Polk County Boys and Girls Carry Projects For Long Periods

DALLAS, June 6.—Five boys and one girl enrolled in 4-H agricultural clubs of the county have carried on their projects for six or more years in succession. Many boys and girls have carried on their projects for several years already and will probably reach this record.

Maxine Ferguson of Eola has carried on bee club work for six years. Joe Rogers, Jr., is in his sixth year and is carrying pig, calf and bee club projects. Joe has been one of the outstanding club members in the county for years. Earl Johnson of Elkins has been a calf club member for seven years.

Chester Fredericksen of West Salem has taken part in poultry, rabbit and garden club projects for six years, although not carrying on all of the projects any one year. Leslie Stewart has been active in calf club work for eight years and this year is the local leader of the Bethel Jersey Calf Club. Leslie is one of the outstanding club members of the entire state, having won numerous prizes.

Jesse Walling of Zena has been a sheep club member for six years and this year is local leader of a sheep club with members in the Oak Grove and Zena communities. All of these young folks are fine examples of the many benefits derived from active participation in 4-H club work.

According to the records in County Agent J. R. Beck's office, there are five club members who have been active in club work for five years; 20 who have been active for four years; 38 who have been active for three years and 43 for two years. There is a total of 65 beginners who are taking up one or the other of the many agricultural projects in 4-H club work. In addition to this phase of the 4-H club work there are many members with similar records enrolled in the Home Economics clubs.

ALL-Y PICNIC IS SET FOR JUNE 13

Plans for the first annual all-Y picnic, to be held Friday, June 13, at Hager's grove beginning at 5 o'clock were outlined at a committee meeting held last night at the Y. M. C. A. Outlines predict a big event for the entire Y. M. C. A. family.

The picnic is planned to bring together the families, including wives and children, of all persons affiliated with the Y. M. C. A. and with the women's and girls' work, under auspices of the Y. W. C. A. Each family will provide its own picnic lunch and coffee and buns will be sold at a small cost. A girls' group will conduct a candy sale.

Preliminary plans call for a wide range of activity for the boys and girls, with water sports, track and field events, volleyball and baseball games all on the program. In the water events, the boys' and girls' life saving corps will participate. Additional stunts will also be arranged.

A big campfire, replete with stunts and group singing, will be finale for the picnic. Short talks will be made around the fire and awards for track events will be presented.

The committee in charge of the picnic includes: C. A. Page, William McGilchrist, Sr., J. B. Cray, L. E. Barrick, Mrs. Elizabeth Gallaher of the Y. W., two representatives each from the junior and young men's division, R. B. Boardman, Ivan White and Ben Riekl.

Everett Gardner Writes of Life at Cape Cod Home

KEIZER, June 6.—One of Keizer's foremost young men is Everett Gardner, who is attending Boston Theological university. During his summer vacation he is domiciled with a family out near the shore of Cape Cod Bay.

In a letter written to his family in Keizer he says in part: "Everything is so beautiful here. We are away back in the woods although right along the water. The little shippers are as large as a dollar, buttercups are thick. You can look across the bay and see summer homes dotted all around the edge. We are just a little way from the end of the Cape Cod canal and the New York-Boston boats go within a quarter of a mile of the house. About 9 p. m. a big passenger boat goes down. You can hear the people talk, see them dancing, etc. It is a beautiful sight to see that big boat with powerful searchlights go past."

Yesterday morning when I went out to empty the ashes, the tide was nearly in. The wind was just lightly rousing the surface and the sun was banked by some clouds. Everything around me was very fresh and beautiful. But with all the beauties there Everett is homesick for Oregon and he would be perfectly satisfied to hear the whistle of the boat that plies the Willamette near his Keizer home.

Special Session Consideration of Treaty Approved

WASHINGTON, June 6.—(AP)—Dispute over the procedure for consideration of the London naval treaty was ended today when Senator Watson, Indiana, republican leader, announced finally it would be taken up by the senate in the special session proposed by President Hoover.

Watson's announcement was made after talks with President Hoover and Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee. It ended the discussion which started yesterday for disposing of the treaty in the regular session.

N. Y. Contractor Killed in Crash

Bittner and son, Thomas Osburn, drove to Corvallis taking with them their house guests, Mrs. Edward Rendles and Mrs. Ernest McCauley of Portland. In Corvallis they visited Mr. and Mrs. Peters and Mr. Dolly Fouch and took dinner with Mr.

CHICKEN THIEVES Operate Widely Police Believe

That farmers of this vicinity have been the victims of a highly organized and widely operating gang of chicken thieves is the opinion of Oregon City police officers.

Two men were arrested when they attempted to sell leg banded fowls. Their names would not be disclosed by the officers because they fear that other members of the gang will escape when they learn that their companions have been caught.

The chickens have the following legbands: B series numbers 59798, 59800, 59795, 59780, 59787, 59785, 59788, 59799, 59793, 53014, 53011, 53030, 53034, 54012, 53006, 53031, 53028, 53032, and A series 24170.

Chicken thefts have been numerous in Lin county recently and the officers believe that they can link up the arrested men with some of these crimes.

PUPILS ENJOY TALK ON OREGON HISTORY

SALEM HEIGHTS, June 6.—Mrs. B. G. Merrill of route 4 visited the Salem Heights grade school Thursday and submitted to the requests of the upper grades that she again give them a talk on pioneer Oregon history.

