YOUTHS ALOFT OVER 23 DAYS

John and Kenneth Hunter Beat Former Record by 133 Hours

have stayed longer." Newspaper reporters and cameramen were not so fortunate. They had no chance against the surging, hysterical throng. It was only by luck the first "flash" telling of the landing was elicited over the uncontrollable spectators managed to shove their way into the hangar and tear away the wires. They were speedily repaired and the hurried writers were able to get their stories of the landing and the subsequent bedlam to the hundreds of waiting newspapers.

GUARD CAPTURES RUM BOAT

Customs inspectors and revenue officers pictured unloading a speedboat captured at Jones Inlet, R. I., after a chase and the firing of one solid shot by the Coast Guards through the fugitive's cabin.

Oil Spurring on Men at the Last
Ten minutes after the landing, police managed to clear a path and drag the film into an office where they were taken for pictures and had their first chance to relax.

Kenneth, oil splattered, unshaven, but smiling, said it was a keen disappointment to have been forced down, but added it would have been too risky to attempt staying up any longer. "We had hoped to keep going at least until tomorrow," he said. "But when the oil screen clogged and the engine quit, we thought the only thing to do was to come down. The oil was spurring back on us pretty bad."

"We sure are tickled to death with our new record but what we want most right now is a bath and rest."

Neither had any definite idea concerning their future.

"Just give me a bath," exclaimed Kenneth. "You don't know how much you miss one until you do without for three or four weeks." He revealed neither he nor John had bathed during the whole time of their flight although he said they had shaved occasionally.

After a brief rest the two pilots and their brothers, Walter and Albert, who manned the refueling plane, were escorted to the top of the hangar and introduced to the crowd amid cheers. It was announced they would be taken to a Loop hotel for an overnight rest and the crowd was invited to join in an automobile parade to the Loop.

The holiday crowd lost no time in falling in line for the triumphal procession to town.

Kenneth had to borrow a pair of trousers before he could remove his grimy overalls. He explained he had torn the leg from his pants to use as a rag.

CAME FROM BEIRUT, SYRIA TO INFORM SALEM PEOPLE ABOUT PROPER FOOTWEAR

Found Willamette Valley Much Like His Old Home; in Climate, at Least

By OLIVE DOAK
A man who came all the way from Beirut, Syria, to Salem, to put the right kind of shoes on the right person is E. W. Acklin, manager of the Foot Health Shoe company.

No, he did not just come from there. To be exact he came from Syria when he was only 11 years old and has never been back, although he says his one dream of the greatest pleasure possible would be to take a trip around the world and pay a long visit to the lovely Beirut, which Mr. Acklin says, is much like the Willamette valley in climate.

Started to Portland
He came straight to Portland from Syria to be with his uncle, G. B. Darowish, who was in business in Portland. He worked with his uncle in the drygoods business for several years, and then at the age of 14, Mr. Darowish started him in business for himself at Estacada, Oregon. Here he remained for two years, the 14 year old proprietor of his own store.

But for a boy he was too prosperous. He decided he wanted to travel and see a bit of the United States. Therefore he gave up the store and went to St. Louis, Missouri where he soon started work in an importing house selling oriental rugs. Was this not rather specialized work for a youth of 16? Perhaps for a youth brought up differently from Mr. Acklin, but said he, "those rugs were just like home to me" and knowing about them as he did he was able to sell them.

In Spokane Long Time
When he was 18 years old he returned to the west this time settling in Spokane. Here he began the work of getting the right shoes and the right people together and continued this business until 1929 when he took over the agency of a special line of shoes in Salem.

Mr. Acklin is married. This occurred in Spokane. He has one daughter, 16 years old; he is a Lion, belongs to the chamber of commerce and he and his family are members of the Episcopalian church. Aside from selling shoes Mr. Acklin says fishing and hunting are about the best occupations of which he can think. And in his estimation there could not be a more perfect country in the world to follow the lure of hunting and fishing than the Willamette valley. "Why?" he concluded with a flash of humor in his very merry eyes which half hide themselves behind rather heavy eyebrows, "why don't they call this valley the paradise of the United States?"

by Cody Evans, Salem.

Three mile motorcycle race: Evans, first; Bernie Carver, Aberdeen, second; Red Dahlberg, Portland, third; Ray Grant, Portland, fourth.

Five-mile motorcycle race: Evans, first; Dahlberg, second; Carver, third; Grant, fourth.

Relay race: John Weed's string firm; Arnold Mays' string second.

One of the most amusing stunts of the afternoon was the balloon bursting event by men on motorcycles. Each machine had a passenger besides the driver. As the passenger had to beat and break balloons which were floating overhead. A team of George John and Reggie Fulton won the first and Francis Wilder and Chas. Rice the second.

