

Three Americans Listed in Last Eight at Wimbledon

CURT COMMENTS

Sherman Lockwood and Stanley Almquist of the University of Oregon will play in the doubles finals of the national collegiate tennis tournament today. Win or lose, they come nearest to a national championship that Oregon has gained this year.

We presume that the enthusiastic backers of the Lemon-Yellow are properly jubilant over the showing made by Lockwood and Almquist. But we haven't heard any stir from the local contingent. We have dozens of telephone calls to the news room every night that a big sport event is under way, but not one inquiry have we had as to what progress Oregon's entries in the national tennis tourney were making.

No, we aren't claiming that the old fight which spreads a colorful glamour about the Eugene institution of higher learning is dead; neither do we believe nobody is interested in tennis.

We are just mentioning all this to point the moral that colleges cannot, in the nature of things, experience the personal pride in their golf and tennis teams that they do in their football, basketball, baseball and track teams. Because, you see, the golf and tennis players belong to the school but their proficiency does not. That was acquired elsewhere.

Four or five years ago we saw Stanley Almquist, a mere strapping, paired with Herb Suhr of San Francisco, win the doubles championship of Oregon. He was a prep school kid in California at the time, but he could play rings around any of Oregon's tennis experts, collegiate or otherwise.

The point is that college tennis and golf players acquire their proficiency independently; whereas the theory is, and it works out in practice sufficiently to retain credence, that football teams and the like are products of the institution they represent, and those institutions take corresponding pride in them.

Tell a college man his school's tennis team won a national championship and he says "Oh yeah" in tones of forced pleasure; tell him his football team won from some jerkwater outfit and he goes crazy.

Speaking of tennis, we knew away last spring this boy Corey, who yesterday won the city championship, was going to be good. Well, we weren't playing very good tennis that day, anyway.

MANGIN BEATS BRITISH STAR

Victory Over Bunny Austin Feature of Friday's Court Upsets

By FRANK H. KING
WIMBLEDON, ENGLAND, June 27.—(AP)—Three youthful Americans rose to brilliant tennis heights today to win their way into the quarter final round of the Wimbledon championships as they dealt a blow to England's titular aspirants.

Wilmer Allison, the young Texan, and the equally youthful Johnny Doeg from California and Gregory Mangin, Newark, N. J., won their way into the last eight along with Henri Cochet, the wiry little defender, champion from France at the expense of the English, Big Bill Tilden, ace of the Americans, and George Lott, United States No. 4 ranking player, may increase the United States' representation in the final eight as but when they meet their British opponents in the fourth round tomorrow.

American Women Win Impressively
Mrs. Helen Wills Moody and Helen Jacobs, America's ranking women stars, sailed through their matches today. Mrs. Moody made short work of her match with Miss M. Canter, Holland, 6-0, 6-1, while Miss Jacobs defeated Mrs. W. D. List, England, 6-0, 6-1.

Of the three American men who won today, Mangin had the hardest fight and covered himself with the greatest glory by defeating H. W. Austin, Britain's foremost singles star, 9-7, 10-8, 6-0.

Allison and G. P. Hughes, English Davis cup team member, carried on an exciting match, each battling for the advantage at the net but the swift Texan finally emerged with the honors winning 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Tilden Advances In Doubles Play
Doeg's powerful southpaw service and volleying compensated for his lapses on ground strokes, and the Californian brought in the third American singles victory as he defeated H. P. David, England, 6-3, 6-3, 6-1.

America's supremacy in the singles failed to carry over into the doubles although they managed to break even. Tilden advanced in two phases of play. Paired with his Dutch partner H. Timmer, he defeated Pierre Landry and Grandguillot, a French combination, 8-6, 4-6, 4-6, 6-1, 6-4. With Fraulein Chilli Aussem of Germany as his partner, the American ace downed J. Van Der Heide and Miss M. R. Couquerque 6-4, 6-4.

