Evening of Bridge Honors Bride Elect

Mrs. T. A. Raffety entertained with a bridge evening in compliment to Miss Helen Campbell Tuesday at the Raffety home. Miss Campbell has been the inspiration of many affairs since the announcement of her marriage date as August 19, at which time she will become the bride of Ezra Webb and leave immediately afterward to make her home in New York City.

A lovely color combination of pink geranium and blue hydrangea gave added charm to the guest rooms where bridge was in play at three tables. At a late hour, Mrs. Raffety was assisted in serving by Miss Jean Campbell and Miss Esther Wood.

Guests invited for the evening were Miss Helen Campbell, the honor guest, Miss Betty Shipley, Miss Irma Bolander, Miss Priscilla Baumgartner, Miss Priscilla Fry, Miss Dorothy Pritchard, Miss Rosalie Burrell, Miss Esther Wood, Miss Mary Capper, Miss Billie Capper, Miss Gloria Spencer, Mrs. Frank Chapman, Mrs. Joe Lane, Mrs. Kenneth Perry, Mrs. Vernon Perry, Miss Dorothy Bell, Miss Martha Hobson and Miss Jean Campbell.

Monmouth Maid Is Complimented

Monmouth—Miss Helen E. Wood, secretary to president J. S. Landers of the Oregon Normal school, was the inspiration for a number of delightful affairs over the weekend, preceding her marriage to John Robins of Bend, which will be an event of August 22 at the home of her parents, Mrs. D. E. Wood at Bend. Miss Wood who was graduated from the Oregon Normal school and from the University of Oregon has served during the past year in the office of president Landers. Her sister, Miss Cora Wood, of Bend, will be her bridesmaid.

Mr. Robins who is a graduate of Willamette university, will be attended by a cousin, Julian Prescott of Eugene. The couple plan to spend a three weeks' honeymoon at Yellowstone park, after which they will locate in Palo Alto where they are to graduate work at Stanford this year.

Miss Edna Headrick entertained Wednesday evening at the Winegar apartments with a dinner party honoring Miss Woods. Covers were laid for eight: Mrs. Gladys Parker Oiska, Misses Ann Murray, Hazel Kirk, Mildred Craine, Jean McEw, Katherine Peterson, Miss Wood and Miss Headrick.

Friday evening Mrs. F. R. Sigurdson entertained in Miss Sigurdson's honor with a dinner party at the Black Bird Inn at Rickreall, covers being placed for Miss Wood, Miss Edna Headrick, Mrs. A. H. Craven and Mrs. Sigurdson.

Garden Party For Missionary Society

Members of the Missionary Society of the First Presbyterian church will meet this afternoon at the home of Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr. A regular meeting will precede a garden party in the lovely gardens of the McGilchrist home.

Mrs. Paul Edwards will speak in the course of the Business and program hour on the subject of foreign missions and will touch particularly her experiences in the mission field as she has found it in connection with her secretaryship of the board of missions for India.

Miss Josephine Albert will sing and Mrs. L. C. Mitchell, nee Marian Emmons, will give violin selections.

Mrs. Harry Mohr and Mrs. Frank M. Erickson will have charge of the social hour in the garden.

Monmouth—Miss Jean McEw, director of home economics at the Oregon normal school for the past two years, and who will leave soon for Nebraska where she has been offered a fellowship for the coming year, was complimented Tuesday evening when Miss Ann Murray, successor to Miss McEw at the Normal school, entertained with three tables of bridge at the Winegar apartments.

A feature of the evening was a clever arrangement of lists, one to represent stages of progress toward Miss McEw's destination, Table Number one being called Oregon; Table two Utah; and Table three Nebraska. Honors went to Miss Mildred Craine and consolation to Miss Edna Headrick. Guests for the evening were: Miss McEw, Miss Edna Headrick, Miss Katherine Peterson, Miss Edna Bates, Miss Lois Criswell, Miss Hazel Kirk, Miss Craine, Miss Helen Wood, Miss Helen Deutch, Miss Gertrude Deutch, Miss Murray, Mrs. Larry Wolfe and Marie Miller. A refreshment hour followed the play.

An informal picnic supper was enjoyed Monday night in the garden of William McGilchrist, Jr., home. Covers for 24 were placed at two large tables spread under large trees and with tall shrubbery as a background. The garden was lighted which added a final lovely note to the whole effect. After the supper hour the guests enjoyed several hours of bridge in the living rooms of the McGilchrist home.

