MARION, June 19.—Elzie Pickard has again demonstrated his ability to produce Jersey stock of the highest productive type the evidence in this case being the awarding of a gold medal to Glow Darling, 628227, on completion of her second production record of 706.68 pounds of fat and 12,855 pounds of milk in 305 days. Mr. Pickard started this fine Jersey on her gold medal record at the age of six years and six months. During the ten months of test Glow Darling's milk averaged 5.47 percent fat and she carried calf 200 days at the time, qualifying for her gold medal in class AAA. Every complete month of test she yielded 100 pounds of milk above the 57 pound mark, and in her highest month her production of fat was 85 pounds.

At the age of three years Glow Darling was first tested and in the ensuing 365 days she made a silver medal record of 584.51 pounds of fat and 9,667 pounds of milk in class AA.

FELLER IN LIMELIGHT

Woodburn Man Tries to Drive With 3 Wheels NONCHALANCE NOTED

WOODBURN, June 19.—Frank Feller, elderly Woodburn resident who about a year ago attracted much public attention by stopping his car on the railroad track with the train approaching while he calmly lit his pipe, has broken into the limelight again.

Frank Feller was driving east on Lincoln street Tuesday night when a West Woodburn man named Elkins, driving a truck load of potatoes, crashed into him as he was driving north on Front street. The two cars traveled together in a general northwesterly direction, with the truck halting on the railroad track which runs parallel with Front street. Feller's car stopped just west of the track, minus one front wheel.

Nothing daunted, Feller started to back away from the scene without further comment. Failing to go backward, he tried going forward with the same result. Eventually a bystander prevailed upon him to dismount and examine the car.

Very reluctantly, he then took steps to bring help from elsewhere.

Elkins was uninjured physically and Feller was absolutely undaunted mentally, emotionally and physically.

The truck was removed from the tracks before the next train arrived.

COUNCIL OBJECTS TO COMPANY POLES

System of Using "Stubs" is Cause For Ire From Woodburn Solons

WOODBURN, June 19.—A disagreement between the Woodburn city council and the Northwest Public Service company developed at a meeting of the city council here Tuesday night. The electric company has had a crew of men working here "stubbying" its poles. Large new poles were inserted into the ground alongside the old poles, which were becoming decayed at the lower ends, and fastened to the old poles to keep them in place.

There has been a city ordinance since 1912 prohibiting this practice, and the electric company was roundly criticized for violating the ordinance. The objection to the "stubs" is that they are unsightly. It was decided that a communication would be sent the company demanding the removal of all "stubs."
