

QUARANTINE ON BULBS TALKED

Fumigation Required Now On All Shipments; Van Trump May Aid

H. S. Merriam, horticultural commissioner for the second district, Col. William A. Aird, commission for the first district and in charge of bulb inspection in Oregon for the department of agriculture, and C. R. Stittlinger, U. S. department of agriculture quarantine officer in the northwest, met yesterday with County Judge J. C. Stegmann to discuss quarantine of narcissus bulbs.

They stated that they wished to get the court's opinion on whether or not County Fruit Inspector S. H. Van Trump would have time to inspect fumigation of narcissus bulbs to be shipped outside the state.

It seems that the department of agriculture has for several years demanded that narcissus bulbs crossing inter-state boundary lines through either hot water or gas fumigation or both to kill any possible larvae of bulb flies and other pests.

Now the quarantine is to be strictly enforced. The Luther Chapins are installing fumigation apparatus at their large bulb ranch north of town and will fumigate their own shipments and probably those of other Marion county growers.

This will take six or seven weeks of stints the presence of an inspector to make sure that the water is at the proper temperature, the gas at the proper density, and other details according to the state commissioner.

NATIONALISTS REPORT GAINS

Attackers Repulsed, Driven Out of Tsinan, Nanking Officials Announce

(Continued from page 1) Nationalists struck heavily along the Hanchow-Trungkwan railway, defeating Northerners so badly that Chiang believed "the Nationalists shortly would be able to drive the rebels from Honan and capture Kaifeng and Chengchow."

The situation at Tsinan was said to have caused foreign diplomats to make representations to the Nanking government to protect foreign life and property in the city. A pawn for the warping factions, Tsinan recently was bombed by Nationalist airplanes and a score of Chinese residents killed. Many foreigners have fled from Tsinan since it was first threatened by rebels in June.

Little was heard today of the Communist armies which have been menacing Yangtze valley cities in formidable movements against Hankow, Nanchang and Kinkiang. Nothing was given out concerning the armed poasantry under Communist banners who swarmed over towns only a few miles from Nanking two days ago.

Seeking to bolster its dwindling finances, the government's ministry of finance announced a domestic loan of $50,000,000 Mexican (a bond $17,000,000 gold) had been secured based on customs revenue. The government announced $100,000 Mexican had been appropriated for relief of Chinese sufferers in Changsha, which a few weeks ago was looted and burned by Red armies.

SHORTS SCURRY TO COVER ON MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 15—(AP)—The stock market played the old game of running the shorts to cover today, and played it hard.

In a helter-skelter rush to protect profits, the Bears bid up their trading favorites 3 to 12 points and more during a tumultuous last half hour that was reminiscent of other days.

Sales in the final fifty minutes were nearly 850,000 shares, or about 250,000 more than for the two forenoon hours. Stocks were irregular in the earlier hours. There was further selling of the coppers and miscellaneous shares, including republic steel, Shell and Union oil, Columbia graphophone, International nickel and Caterpillar tractor, all of which made new 1930 minimums on small declines.

The general dullness of the market discouraged very strenuous short selling, however, and when the tone began to improve around midday there was moderate covering which gradually increased in volume until the big squeeze of the final dealings. Several strong stocks closed two or three points under the top on quick profit-taking, but in general the last sales were at the day's best figures.

Here, There And Yon

Bits of Personal News Gleaned About Interesting People

Now is a good time of year to visit the coast, says C. A. Kells, who is just back from Oceanside where he left his family for a stay. Flowers are beautiful there, grass is green, the air is pure. The Y camp, according to Mr. Kells, was quite successful at Oceanside. The Tillamook county court is showing an interest in the camp and is willing to cooperate in helping build a road to it.

W. O. Vaughan of Eulino, a Clackamas county town, was in Salem yesterday to attend the meeting called to organize a democratic congressional committee to put over candidacy of W. A. Delzell for congress. Vaughan is county chairman for the party in Clackamas and was one of the few chairmen who did not send proxies to the session.