Latonia Derby Today; Gallant Knight Favorite

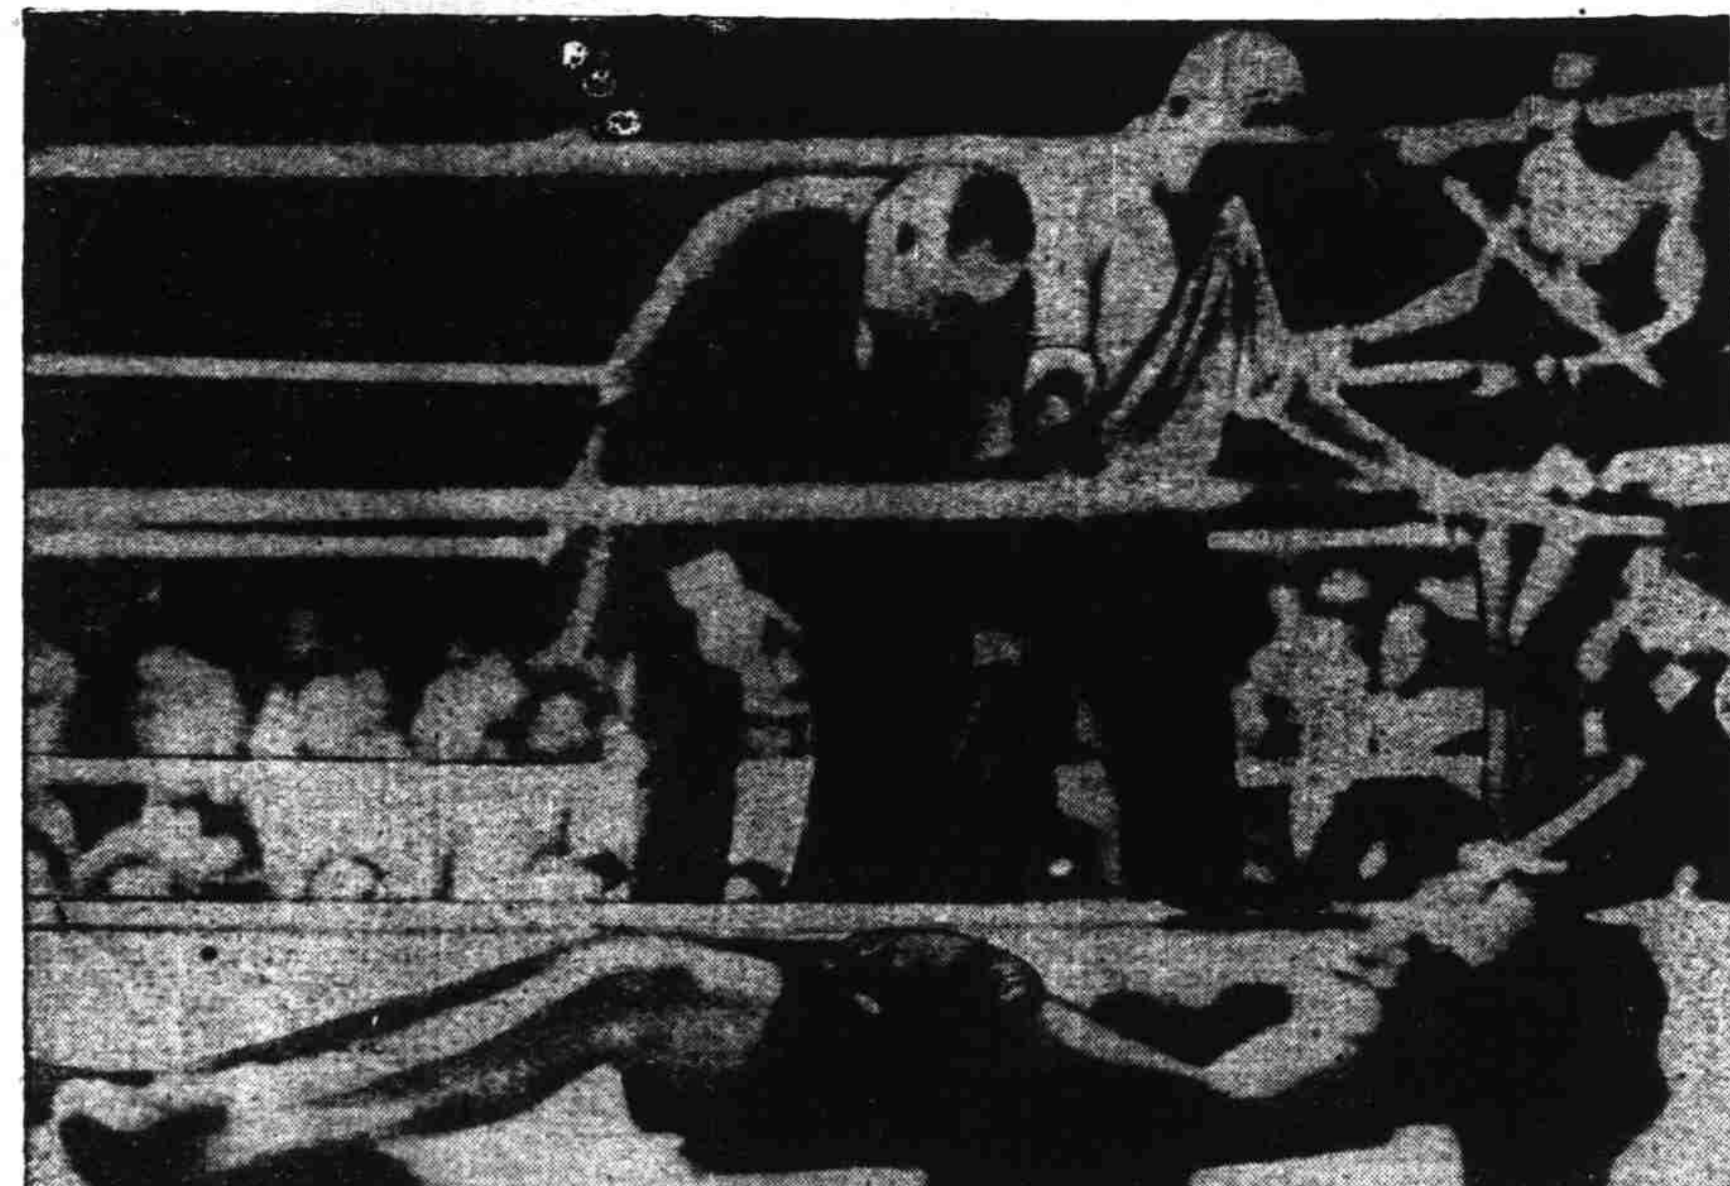

LATONIA, Ky., June 27.—(AP)—The forty eighth renewal of the Latonia derby, worth $25,000 added, for three year olds, will feature the opening tomorrow of Latonia's 37-day summer thoroughbred meeting.

Of 108 nominations the starting field was reduced to eight with Gallant Knight, which finished second to Gallant Fox in the Kentucky derby, established as the favorite. Second choice was Bezonian and third Revellie Boy.

Golf Tournament Will Be Next in Junior Program

Following the city wide boys' tennis tournament completed this week the Y. M. C. A. plans to sponsor a similar golf tourney to include probably two age groups, Clinton Vincent, Bob Utter and Win Needham are in charge of the event which will probably be played the week after the Fourth of July. Details of the tourney have not been worked out.

Towering Alp Laid Low by Godfrey's Foul

Telephone over Bell System of Primo Carnera-George Godfrey fight, shows the man-mountain, Carnera, stretched out on the canvas after the foul blow delivered by Godfrey in the fifth round. Bending over Carnera are Dr. J. Webb Vaughan, who examined Carnera and called the blow foul, and referee Tommy Riley of Philadelphia, who said that Godfrey deliberately delivered the blow. Godfrey is shown resting against the ropes in the other corner.

OREGON PAIR WIN TO NATIONAL FINAL

HAVERFORD, Pa., June 27.—(AP)—The last of the Californians was squeezed from the national inter-collegiate singles tennis championship today while a player from the deep south and another from the east remain to clash for the title tomorrow.

Dolf Muehleisen, University of California, met defeat in the semi-finals but forced Julius Seligson, Lehigh, to struggle through five sets before he succumbed 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, 12-10, 6-4. Seligson, seeded No. 1, and winner of this tournament two years ago, California, defeated Eddie Jacobs and David O'Laughlin, Pittsburgh, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6 in one semi-final.

This pair will meet in the final tomorrow Stanley Almquist and Sherman Lockwood, University of Oregon, who triumphed over Suter and Maurice Bayon, Tulane, 10-12, 6-4, 6-4, 5, 7, 7, 5, in the other semi final.

