

Coast League Defies Majors on Universal Draft Question

RELATIONS MAY BE BROKEN OFF

Portland and L. A. Pair at First Favor Program Of Big Circuits

SAN FRANCISCO, July 15.—(AP)—In a deft to the major leagues which forecasts a possible baseball war, directors of the Pacific coast league today flatly rejected the proposed universal draft by an overwhelming vote.

Meeting in special session here, the representatives of the big circuit AA circuit adopted a resolution opposing any attempt of the national and American leagues to establish the new plan of general selection of players. They declared it was in direct violation of the modified draft agreement now in effect. Their stand is the same as taken yesterday by directors of the international league.

The proposed agreement, which would permit drafting of any player, regardless of experience, instead of only those who have come down from the big leagues, was doomed from the start.

Portland Wants to Stick With Majors

Five of the eight clubs lined up in opposition. They were the two San Francisco outfits, Sacramento, Oakland and Seals. Those favoring the proposition, Los Angeles, Hollywood and Portland, swung over to make the vote unanimous.

The major leagues' ultimatum, directed at the coast, Three Eye, International and Western leagues and American association, decided for an absolute break of player relations unless the latter accepted the universal draft by December 1. No action on the proposition has been taken by the last two named circuits and the Three Eyes.

In opposing the universal draft, coast league directors pointed out they had lived up to all provisions of the modified draft agreement; that they had no desire to discard it, and that "article 6 thereof, provides that the major-league agreement shall remain in force as long as the Hon. Keneaw M. Landis continues to hold the office of commissioner."

MANDELL GLAD HE LOST WORLD TITLE

NEW YORK, July 15.—(AP)—Sammy Mandell hit the trail for the west tonight, a tired, saddened youngster bereft of his lightweight crown and rather glad of it.

He is going back to Rockford, Ill., to rest and forget the nightmare in Yankee stadium last night where a habogoblin named Al Singer jumped upon him in less than a round and batted him to the floor. Mandell says he was trying to puzzle out the happenings in the ring.

"I'm sure making the weight didn't hurt me," he said as he sat in Madison Square Garden and groped for reasons for the surprising defeat. "But I felt dead. I had no pep or life and I couldn't seem to arouse myself. I was strong physically, though."

"I don't know what happened in the first round. I never saw the first left hook that knocked me down and never felt any of the punches. I don't remember being on the floor at all."

"I'm going to rest and fight some at 135 pounds and decide whether I'll try the welterweight division, anyway I'm glad I'm rid of the title. I'll get along better fighting good tough fellows whenever and wherever I want to without worrying about championships and weight."

Weissmuller's Successors?

By HARDIN BURNLEY

GEORGE KOJAC—BRILLIANT SWIMMING STAR AND ONE OF THE GREATEST SWIMMERS IN THE WORLD!

RAY RUDDY—(Below), YOUNG COLUMBIA AQUATIC SENSATION, WHO LOOKS LIKE A FUTURE WEISSMULLER.

Baseball sluggers try to out-homer Ruth; most would-be money-makers in the ring strive to sock like Dempsey; and on the golf links, every ardent ambitious player dreams of shooting like Bobby Jones or (if that be an unattainable ideal) acquiring the mechanical finesse of Horton Smith. When it comes to swimming, Johnny Weissmuller is the Ruth, Dempsey and Jones of amphibians rolled into one! He holds most of the world's records from one to 500 yards, for more than five years, he generally has been acclaimed the world's best all-around swimmer—perhaps the greatest of all time in that line. And he is that still, now that he's turned professional.

Weissmuller has worn his laurels so long that many are asking which of his many rivals or which of the rising stars will succeed him as the paragon of the pools and other water courses. George Kojac, back-stroke genius, is extraordinary indeed in his favored method of water locomotion. In the back-stroke events, the boy is as supreme as Weissmuller in free style swimming. This collegiate wonder is also a great all-around swimmer and with youth on his side, he may yet equal or excel some, or all, of Weissmuller's marvelous marks. Even more promising, in the opinion of many critics, is young Ray Ruddy, who started cutting records when a small school boy a few years ago, who is developing rapidly, and who is already rated as one of the most formidable of swimmers though still a comparative "kid." He and Kojac are expected to wage the equivalent of a duel for the honor of being acclaimed the successor to Weissmuller's amateur glories.

Of course, in considering the swimmers, one should note that since turning pro, Weissmuller has clipped several of his records and is still the undisputed monarch of that sport. However, Kojac and Ruddy (there are others, too) radiate youth, skill and ambition. One of them is almost sure to succeed Sir John a few years hence. Copyright, 1933, The Famous Players, Inc.

Blue Larkspur, Col. Edward Kelly Bradley's great four year old, was the overnight favorite. He was quoted at 2 to 1.

Other entries were Toro, Sun Beau, Snowflake, Stars and Bars, Victorian, Mays, Galahad, Petee Wrack, Revellie Boy and Paul Bunyan.

