

BARTRAM GETS FULL TIME JOB

Will Resign as Manager of Oregon Linen Mills, Announced Here

now have to obtain a new manager to succeed Col. Bartram. Col. Bartram stated that while he would be off the payroll he would continue his interest and lend what aid he could to the mill organization. He tendered his resignation several months ago, but the board asked him to continue. The mill is shut down at the present time, but Col. Bartram said yesterday that he had in hand a good sized order for twelve, also that yarn orders were available which would enable the mills to start again. The board will be called together next week to act on Col. Bartram's resignation.

Stockholders Much Concerned

Stockholders in the mill have been concerned over its problems. The mill has had a struggle with inadequate capital and antiquated looms, and recent losses have been reported at $400 a month. Whether it can be refinanced without reorganization is a problem which the board has to solve.

An effort to secure additional money through sale of bonds last winter failed when the sponsors of the plan did not secure the requisite number of stockholders to sign waivers. Those interested in the project profess they have great faith in the enterprise, but realize it must be revamped in its financing and part of its equipment in order to make a success.

MISSIONS PILLAGED BY REDS, CHANGSHA

son weakened by transfer of troops to the civil war fronts, the communists easily overcame all opposition and poured into the walled city. An orgy of killing and pillaging followed, said foreign wireless reports from the stricken city, but not before foreigners sought refuge on warships lying in the Siang river on which Changsha is located.

The raid was described here as the most serious Red incursion yet executed within China. Influential Chinese reiterated their belief it was instigated by the Third Internationale at Moscow.

The wildest rumors resulted from the raid. One of these was that establishment of a communist form of government south of the Yangtze river was imminent. Nationalist government bonds declined sharply as another result of the Red activity.

Warships Forced To Leave Vicinity

After taking aboard missionaries and foreigners desiring to leave, the warships were forced by the rapidly receding river to withdraw. Millions of dollars worth of foreign property thus was left at the mercy of the Reds. Whether this property had been plundered was not revealed in fragmentary advices reaching here tonight. Earlier indications were the properties, including missions and consulates, would be burned.

Headquarters here of some 25 Protestant and Catholic missions represented at Changsha vainly sought to learn the fate of their respective missions. Communication, however, was virtually paralyzed.

Whether there had been loss of life among the foreign inhabitants was not known, but late advices said four missionaries remained in the city. They were the Rev. W. H. Lingie, who has been in China since 1890 for the Presbyterian board of foreign missions; Dr. Allen N. Cameron, in China since 1905 as a representative of the Galilean Baptist church of Denver, Colo.; Miss Gertrude Ruzg, a British woman of the China inland mission, and an Italian Catholic priest.

AIR CARAVAN GIVES YAKIMA BIG SHOW

(AP) — Twenty-nine airplanes dropped from the skies to the Yakima airport at intervals here today on the first leg of their Oregon-Washington Idaho tour, arrived first to be followed a few minutes later by Arthur Hately, California aviator. Included in the group was Miss Dorothy Heister, and Virginia Ogden, two women pilots on the tour.

Frank Brooks opened the air program with a thrilling triple parachute jump.

Tex Rankin, Portland flier, was forced to make a dead stick landing when his propeller splintered at an elevation of 4,000 feet while stunt flying. He brought his plane down without damage, hurt others who participated in the aerial program included Dorothy Heister, Dick Rankin, Floyd Keagle, all of Portland; Gordon Mountz, Santa Monica, Cal., and A. E. Merrill, Seattle.

The caravan will take off for Pasco tomorrow.

EXPLOSION KILLS TWO

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., July 29 — (AP) — Two men were killed instantly, five seriously injured and at least seven hurt slightly by an explosion today which demolished the boiler house at the tinplate plant of Weirton Steel company, near here.

Culinary Department at Y. M. Camp Rated Highly By Older Boy Contingent

The culinary department, with J. Burton "Pop" Cray in charge, is the big feature at the older boys' session at Camp Oceanside, says The Statesman's correspondent. The letter written Saturday follows:

"The older boys' camp started off with a bang and promises to be a big contrast to the younger boys' camp, so say the leaders who were here for both camps. The camp directors are greatly pleased with the way they started off.

"Of course as you have been told the culinary department comes first in the esteem of the campers, with Burt (Pop) Cray heading it. Since we all need exercise we have taken two short hikes including one to the Windbreaks park and to the new camp site at Short beach. During the stay at Short Beach one of the Thomas brothers from Corvallis caught a fine sea perch and had it fried for supper while envious eyes were centered on him.

