

HEALTH RESORT IS POPULAR

Many New Improvements Add to Beauty and Comfort of Breitenbush

feet further comes to the store. Thence the road leads past many new cottages to a bridge across the Breitenbush and on through giant fir trees, past more cottages and tent houses to come out on the open green. Here facing one is a large rocky base from which many springs constantly pour a stream of water.

Mineral Water Popular

Benches are placed along the edge of the rocks and here one may see at almost any hour during the season from one to six or seven or perhaps more people, each with a tin cup, drinking the health-giving mineral water. In addition to this group of springs there are numerous others, some of sulphur water, others saline, iron and composition mineral.

The cottages are from the most part of frame covered with shingles and have shingle roofs. The hotel follows the same trend. Few of the older tent houses and buildings of the earlier time remain, although one log house and a shake house are still intact.

A new out door plunge has just been completed. It is of concrete and is 40 by 100 feet with a sloping bottom of three feet at the intake to almost nine feet at the outlet. It had been planned to make it of greater depth at the outlet but solid rock was struck and it was found impossible to drive through it.

The water of the open-air plunge is taken from two hot springs which have a temperature of 194 degrees and the river. A concrete walk 12 feet wide is to be laid around the plunge and seats will be placed here for guests.

The plunge is filled by three intake pipes leading from the intake tank, the latter is of cement and is in two compartments. The hot water from the hot springs is piped into the first tank and the cold water into the second. The hot water pours down into the second tank and is mixed with the cold water before the plunge is filled. This takes the chill from the bathing water and the bather not only evades the chance of catching cold but receives the benefit of the mineral water.

New Bath House Built

The new bath house is 60 by 100 feet with a partition dividing it in two through the long way. One division is for men and the other for women and are exactly alike, and are used for both showers and plunge.

There are two shower rooms, two steam rooms and six bathtubs each separated by partitions and with curtains. Steel lockers are to be installed within a few days and small dressing rooms each fitted with a built-in seat have already been arranged. In addition there is a large massage room with necessary furnishings. At one end is a large room in which 16 cots are to be placed. This room is used for a rest and elimination room following baths and massages. A resident nurse and physician are on the grounds at all times for the benefit of those in need of medical care. The nurse has charge of the massages and baths for the women.

Many New Cottages

Approximately 100 new cottages have been built this year and all are occupied. A large dance hall and auditorium has been completed and will be dedicated Sunday, July 26, when Guido Deiro, world famous accordionist is heard in concert. The concert will be followed with a dance. The dance hall stands by itself above the tent city and is in a grove of beautiful fir trees. It, like the other buildings, is lighted by electricity and has plenty of windows as a means of ventilation. The hall is approximately 100 by 150 feet and affords plenty of floor space for dancing.

The new home of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bruckman, owners and managers of the Springs, is under construction. It is of old English architecture, with steep gables and many windows and stands on an elevation overlooking the springs.

Fishing Is Good

There are many creeks in the vicinity which are filled with trout and fishermen have no difficulty in getting the limit. A croquet ground has been rolled and many of the guests spend hours in this pleasant pastime while others make use of the horsehoe plot close by. There are lakes in abundance within easy hiking distance and many picnic parties take advantage of the short walks to spend the day.

Those who have not made the trip into Breitenbush cannot and do not realize that Oregon has a beauty spot and resort that cannot be surpassed by any in the world, and the fact that one is almost isolated from the outside world and even at that only a short drive from the metropolis of the state seems almost impossible to believe.

One Portland woman, Mrs. S. J. Mayhew, wife of the interstate commissioner, is at the Springs at present and this makes 18 years that she has visited this resort, always, up to a year ago, packing in.

Guido Deiro is another guest who always returns to the Breitenbush; he being there as a guest this year for the tenth time. Mr. Deiro, who has become famous not only in Europe which is his native country, but as well in the United States as an accordion player and composer, has only recently returned to America from a tour.

SCOTTS MILLS, July 18.—Butte Lodge No. 126 held their installation of officers Saturday evening. Brothers Fred Mendell, P. G. M. and A. Matthews of Portland, also Brother Sid Harris of Gervais were present.

A twenty-five year jewel was presented to M. W. Kelsey of Butte Lodge, by Brother Mendell, and was pinned on him by his daughter, Mrs. J. L. Carter of Portland. After the installation a pot-luck supper was served in the dining room by a few of the Rebekahs.

J. L. Carter Is Honor Guest

CHAMPOEG, July 18.—Mrs. Edythe Tosier Wethered was the instigator of a pleasant picnic supper Wednesday in honor of Joseph L. Carter, who has spent the past few weeks at Champeog park.

"Blest be the tie that binds," was sung before the meal began and after Mr. Carter had given a pleasant talk thinking his hosts the meal was ended with the old hymn, "God be with you till we meet again." Covers were placed for the honored guest, J. L. Carter, Mrs. Edythe T. Wethered, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Osborne and Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Geer and daughter Ruth Geer.

Mearl Ensley Is Injured Again

TURNER, July 18.—Mearl Ensley, a Turner young man who has come to be known as "the man who always gets hurt" if any one does, has the misfortune to be laid up for some time with an injured shoulder.

Mr. Ensley is a member of the bridge crew and while working in the ground excavating a cave-in caused the mishap, which may cause a prolonged vacation.

Week's Sermonette The Farmer's Mistake

By MEREDITH A. GROVES
(Pastor, Mt. Mansfield church)
Luke 12:18, 19. "I will pull down my barns and build greater... I will say to my soul... Take thine ease, eat, drink, and be merry."
In the minds of most farmers a rich farmer is an anomaly. But the mistake of the man known as the rich fool is one that is being made by rich and poor alike, by tradesmen, farmers, and others.

The rich fool put the getting of things ahead of his spiritual life. He made the mistake of thinking that things bring happiness so gave his life to the gathering of possessions. Industry is commendable. Economy is necessary. But when these become the all in all, they cease to serve the individual and become his master. The rich fool thought he was becoming the owner of great wealth. But instead, it became his master and owned him. Of one man it is said that "he was born a man and died a grocer." Equally true could it be said of others that they were born men and women and degenerated into mere merchants, farmers or any gatherer of just things.

The rich fool put pleasure ahead of service and worship. His God was that of Bacchus. He loved ease and pleasure. In this day when there are so many vital problems to be solved, so many opportunities for helpful and worthwhile service, many people are frittering away their leisure time in useless, senseless, and often harmful pleasures.

The rich fool put self ahead of others. Probably the poor cried for help, but he had nothing to give. Doubtless his employees were working for a mere pittance, but he cut their wages in order to keep a few more bushels of grain in his granaries.

Christ urges us to take the opposite course. Seek spiritual things first. Put God first. Things, self, pleasure, all have a place. But they are secondary and not primary. "Seek first the kingdom of God and all these other things shall be added unto you."

Wanted: Old Ice Boxes

You are fully aware that to keep your food below 50 degrees—below the danger line—you need automatic refrigeration and the Gas Electrolux, absolutely noiseless and without motor moving parts, is admittedly the best of all.

But you already have a refrigerator or an ice box maybe? Well, to induce you to make your home up-to-date with a Gas Electrolux, we will give you this week $10.00 for any old ice box (now in use) or $20.00 "refrigerator now in use (or more if its value is more) to apply as first payment on a Gas Electrolux.