A motorcycle polo game was another attraction. Airplanes performed in front of the grandstand.

In the morning a band concert was given by the Salem municipal band featuring patriotic numbers. Dr. P. O. Riley of Hubbard read the immortal Declaration of Independence.

Biddy Bishop has had general charge of the celebration.

Carol's Divorce To Be Annulled Soon, Is Report

BUCHAREST, July 4.—(AP)—Within ten days the divorce decree separating King Carol II and Queen Helen will be annulled by the Rumanian courts, it was learned today.

Legal proceedings leading to the annulment will be opened next week. The chief plea for it will be the written protest of King Carol's lawyer at the time the decree was pronounced. In this protest Carol declared he did not recognize the divorce.

When the decree has been annulled King Carol will take up his summer residence at the royal palace in Sinaia with Queen Helen and their son Michael.

Go to McMinnville — Mrs. Madeline L. Callin is spending the weekend in McMinnville with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Logan.

Go to Cottage Grove — Miss Grace MacGeorge of the automobile department spent the Fourth at her home in Cottage Grove.

Goes to Turner — Miss Laura Koko secretary in the W. G. Kruseger realty office, spent yesterday with her parents in Turner.

At Breitenbush — Mrs. Luanna G. Beavis of the adjutant general's office, spent the holiday at Breitenbush.

AMERICANS IN ALL OF TENNIS FINALS

Jacques Brugnon 2-4, 3-6, 6-3, 6-1.

Allison will not have to play two hard final matches in one day, as the doubles play will be set over to Monday afternoon. Besides Allison and Tilden, the other title play tomorrow will pit Mrs. Moody and Miss Ryan against Edith Cross, of San Francisco, and Sarah Palfrey, Boston member in the women's doubles final, while Jack Crawford and Miss Ryan will play Daniel Fenn and Miss Krahwiakel for the mixed doubles championship.

Thus the finalists in men's singles and doubles, and women's singles and doubles are all Americans while Miss Ryan is in the mixed doubles.

ALLPORT STRICKEN AT HOLIDAY PICNIC

Woolen Mills Overseer Dies While Being Rushed to Hospital

Tragedy intruded itself upon the Fourth of July picnic which the Allport family was enjoying yesterday afternoon at Hager's grove, and staking out took with it the life of Norman L. Allport, a resident of Salem for the past 33 years, save for eight years spent in Utah.

Mr. Allport, became suddenly stricken while at the grove, and passed away about 5 o'clock as members of the family were rushing him to a hospital. Death was due to acute indigestion.

Norman L. Allport, a native of Canada, came to Salem when 18 years old, staying here until about 1915, when with his family he moved to Provo, Utah, to work as overseer in the card room of the Knighton woolen mills there. Returning to Salem in 1923, he has since been employed in a similar position with the Thos. Kay woolen mills here.

He was a member of the Artisan lodge here.

Mr. Allport leaves his father, Thomas Allport of Salem; his widow, Mrs. Augusta C. Allport; six sons: Emil, Carl, Thomas, Norman, Donald and Lawrence, all of Salem; three daughters: Florence Allport and Mrs. Donald Lovell of Salem and Mrs. Alice Savage of Salt Lake City, Utah.

He also leaves the following sisters: Mrs. Flora Conger; Mrs. Wesley Hastings, Mrs. Carl Hulenberg and Mrs. Clara Manning, all of Salem; Mrs. Eleanor Conger of Portland; and Mrs. Ira Towler of Grants Pass.

Funeral arrangements had not been completed last night. The remains are at the Rigdon mortuary.

Here, There And Yon

Bits of Personal News Gleaned About Interesting People

"Following the fruit" accounts for presence in Salem for a week or so of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Young and their three children, San Bernardino, Calif. A boiler maker by trade, Young yielded this spring to the urge of his brother, L. A. Young, who had come north as fruit ripened for the past three years. The two families are handling some small orchards now being on the way back from the Dalles, where W. H. Young says there has been a wonderful cherry crop. W. H. Young says there is virtually nothing doing in the shops and oil wells around his home, which condition has thrown him out of his regular work. While here, a mishap occurred when their young son David fell and broke his left arm.

"We may be back" was the word Mr. and Mrs. George Hines of Los Angeles left at the municipal camp grounds Friday afternoon when they pulled out after a pleasant stay. They are making a leisurely tour of the coast, and will likely find a new home site on the trip.