"It has been the custom for tent one to have Honor Camper. They are striving hard to keep this up. At our usual camp fire last night, Mr. Crumley explained the Rager system of honors. This system was started in a California 'Y' camp and has spread all up and down the coast. It takes five years to get all the honors. They are different colored neckerchiefs including by steps the Green, brown, red, blue and white.

"The usual list of nicknames includes, Jim Nicholson, 'Nick the Hick,' Donald Stockwell, 'Herman the German,' David Hoss, 'Hoss the Boss,' and Thomas Pomeroy, 'Frog Tooth Tom.'

"Today (Saturday) we had a track meet which acquired quite a lot of enthusiasm. The results are as follows:

"100 yard dash, Class A. M. Jones, E. Ray, Charles Wipers, Class B. M. Waltz, W. Majhon, H. Thomas; Class C. J. Nicholson, D. Stockwell, Bob Pickens.

"Hand travel, Class A. Eugene Ray, Jack Kittredge, Jack Berry, Class B. Ned Hale, Francis Ray, Walter Majhon; Class C. Emery Hobbs, David Hoss, Robert Thomas.

"50 yards backward, Class A. Eugene Ray, Charles Wipers, Jack Berry; Class B. Walter Majhon, Merle Waltz, Francis Ray; Class C. Donald Stockwell, Bob Pickens, Emory Hobbs.

REMONSTRANCE HAS BUT 12 NAMES NOW

of the petition, while asked to withdraw his name, said Tuesday he would not withdraw and would be firm until the last in his remonstrance.

One of the most prominent councilmen of Salem said Tuesday that he would favor the vacation of the street at the council meeting next Monday in view of the limited number of remonstrance signers. He indicated that his approval of the vacation would be contingent on a fair settlement between the city and the council for the siphon constructed and paid for by the city for the paper mill's water ditch and by a binding agreement where in the paper mill agrees once and for all to eliminate all cinders.

FRATERNITY HOUSE BEING REMODELED

Extensive remodeling operations have been under way for nearly three weeks and are rapidly nearing completion on the Alpha Psi Delta fraternity house at the corner of Chemeketa and Summer streets.

The entire house has been painted, the roof reshingled, the porch remodeled, and new foundation built under the porch. Landscaping of the lawn is being done this week, while much of the inside work will be done by members of the house during the first two weeks in September. Painting, landscaping and construction work has been done by separate contract.

Repairs made necessary by a chimney fire early in the summer have been made in the Sigma Tau fraternity house on Oak street.

Here, There And Yon Bits of Personal News Gleaned About Interesting People

"Just wait 'til the women of Oregon get a hold of Metschan." That's what a Grants Pass politician and business man told L. O. Hepp, of that city recently. It is supposed he referred to the candidate stand on the prohibition question, but Hepp, frankly admitting he was not an authority on politics, declined to go further in the matter.

In the opinion of J. O. Russell, local insurance man, the state central committee did a good thing when it nominated Phil Metschan for the nomination for governor. "But at that he's going to be hard to elect, with an independent candidate probably coming up," he declared. Russell believes a split in the republican vote is entirely possible and that the democratic candidate may win the election.

"I think Metschan will make a very competent governor," said Bert Macy, a party warhorse of Marion county. "I want to school with Phil here in Salem and have a high regard for his republicanism and his ability as an executive. I don't think he can be best. If an independent candidate comes out, I look for him to split the democratic vote more than anything else." Thus does Robert D. Gray, Salem real estate dealer and for 12 years president of a bank at Turner, augur success for Metschan.

"I believe the convention did a splendid job in nominating Phil Metschan, despite the fact I was strong for Tom Kay. I have known Metschan 30 years and have always been a strong admirer. I don't think he can be best. If an independent candidate comes out, I look for him to split the democratic vote more than anything else." Thus does Robert D. Gray, Salem real estate dealer and for 12 years president of a bank at Turner, augur success for Metschan.

J. C. Perry, county chairman, says he is ready to go to work for a strong campaign to elect Phil Metschan governor on the republican ticket. "Phil is a great mixer," said Mr. Perry. "He will no doubt make a strong personal canvass for votes and with his affable nature he should roll up a big vote this fall. I have had many contacts with him as state chairman, and he was always responsible to any calls we made."

NEW FOUND PROOF IN MOONEY'S CASE

had seats at a table with Fred L. Berry, former deputy under Fickert and appointed by the court to represent the state.

Wan and nervous, MacDonald frequently broke down under the relentless questioning. Associate Justice John W. Preston, who examined the witness for the court. Despite frequent tangling in which the witness found himself, he clung firmly to his assertion he lied in the trial.

"I lied then, but I'm telling the whole truth now," he said time and again.

