VARIETY KEYNOTE TO VARIED CAREER OF McSHERRY, NOW SECRETARY TO GOV. NORBLAD

Newspaper Work and Ownership Mixed With Service in State Capital

By OLIVE DOAK

When one steps into the office of the chief executive of Oregon these days and asks to see the governor one is met by a grey-eyed Scotchman whose smooth, deep voice and pleasant smile immediately assure the inquirer that all is well and stirs hope that the governor is just waiting to see him.

As, that hope is not to live long for the governor is one of the busiest men in the state of Oregon, and to see him requires an appointment unless one gets a "lucky break" and happens to find him with a spare moment. If it is at all possible the governor sees those who would appeal to the sacred ear of the government. People's troubles are real to them and if talking to the governor for a minute assuages the pain or lessens the difficulty a bit and there is a minute to spare they are given that opportunity.

Irl S. McSherry

McSherry "Buffer" — Something, however, is not possible to be passed on to the governor under any sensible circumstances. If some one wants to explain to this busy executive how he can improve his office with a cross-section of paper folded according to a certain rule of insanity and carried in a certain pocket during certain hours—then the Scotchman who is Irl S. McSherry, private secretary to Governor A. W. Norblad, comes into the breach and acts as the "buffer" between the folk who go away feeling that after all it was not so bad not to have seen the executive for "that young man" was so kind—in other words they had been listened to in a kindly fashion and that is what the people with "schemes" need most.

The "buffer" has to act in all manner of capacities for there are times when the governor has to divide himself as it were, and then it is that his secretary has to step in and listen to folk whom the governor cannot see for sheer lack of time. The "buffer" must be able to act in all manner of capacities for there are times when the governor has to divide himself as it were, and then it is that his secretary has to step in and listen to folk whom the governor cannot see for sheer lack of time. The "buffer" must be able to act in all manner of capacities for there are times when the governor has to divide himself as it were, and then it is that his secretary has to step in and listen to folk whom the governor cannot see for sheer lack of time.

CANNERIES NOT TO SLACK UP HOLIDAY

Perishable Fruits Call for Immediate Attention; Quality Better

Holidays mean nothing when perishable fruits need to be taken care of so most Salem canneries will work both July 4 and 5.

Hunt Brothers, Reid Murdoch and Paulus Brothers will work both days, probably all day. Northwest Packing company, Oregon Packing company and Starr Fruit Products will work July 8 but not July 4 and 5.

Cherries, logan berries and red raspberries are all being packed this week. The cherries are of better quality than those brought in last week and the loganberries are turning out much better than was anticipated.

VOTERS FACING HEAVY BALLOT

13 Measures, 10 of Them to Change Constitution, Legally Filed

Ten proposed constitutional amendments and three measures will be on the ballot at the November election, according to announcement made at the state department when the time for filing completed petitions expired Thursday night.

Only three constitutional amendments, other than those referred by the legislature and by referendum, will be on the November ballot. Completed petitions for two of these amendments were filed in the state department today. One of these authorizes the creation of people's water and power utility districts, while the other provides for the election of a lieutenant governor.

Completed petitions for the third constitutional amendment, which prohibits the manufacture, sale, possession or giving away of cigarettes in the state of Oregon, were filed a week ago.

The ballot measure that will appear on the November ballot other than those referred by the legislature, is one closing the Rogue river to commercial fishing. Completed petitions for this measure were filed yesterday.

BUS SOUTH OF CITY TO BE DISCONTINUED

Patronage Does Not Cover Half Operation Costs, Says Manager

Announcement that Pacific Greyhound Lines, Inc. would discontinue the city bus line on the Liberty road south of Salem beginning Sunday, was made here Thursday by R. W. Lemen, local manager of the concern.

After Sunday the terminus of the South Commercial street line will be at Judson street, one block south of the city limits. Lemen said Thursday that patronage on the Liberty road to the Salem Heights schoolhouse has decreased to such a point that receipts hardly cover half of the operating costs.

15-Minute Schedule In

Beginning Monday morning the street buses will run on a 15-minute schedule until 6:30 p. m. and on a 20-minute schedule from that time until 11:30. Buses will leave Hoyt and Commercial streets at 2, 27, 42 and 57 minutes past the hour and will leave State and Commercial and Fairgrounds road on their present schedules. Sunday there will be 20-minute service on Commercial street with buses leaving Hoyt and Commercial at 1, 20 and 40 minutes past the hour and 11:50 a. m. and Commercial at 10:30 and 50 minutes past the hour. Week days a bus will leave Salem Heights at 6:22 a. m.

Passengers from the district of the bus line will be served by the regular highway buses picking up passengers at Fairview avenue and the Liberty road junction and discharging them at the terminal at the Senator hotel. The schedule of the highway stages is: northbound, leave Liberty road junction at 8:50, 9:50, 10:50 and 11:50 a. m. and at 1:50, 2:50, 3:50, 5:30, 6:50, 8:30 and 10:05 p. m. Southbound, leave Senator hotel at 7:10, 8:40 and 11:10 a. m., and at 1:10, 2:10, 3:40, 5:10, 6:10, 8:10, 9:10 and 11:10 p. m.

Grays Harbor Defense Is Up To Artillery

The defense of the Grays Harbor sector will be the first problem to attract the attention of officials at the annual instruction encampment of headquarters officers of the 41st division, starting at Fort Lewis, Wash., today and continuing 15 days.

There will be an hypothetical attack by land and air.

Major General White, commander of the division, and Lieutenant Colonel Rilea, adjutant general of the division, will leave tomorrow for Fort Lewis. Fifty officers from Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming will attend.

The encampment will be devoted almost entirely to a study of higher tactics, including use of divisions, corps and field armies, principles and theories to be worked out without troops.

ZONTA WOMEN HEAR REPORTS

8-Hour Working Day For All Women Approved at International Meet

Echoes of the International Zonta convention held the latter part of last week in Seattle were brought to the membership of the local Zonta club at the regular meeting last night by the four members who attended. That the convention was a success throughout, from entertainment to results accomplished was evident from the reports.

Mrs. Ora McIntyre, president of the local club and official delegate to the convention, sketched highlights of the sessions, stressing the felling of the convention that the Zontians are becoming particularly interested in the older working woman's problems.

Classification Discussed

Classification questions within the club membership and backing of an international eight-hour working day for women were discussed thoroughly at the annual meeting.

Numerous tokens given by the various clubs at the convention were displayed at the dinner last night.

The 1931 meeting of the international will probably be held in Cleveland, Ohio, the convention speakers reported, with Los Angeles and Washington, D. C., vying for the 1932 honors.

All four local delegates accorded praise to Olivia Johnson of St. Paul, retiring president.