ITALIANS GIVE YANKS BATTLE

De Stefani Gives Allison Tough Match; Lott in Lead Over No. 1

By SMITH F. REAVIS
AUTEUIL, France, July 15.—(AP)—America won the opening match from Italy in the inter-cup Davis cup competition before it was called on account of darkness.

It was close work, however, that gave Wilmer Allison of Austin, Texas, a five set victory over Giorgio de Stefani, the ambidextrous Italian, and enabled the United States to take a one-up lead in this battle for the right to meet France in the challenge round.

The scores were 6-6, 7-9, 6-4, 8-6, 10-8, and the Texas giant-killer, conqueror of Henri Cochet at Wimbledon, was at least twice on the verge of defeat at the hands of Italy's No. 2 singles player. To take the final set and win Allison had to come up from 1-5 in an amazing rally.

George Lott of Chicago lost his first set to Baron Humbert de Morpurgo, veteran of many Davis cup contests, 3-6 and had to play his best tennis to take the next two, 9-7 and 10-8.

Quit After Third Set of Hard Match
At the end of the third set it was 8:30 p. m. and darkness was falling. Players and spectators had had enough and the officials called it a day. The entire program had been held up more than an hour by rain and wet courts and the Allison-De Stefani match had lasted fully three hours.

Dr. Morpurgo and Lott will resume their match tomorrow and the doubles teams will clash in the fourth battle.

Italy, electing to play Placido Gaslini and Alberto Del Bando, has practically conceded that match to Allison and John Van Ryn, and tomorrow's main interest for fans here lies in what the doughty Italian veteran can do to overcome the lead against him.

If Lott can follow up his advantage and win, if the strong American doubles team comes through according to schedule, the United States will be able to clinch the series before nightfall with the necessary three victories.

Hallahan, Grimes and Wilson; Donohue, Heving and Hogan.

CURT COMMENTS

The Alcos are coming Sunday. What would you rather be this week than an Alco, trying to figure up what your batting average was likely to be after Sunday's game?

And Monday the House of David. Personally, we'd like to see what Andy Peterson could do to those fence bustin' whippers, but it probably couldn't be, because Frisco will undoubtedly start Andy against the Alcos.

Too bad the head of alfalfa couldn't come later in the week. But it'll give us a chance to see these other twirlers who have been warming the fir boards since Andy started to work.

Well do we recall our first impression of the House of David boys, three years ago—the game that Rex Adolph won by clouting the pellet over the fence, if our memory is functioning properly. Some ball game. But about those first impressions. The first M. M. M. stepped to the plate and another one swinging a bat behind him yelled at the pitcher, "Throw it and duck!" And that's just what he did. The ball came whizzing back at him, miles per.

But, as we mentioned, the Senators finally won that game. This year it ought to be House of David's turn to win, because Salem won in 1927, the Benton Harbor boys in 1928, and the Senators again in 1929. Last year the score was 9 to 3. Billy Sullivan et al landing on big Fitzke from Washington State for a flock of runs right after the sun went down in the sixth. Fitzke was a new convert at the time, with barely a stubble. Borham pitched for Salem. Sullivan hit a triple and a homer.

The year before, the spinnach won 5 to 4, getting ten hits off Kermit Russell and scoring the winning run in the ninth.

Nearly all of the handsome ambushes will be back this year. Atherton, Tucker and Faust in the infield, Talley and Hipp in the outfield along with Pederson who was here two years ago. Heckman is still on the mound staff. We've been waiting three years for his turn to pitch here.

High Dive Into Pool of Flame To Be Feature

A high dive into a pool of flame will be the climax to a day of sports at Spong's landing according to announcement this week by Manager Palmerton who recently bought the park and is operating it this summer.

The diver, a Salem lad whose name is not disclosed, will leap into the river from a tower, burning through a sheet of diving oil on the surface of the Williamsette. Only a sure, straight dive will save the lad from harm, says Palmerton.

Acquatic races of many varieties will be an added feature for the day.

UMPIRE CHASES MAILS, HILLIS

Duck Players Belligerent As Stars Even up Series

LOS ANGELES, July 15.—(AP)—Hollywood evened the series with Portland today by nicking a quartet of pitchers for 11 hits and a 10 to 5 victory. Junk Walters making his third appearance in four games, was charged with the defeat.

The Stars gathered the victory margin in the sixth and seventh, coupling five hits with three Beaver errors for seven runs. Umpire Chet Chadbourne chased Walter Mails from the mound in the second for gesturing his objection to a decision. This came after Mack Hillis, Portland third baseman, had been expelled by Chadbourne for objecting to a called third strike in the first half of the same inning.

S. Jesse Hill and Otis Brannan of the Stars hit home runs.

Seals Finally Lose

SACRAMENTO, July 15.—(AP)—Scoring two runs in the last half of the tenth after the Seals had apparently sewed the extra-inning game up by counting one in their half of the added frame, the Sacramento Solons won their first game of the second half here tonight, 4 to 3.
