An interesting report of the picnic held by the society in July was given by Mrs. Charles Purvine. Mrs. Charles McCarter read a letter from Mrs. Hinkson, secretary of the executive committee and two duets were sung by Mrs. of the Presbytery at Corvallis, inviting Mrs. McCarter and Mrs. V. L. Gibson, president and treasurer Mrs. E. J. Welty of Pratum with of the Spring Valley Missionary by this committee, September 10. Music by Miss Julia Shepherd clased the meeting.

Mrs. Charles Purvine had charge of program arrangements, Lucille Hackett of Lincoln gave a humorous reading, Julia and Ruth Shepard of Zena played a plano duet and encore and little Miss Marjorie Matthews of Spring Valley gave a reading.

STAYTON—When Mrs. C. H. Brewer invited a number of friends to a "back-yard jamboree" Thursday afternoon, they found upon arrival that the scene of the party was the back yard where lovely shade trees, box elder, walnut ad tulip trees with shrubs and flowers were most pleasing. Card tables were placed on the velvety lawn and the afternoon was spent in playing bridge. High score was secured by Mrs. Dave M. John and second high by Mrs. Emma Sloper. A dainty luncheon was served after cards.

The result is eyestrain. In a large number of cases a course of exercises makes it possible to develop strength in over-worked and strained eye muscles so that they can perform their tasks without discomfort or strain.

Will your eyes benefit by such exercise? Will exercise enable you to discard your glasses? Only your optomet-rist can determine this by a thorough routine optometric eye-examination.