How's this for a folk: Quaintance? Woodburn folk who read these lines may recall a Harry Quaintance who joined the 162nd Infantry brigade from Woodburn to go "over there." It's the same Harry Quaintance who, with his wife and 14-year-old son Robert, is out at the municipal camping grounds taking a vacation and forgetting San Francisco. The Quaintances have lived in the Bay city since 1922, but while he has a lucrative job there, handling S. P. advertising, they really don't like the California climate. They admit they don't. So each summer Mr. and Mrs. and Robert come to Oregon to forget California. Most of the time they spend on the trail, for every member of the family is keen about tramping, fishing and hunting. Soon they'll leave here to go into the Cascade mountains, with particular visits to be made at Elk and Clear lakes. In fact, when they get through hiking about, probably after the deer season, they plan to locate in Oregon.

They came out of the Dakotas; they went back; and right straight back—after a wind and dirt storm blew up—they came to Oregon. That's what Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Nichols of North Dakota, but probably permanently of Oregon, confided. Incidentally, they found one of the nicest ways to celebrate the Fourth; they packed a camp kit, threw it in their automobile and drove to the city camp grounds here to really celebrate the day. An show they say they enjoyed it. While here to give Oregon summers a trial, they are employed at the state tuberculosis hospital; they were through here last fall. That's when they went back, for they couldn't get used to Oregon showers.

SIX WORLD TRACK RECORDS IMPROVED

DALLAS, July 4.—(AP)—The flying feet of Stella Walsh, Cleveland flash, and the strong right arm of Mildred "Babe" Didrickson 17-year-old Dallas star, set five world's athletic records for women tumbling in the national A. U. track and field meet here today.

Running for the New York Central railway, Miss Walsh set new international marks in all three events in which she competed: the 100 and 200-yard dashes and the broad 7.9. She running the century in 11.1. She defeated the former record holder Betty Robinson, of Chicago, by two inches. The previous record was 11.2.

The first year in track and field wrecked the former world marks in the javelin and baseball throws and finished second to Miss Walsh in the broad jump. She threw a standard baseball 268 feet, 10 1/2 inches to beat the former mark by more than 10 feet.

A sixth world record out of the 11 events fell to the speedy 440 yard relay team from Milrose Athletic club, New York, which sped the distance in 49.4. The former record of 50 seconds was set by the Toronto Ladies' A. C. in 1927.

STOLEN AIRPLANE PLUNGES INTO BAY

ALAMEDA, Cal., July 4.—(AP)—A Travelair biplane belonging to the Alameda Flying club, taken from the airport without permission, plunged into San Francisco bay late today and disappeared beneath the surface. A few moments later only a few scraps of wreckage and a film of oil were to be found where the plane struck the water.

The number or names of the occupants were undetermined. The plane fell a mile opposite the Alameda airport. Pilots James Hennessey and Roy Varney at the controls of a San Francisco Air Perries Ltd. plane, said they saw it go into a power dive 800 to 1,000 feet above the water, they circled around the scene but could see no bodies. Then they flew to San Francisco and reported.

The unidentified pilot arrived at the field unnoticed. The airport was practically deserted, most of the pilots and mechanics having gone to the Oakland port to join in the welcome to Wing Commander Charles Kingsford-Smith.

BEIRUT, Syria.—(AP)—Every Syrian, male and female, between the ages of 14 and 60, was impressed into government service to help exterminate this year's locust plague.

William Muldoon, head of the New York boxing commission, refused to consent to place the name of Max Schmeling on the Muldoon-Tanney heavyweight trophy.

Two Girls Quit Institution; Are Soon Returned

Two girls out at the state feeble minded school declared independence anew yesterday, and last night about 10 o'clock took French leave of the school and authorities. They are:

Ethel Sargent, age 22, who left without a hat and wearing a red dotted work dress. She is of medium height.

Lillian Fimple, age 22, who also left the institution bareheaded. She wore a lavender colored work dress.

Local police were notified of their escape and Officer Victor apprehended the pair at Mission and 14th streets shortly after 1 o'clock this morning.

They were taken back to the school immediately.

The St. Louis Cardinals were hit with a series of injuries, including that of Frank Fruto, just after a string of consecutive victories had placed the club in the pennant race.

MANY BLAZES ADD TO FOURTH GLORY

Intermittent bombardment of firecrackers over the town yesterday caused little flurry, apparently, with the fire department called out extinguish but one blaze caused by such explosion. However, the firemen had plenty of exercise all in the space of a few minutes, with three calls coming in about 20 minutes.

Firecrackers which found their way to the roof of the residence at 24 North Church started a blaze, neighbors calling out the firemen at 3:30 o'clock; however, quick work of neighbors had the flame under control before the truck arrived and only a small hole was burnt in the roof. The occupants were away.

A chimney fire at the Cherry City bakery hurried the trucks out there, but the fire was out and the firemen back at the station in 15 minutes after the call.

The firemen had scarcely returned to the fire station when they were called out to Broadway again, this time at 1136 Broadway to extinguish another minor blaze.
