NEW TRUCK STARTS DELIVERIES

The Gilmore tank truck rival fire trucks for speed and beauty which will deliver Gilmore Blue-Green gasoline to independent dealers. Standing near the truck are: A. L. Bradley, division manager, Cy Prummer, division manager, Bert Williams, division manager, Don MacPherson, Pacific Northwest district manager and C. B. Beesmyer, vice president of the Gilmore Oil Company Ltd.

GILMORE STARTS GAS DISTRIBUTION

The Gilmore Oil company Saturday inaugurated distribution of its patented Blue-Green gasoline through independent service stations in Salem and vicinity.

This step is one in the company's program of expansion throughout the northwest, which calls for an expenditure of more than $1,000,000. The coming of this company brings another active force in the community activity of Salem.

"Gilmore Blue-Green gasoline has met with unprecedented popularity in Oregon and Washington following its big success in California," says Bert Williams, division manager for the company.

"In the month of May 6,350,000 gallons were sold on the Pacific coast or an increase of more than 5000 percent in about two years time.

"This gasoline is unlike any other motor fuel. It contains a patented formula that loosens the carbon chemically and causes it to be removed from the combustion chamber with the exhaust gases. It runs at a very low temperature also, inspiring against motor heating.

"We give a guarantee that it will remove carbon accumulations. This guarantee is printed in all our advertisement, posted in all independent stations handling Gilmore Blue-Green gasoline and is on the pump that is painted cream and red, for your protection.

"We are an independent company and for 25 years we have merchandised our products sold through the independent channels. The independent dealer is entitled to the community's support because he is an integral part of the community.