Mrs. William McGilchrist, Jr., and Miss Josephine McGilchrist are again at their home after having spent a few weeks at the coast, part of the time at Seaside and the remainder of the time at the McGilchrist cottage at Nye beach.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. East are spending their vacation at Nye beach.

Breakfast Bridge Enjoyable Event Today

Mrs. W. M. Pennington will be hostess for a unique and enjoyable party this morning at which time she will entertain with several hours of bridge in her lovely garden. Bridge will be followed with a one o'clock luncheon. Playing will commence at 10:30 o'clock, with the cool morning air as a welcome relief from the heat of the afternoon parties of these warm August days.

The guest will be those members of the Friday bridge club who are in town this week. They are Mrs. Waldo Mills as a special guest, and Mrs. David Wright, Mrs. Scott Page, Mrs. Leon Gleason, Mrs. F. G. Delano, Mrs. Harley White, Mrs. E. A. Kurtz, and Mrs. Pennington.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Tartar and daughter Ann of Garden road, and Miss Lena Belle Tartar returned Sunday from a week spent at Nelscott. Miss Tartar now has her aunt Mrs. Laura Wiseman of Walla Walla, as her house guest for a few days.

Statesman Pattern

Necklines are extremely important in the newest models and particularly lovely are the collars that have developed from the popular cape mode. The model sketched today boasts a most becoming deep cape in back that narrows in front and gathers softly into flattering lines. The frock itself is quite simple with low-placed skirt flare and plain sleeves that achieve chic through an added upward flare.

Pattern 2004 may be fashioned of flax or cotton crepe, dull satin, chiffon velvet or georgette. If you wish to omit sleeves, chiffon, voile or dimity may be used for a delicious warm weather frock. Tiny buttons trim the front bodice and the cuffs.

May be obtained only in sizes 16, 18, 20, 22, 24, 26, 28, 30 and 32. Size 16 requires 4 3/4 yards of 39-inch material.

No dressmaking experience necessary. Yards for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send five cents in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps, for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address, size of numbers and size wanted.

Our book of pictures for adults and children, also transfer patterns, fifteen cents; ten cents when ordered with a pattern. Address all mail and orders to Statesman Pattern Department, 215 West 17th street, New York City.

Oh These Women!

By LEOLA ALLARD

"Is there any way that a girl can tell a man is married?"

The question comes from a young woman who has already fallen in love with three men, and they all turned out to be married men. Her wedding was all arranged once, and a few weeks before the event she got a letter from the man's wife, saying that he had deserted her and their three children. She was ill for months from shock after that, and then—she fell in love with another married man.

Well, if there isn't anyway you can "tell a married man," you can at least be a little bit careful about the men you promise to marry. To me it is as much of a mystery as it is to the girl, how she could fall for three married men, or in other words, three men about whose past history she knew nothing at all. I wish she would write and tell me whether she ever knew anybody who knew any of these men if they went with nice people and what business they were in. I can't advise without details.

The last married man asked her to marry him the third evening she went out with him. I wonder if that didn't seem a bit unusual? She says if she married any one of them, even the last one, (who, is separated from his wife and getting a divorce) perhaps in time they would leave her and pose as single. Of course, they aren't matrimonial timber, that's all.

The girl says that as soon as she found each man was married she left him—flat. The last one worked in the same office with her. He asked her to go to the beach many times and she refused repeatedly. At last he told her that she thought she was better than anybody else, and so she went with him. Great reasoning there! After she went out with him a dozen times he confessed he was married, separated from his wife and getting a divorce. She left the office and left town. He is trying to get her to promise to marry him when he gets his divorce, but she says no. She doesn't trust any man.

Hooley!

There are plenty of good single men, who want good wives, and all you have to do is GO SLOW. Wait long enough to find out something about them. How do you meet these men? Who introduces you, what do they tell you and what kind of people are they?

Your letter sounds a bit goofy and I can't quite understand. Even if a girl is properly introduced to some man, if she is going to promise anything until she knows him. You can't know him in three weeks. Sometimes you can't in 30 years.

She signs herself "Smiling thru tears."

I think you are too trusting. Remember about believing nothing you hear and only half that you see? Don't be a cynic but have SOME sense.