Mrs. Merrill's talk was a continuation of one she gave several weeks ago and contained personal experiences with the Indians and school teaching of the early days. She told how her husband's father, Joseph Merrill, was six months in making the trip from Illinois to Oregon in 1847 and also compared the modern school with the first one in which she taught—a long cabin school with punchcoen floor.

It being Mrs. Merrill's birthday, she was presented with a large poster, done by the upper grades depicting Oregon pioneer life, with the request that she again, at some future date talk to them.

Home Moved by Tractor Power

AMITY, June 6.—Tuesday morning, Joe Stullenberger moved his cottage from its former location south of a vacant lot in the north part of town, a distance of about a mile.

Joe had outfitted his house with a complete set of rollers and a sort of a steering rudder and moved by the power of a tractor. The cottage is now located on Stanley street by the city park. He plans to occupy the transplanted home soon.

Los Angeles In Million Class

LOS ANGELES, June 6.—The 1930 census of Los Angeles tonight was announced at 1,231,730 an increase over 1920 of 655,057 or 113.5 per cent. The growth probably is the largest of any major city in the United States.

A CORRECTION

In the story of writing awards won by Keizer pupils a typographical error was made so that Harriet Minturn and Blanche Betzer were not credited with having won improvement certificates. These certificates are the highest awards that can be won by a sixth grade pupil.

SALEM HEIGHTS SHOW EXHIBITS

Excellent Work Done During Year is Revealed at Exposition

SALEM HEIGHTS, June 6.—Wednesday evening the Salem Heights grade school held its annual school exhibit. There was a very large attendance at the school house and some very exceptional work was shown. Each room and the large hall was beautifully decorated with large baskets and vases of flowers of all kinds prettily arranged.

An excellent program was held, many students contributing their part. Josephine Albert of Salem favored the audience with two solos which were especially well received. Miss Marjory Miller and Miss Price of Willamette university taught special classes in music at the Heights school this year, gave several musical numbers which were greatly appreciated. Ethel McCoy's room, a splendid exhibit consisting of: "House of Health", Circus Parade, Dutch sand table, posters of children of other lands, weaving and arithmetic and spelling booklets.

Harriet Zoel's room, third and fourth grades, had many and unique exhibits consisting of: A farm table, table of products of United States with ribbons giving location on map. Posters of how people work and live in all countries, art work in crayola and drawing; exhibition of spelling certificate, also of gold medal won by her room in third grade county spelling contest; writing and original stories.

Agnes Booth's room, fifth and sixth grades contained many interesting exhibits, among them being a house and furniture project. This consisted of a cross section of a modern house showing in detail construction and furnishings. This was built by the boys of her room. Also very attractive history, geography and health posters and notebooks on picture study and geography.

Cecil Wierand's room, seventh and eighth grades, presented in-

Chicken Thieves Visit Farms in Keizer District

KEIZER, June 6.—Chicken thieves are becoming active in this community. Charles Weathers reported having lost about 60 black giant chickens the other night.

Other places visited were Ray Betzer's and Joe Bart-ruff's. Time for farmers to fix up the old automatic shot gun and watch!

Interesting and especially well executed exhibits of posters depicting presidential administrations, and important historical events. Posters of English, geography of countries studied, products, etc., posters on civics and an excellent array of notebooks on history, English, geography, and picture study.

Perhaps the most outstanding exhibition was the art section consisting of water colors, charcoal, pencil, pen and ink, crayola and oil painting of the fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth grade pupils under the direction of Agnes Booth. There were 65 oil paintings in one section, some of them being copies of well known artists and very creditably done. Mrs. D. D. Craig, Mrs. F. M. Erickson, Mrs. E. E. Pruitt, and Mrs. H. F. Zinsler poured tea during the evening.

River Rushes in New Channel as Engineers Plan

ABERDEEN, Wash., June 6.—(AP)—The boisterous Hoh river on the Olympic peninsula roared through a new channel today after state highway engineers performed a bit of plastic surgery on mother nature.

Fountain fish flapped in the series of shallow pools left after power shovels opened a new course for the stream.

The surgery was for practical rather than aesthetic purposes. The river had eaten away a quarter of a mile of new highway and was threatening an additional stretch. The new channel 200 feet wide and 15 feet deep leads straight across a big bend.

In an executive it's Leadership

in a cigarette it's Taste

KNOWING WHAT TO DO—and doing it—that's what carries a man up... and a cigarette, too. PUTTING FIRST THINGS FIRST—good taste, uniform quality, aroma, flavor—Chesterfield's popularity is built on knowing what smokers want... and giving it unflinchingly. TASTE—THAT'S THE ANSWER and that's what smokers get in Chesterfield in fullest measure—the flavor and aroma of mellow tobaccos, exactly blended and cross-blended, all to a single, satisfying end... "TASTE above everything".

We state it as our honest belief that the tobaccos used in Chesterfield cigarettes are of finer quality and hence of better taste than in any other cigarette at the price. LIGGETT & MYERS TOBACCO CO.

Your Wife

Do not burden your wife with the settling of your estate. It is not a woman's job to handle and liquidate your business, appraise the assets, and invest and re-invest the funds. She will have other responsibilities at home. It will be both wise and considerate to free her from this difficult task and appoint this old, experienced institution as your executor.