During the proceedings Frank P. Walsh, attorney for Mooney, made public a telegram he had sent to Governor C. C. Young. The telegram cited the refusal of the justices to hear Mooney's pardon plea and asked the governor personally to hear MacDonald in connection with his new pardon application sent to Sacramento Monday.

At the conclusion of MacDonald's examination by Judge Preston, Attorney Ed V. McKenzie, representing Billings, took up the questioning.

In a series of closely-related questions McKenzie sought to break down details of MacDonald's story concerning his actions just before the bombing. McKenzie finally asked, "are you really able to say after 14 years what the truth of your story ends and the lie begins?"

MacDonald bowed his head. "I cannot say that I can," was his barely audible answer.

A few moments later court recessed until tomorrow.

STRIBLING GROOMED FOR SHOT AT TITLE

NEW YORK, July 29.—(AP) Young Stribling, for years the "king of the cane brakes," is headed back to the main highways of fistiana under a head of steam that whistles menacingly for Victorio Campolo, Jack Sharkey and Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion for the moment.

Frank Bruen, general manager at Madison Square Garden, wants to pit this ferocious 1930 edition of the best equipped heavy in the business against Campolo, mauler of the Argentine, in one of the big ball parks here in September.

Once past Campolo, a feat that should be ordinary for the younger who knocked out Otto Von Porat and Scott in six minutes of fighting, Stribling can have the leading role in the third annual battle of the balmey breezes at Miami this winter, perhaps with Sharkey again his opponent.

The third match promised him is against Schmeling in a title tilt for which the German has signed with Madison Square Garden for the summer of 1931. "Pat" Stribling discussed the situation with Bruen over the trans-Atlantic telephone from London last night.

UNIVERSITY OFFICE REMODELING STARTS

Remodeling of the administrative offices in Eaton hall at Willamette university has begun under direction of "Dean" C. C. Clark, superintendent, and during the next two weeks the registrar's equipment will be moved into new office.

Plans call for converting the present registrar's office into a reception room for both the offices of President Doney and Dean F. M. Erickson, while the room directly across the hall, used by the history and sociology departments, will be equipped as an office for the registrar. The business office will remain unchanged.

Walls and ceilings, as well as woodwork, have been repaired and repainted during the past few weeks, nearly a half dozen men being employed steadily by the university for the work.

ROOSEVELT GIVEN PHILIPPINE POST

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(AP)—Nicholas Roosevelt of New York today was given a recess appointment as vice governor of the Philippine Islands in the face of opposition from proponents of Philippine independence.

In announcing the appointment after the senate had failed to confirm Roosevelt at the special session, the president expressed his belief the "misunderstanding" which has arisen on the islands as to the appointee's attitude would be quickly cleared.

He said Roosevelt has been staunch in his support of the interests of the Philippine people, sympathetic with them and enthusiastic over their progress.

The New Yorker is a second cousin of Governor Theodore Roosevelt of Porto Rico.

After his nomination was sent to the senate, leaders in the Philippine movement attacked his views and urged his rejection. Pedro Guevara, resident commissioner in Washington, the president of the Philippine senate and speaker of the Philippine house, who was member of the commission which appeared before congress at the last session to urge independence, submitted their opposition.

CONSERVATIVES IN SADDLE IN CANADA

OTTAWA, July 29.—(AP)—A smashing, dominion-wide victory for the conservative party to power in Canada for the first time since the world war, and has placed R. B. Bennett, sixty year old Calgary bachelor and political veteran, at the helm of state as premier-elect.

Tonight, with three houses of commons seats still in doubt out of 245, the conservatives had won 137 seats, the liberals 85, united farmers, 10, liberal progressives, 2, and laborites 2, and the progressives and independents two each.

Even if the opposition were to win all the contests still undecided, the conservative government, replacing the nine year regime of the Liberals and Prime Minister McKenzie King, is sure of out-and-out control of the dominion parliament.

The conservative majority is large enough to match the combined strength of all opposing parties and to leave a margin of 28 votes.

Fifteen Killed As Sand Dredge Upsets in Lake

BRIE, Pa., July 29.—(AP)—The sand dredge George J. Whelan and 14 of his crew lay in Lake Erie off Dunkirk, N. Y., tonight. Six survivors and the body of another of the crew were here as federal authorities prepared for investigation of the accident that sank the craft in 190 feet of water.

Early today the steamer Amasa Stone came into port with the survivors and the first word of the wreck. In the night the Whelan plunged over and floated bottom up for half an hour with several of the crew clinging to it. The vessel sank and only six men were left to be picked up later by the Stone.