Silverton—Rt. Rev. L. C. Foss of Seattle and Dr. Oscar Tingstad, president of Pacific Lutheran college at Parkland, Wash., both spoke at Trinity Young People's society meeting held Sunday afternoon in the social rooms of Trinity church. Rev. Mr. Foss is the father of Rev. H. L. Foss who is pastor of Trinity church but who is now enjoying a vacation in the Puget Sound country. Dr. Tingstad, was as a boy, a member of Trinity congregation. He is spending a vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Tingstad of Silverton.

Following the morning services at which Rt. Rev. Foss delivered the sermon, Mrs. Bernard Johnson, Miss Marie Tingstad, and Mrs. Ole Brendon served lunch to all of those who wished to remain for the afternoon program. Other numbers on the program were a vocal solo by Mrs. Alvin Legard, vocal duet by Cora and Peggy Gopferud, piano solos by Violet Herrigstad and Vivian Bunn, a reading by Mrs. E. Holden.

Mrs. Ralph Walton Is Honor Guest Tuesday

Mrs. Ralph Walton, of Montclair, New Jersey, who is visiting her mother, Mrs. William Dillmon Smith, was the guest of honor for an attractive luncheon at the home of Mrs. Ray L. Smith Tuesday afternoon. Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith was assistant hostess.

Linen in pastel shades struck a lovely color note for the four luncheon tables at which the guests were seated. The central table was gayly captered with a delightfully cool effect, a small pool with flowers, goldfish and such to impress the guests with coolness in contrast to the humid outdoors.

Miss Lameta Bellinger, Miss Jane Robinson, and Miss Betty Uitter assisted in the serving. Covers were placed for the honor guest, Mrs. Walton, and for Mrs. William Dillmon Smith, Mrs. Paul R. Smith of Santa Monica, Calif., Mrs. Asa Fisher, Mrs. Floyd L. Uiter, Mrs. Grover C. Bellinger, Mrs. Morton Peck, Miss Helen Pearce, Mrs. Zimmerman, Mrs. Walter Spaulding, Mrs. Phil Newmeyer, Mrs. Fred H. Thompson, Mrs. Mary Reeves, Mrs. T. S. Roberts, Mrs. Richard Barton, and for the hostesses, Mrs. Ray Smith and Miss Grace Elizabeth Smith.

World Wide Guild Has Chapter Meeting

Sterling chapter of World Wide Guild girls of the Calvary Baptist church, met at the picturesque home of F. Mildred Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. George J. Aicher at Woodway Monday evening. The girls motored from Salem. The regular business meeting was held. The interesting program and devotions were in charge of Velna Alexander and Mildred Hessman.

A mother and daughter's tea was discussed, and September 7 was decided upon for the date. The nominating committee was appointed by the president: Velna Alexander, chairman, LaVina Bulry and Edith Mae Jenks. Refreshments were served. LaVina Bulry, Velna Alexander and Loreta Wolfe assisting Mildred Taylor.

Mr. Aicher and Mildred Taylor entertained the girls with selections on the concert sither and guitar. Those present were Mrs. Earl Greig, advisor, Mr. William Taylor, guest, and Loraine Gregg, Alice Zielke, Zelma Barnett, Lois Cochran, Leola Harlan, Ruth and Janet McAllister, Velna Alexander, LaVina Bulry, Dorothy Picketts, Beth Billings, Dorothy Ross, Edith Mae Jenks, Carol Stodard, Minnie Hessman, Loreta Wolfe, Mildred Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. Aicher.

Sensible Way To Lose Fat

Start taking Kruschen Salts—that's the common-sense way to reduce—but don't take them with the idea that they possess reducing qualities in themselves.

This is what they do—they clean out the impurities in your blood by keeping the bowels, kidneys, and liver in splendid working shape and fill you with a vigor and tireless energy you'd most forgotten existed.

As a result instead of placing yourself in an easy chair every free moment and letting flabby fat accumulate you feel an urge for activity that keeps you moving around doing the things you've always wanted to do and need to do to keep you in good condition.

Then watch the pounds slide off!

Kruschen Salts are the up-to-date Fountain of Youth. Take one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot or cold water tomorrow morning and every morning—they're tasteless that way, and if they don't change your whole idea about reducing, go back and get the small price you paid for them. Get an 85 cent bottle of Kruschen Salts—lasts 4 weeks—at Perry's Drug Store or any progressive druggist anywhere in the world.
