

JONES CLAN HOLDS REUNION

Woodburn Scene of Annual Family Gathering on Sunday

WOODBURN, June 23—More than 125 members of the S. W. R. Jones pioneer family gathered Sunday at Woodburn for the sixth annual reunion.

Plans for early publication of a book that will detail the record of the family from early colonial days were presented by Mrs. Grace Austin of Woodburn, president. Figures promising in revolutionary days were forebears Harold's family that did pioneer duty in frontiers from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Officers chosen were, Mrs. Austin, president; Mrs. Alma Morgan of Portland, vice-president; Mrs. R. E. Jones, secretary; and Mrs. Sylvia Brizey, treasurer; and Mrs. M. L. Jones of Salem, only surviving member of the family of twelve that arrived in Oregon 77 years ago, recalled the address of welcome. He recalled many interesting incidents of pioneer times. Response was made by Harold, West of Oakland. Short talks were made by James Jones, Betty Jones, Peggy Cannon and Ben Jones.

Young people had charge of the program that followed. Gertrude Cannon of Portland gave two original poems and a piano number. Readings were given by Keith Jones of Brooks and Janice Jones of Eugene. A dance number was presented by Patricia Jones of Eugene. Short recitations and songs were given by Winifred Brizey, Alma Day and Joanne Farmer, Franklyn Hudson, Don Tombs, Clara Tombs, Dale and Elmer Jones, Neva Ramp, Lavonne Jones and others. A pageant in miniature was given in costume by a dog trained by Greta Harris.

The military record of the family, which has had representation in every war from the American revolution to the recent world conflict, was read by Elton Jones of Portland.

Mrs. Scott Jones of Gervais told of family doings for the past year.

Lowest Type of Thief May Fail to Enjoy the Lilies

STAYTON, June 23—Stayton has a "meaneast man" or perhaps a woman. A certain Stayton resident visited the cemetery to see how the Santiam lilies, planted on the family plot were doing. A wonderful clump of lilies was found, blooming in profusion. A day or two later, going back to the cemetery to again view the lilies, it was found that some one had dug them all up.

It is said that these lilies should never be dug while in bloom, as it is quite likely that whoever got them will not get to enjoy them. What could be said of one who steals from a grave would not look well in print.
