Clare McCandlish and Fritz Ammann.

This group does not include all of the students who are graduating from the commercial department, as some will go on to school and are not now seeking work.

Best Forgetter Sets Record in Evanston Court

EVANSTON, Ill., June 3.—(AP)—O. B. Hanson should have been a professor. He would have provided the campus with many good "absent minded" yarns.

His story hour in police court today had a touch of pathos. "I forgot, there was a stop light there," he observed blankly, "and the next day I forgot to come to court."

The judge's good memory recalled that Hanson's bond had been forfeited for that very reason and asked Hanson if he had been arrested before. Hanson said no, but he had forgotten. Police officers—who never forget—reminded him of an arrest in March by speeding.

ANGELS BEAT STARS

LOS ANGELES, June 3.—(AP)—The hurling duel between Jim Turner of Hollywood and Ed Baecht of Los Angeles ran its course until the ninth here today when the Angels, with two out and a run behind, counted twice to score a 3 to 2 victory. The defeat increased the Stars' losing streak to six straight.