California was not shut out of the picture altogether for the doubles team of Muehleisen and Robert Muench, University of California, defeated Eddie Jacobs and David O'Laughlin, Pittsburgh, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6 in one semi-final.

First Double Header in Twilight Leagues Played As State House Loses Two

For the first time in the history of the local twilight leagues, a double header was played Friday night, result not of design but accident. The American Legion defeated the Statehouse team 6 to 3 and the state employees were equally luckless in the second game, losing to the Elks 1 to 0.

Legion and Statehouse were scheduled to play but somebody misread the schedule and thought that particular game had already been played, so the Elks were called in to play the Legion instead. All three teams showed up and after the schedule was straightened out, it was decided to play two four-inning games.

In the first one, the Legion scored one run in the first inning, and five in the second. The Statehouse got two in the first on Burch's two bagger and Hoover's homer and another in the third on hits by Erickson and McLean.

The second game was a rapid affair, the Elks' lone tally coming in the fourth with none out when Shultz and Fabry walked and Delmer Russell singled to bring Shultz home.

MEDALISTS REACH COLLEGIATE FINALS

OAKMONT, Pa., June 27.—(AP)—The collegiate golf championship of 1930 has demonstrated that the medalist in the qualifying round is not always jinxed in match play. The current competition had George T. Dunlap Jr., Princeton and Lawrence Moller, Notre Dame, medalists, and they are the only survivors in the record field.

Dunlap had a comparatively easy road today, winning from Winston Fuller, Southern California, 8 up and 7 to play in a 36-hole match but Moller had to battle for 37 holes before he got down a birdie four at the extra hole to eliminate Phillips Finlay, Harvard captain.

Former Caddy in Tourney Finals

PORTLAND, Ore., June 27.—(AP)—Bill Blaustus, a former caddy at the Waverly country club, Portland, and W. A. Norby, Eastmoreland municipal course veteran, today won their way to the finals of the first annual Pacific northwest links golf championship tournament.