"I'll contribute $100 to any charity organization in the state named by anyone who can get Senator Charles McNary to donate me in any city in the state," Elton Watkins, democratic candidate for senator from Oregon, declared before a meeting of his party here yesterday. He added he believed, if such a debate could be arranged, it would "show up" the present senator's record.

B. SCHUCKING BUYS PATTERSON'S FARM

Mrs. I. L. Patterson, widow of the late governor yesterday completed sale of her half interest in the 441-acre Patterson ranch in Eola to Mr. and Mrs. B. O. Schucking, Mrs. Schucking's mother, Mrs. A. N. Gilbert, owns the other half interest in the property.

A. N. Gilbert and I. L. Patterson purchased the tract, originally part of a donation land claim of 638.80 acres patented in 1876, from William P. Putnam in December, 1895. At one time, Patterson and Gilbert sold a third interest to John H. Brophy, who later sold to W. H. Patterson. The new owners have not announced consideration on the transaction. They took possession yesterday. This deal is a material link in closing of the Patterson estate, legal end of which Donald Young is handling.

Roseburg Sells Refunding Bond Issue of $35,000

ROSEBURG, Ore., Aug. 15—(AP)—The city of Roseburg has sold to Atkinson-Jones and company, Portland, a $35,000 refunding bond issue. The bid was $101,012 for each $100. Four other bids including one of $100.24 from the state treasurer, were received. The money will be used to refund a $40,000 issue due in September. The old bonds were sold 20 years ago to pay for the first streets paved in the city. No sinking fund was ever created but the city has $5000 on hand to use in refunding the issue.

RAINS REVIVE HOPE OF CROP

Relief Organization Plans Outlined by Hoover Receive Praise

They pledged the chief executive the wholehearted support of their organizations and said they were prepared to begin immediate cooperation. The conditions in Montana were viewed today as among the most difficult at this time and Secretary Hyde already has initiated steps to provide aid. Several million sheep and about 500,000 head of cattle soon will need feed in the central part of the state, reports indicated, and immediate activity to move the cattle to better grazing land or to ship in emergency food is to be initiated.

The department of agriculture reports showed from one half to one inch of rain has fallen during the last few days in nearly all of Missouri, the southern half of Illinois and Indiana, nearly all of Kentucky, most of West Virginia, southwest Virginia, and nearly all of Tennessee and Alabama.

At the same time it was said good rains had swept the area extending from south central Kansas northwest over that state and into extreme southwest Nebraska. Southern Ohio also has had some showers and general

Being Married To Porter Aged Her, Complaint

She has been prematurely aged, and it is now necessary for her health that she be freed from William Porter and relieved from almost constant abuse and mistreatment, sets forth Hazel Porter in divorce complaint filed with the county clerk against William Porter.

They were married in Linn county in October 1899, and have two daughters. She charges cruel and inhuman treatment and that defendant has neglected his business of shoe repairman on account of continued use of intoxicating liquors. He has so neglected affairs for drink, that throughout her entire married life plaintiff has had to work out to help support the family, the complaint says.

Mrs. C. Turner Dies in Salem; Ill 4 Months
Mrs. Clara Turner, widow of the late W. T. Turner, a Portland druggist, died in this city Friday morning after an illness extending over a four months' period. She was 64 years old.

Funeral services will be held in Portland this morning with Rev. D. J. Howe officiating. She was the mother of Helen and Paul Turner of 1143 Hall street, both of whom survive. She also leaves a sister, Mrs. Mark D. Ellis of Salem, two brothers, L. G. Pickell, Medford and W. M. Pickell, Shaw.

Mrs. Turner was born in Illinois coming to Oregon at the age of 17. She was a graduate of Oregon State college and taught in several Oregon high schools before her marriage. She had lived in Salem for the past five years, moving here after the death of her husband seven years ago.

DEMOCRATS SHOOT AT HAWLEY RECORD

McNary Also Comes in for Criticism as Group Organizes Here

(Continued from page 1) He stated, and said his statements were based upon facts brought out in the trial in federal court in Denver, that the change from a non-profit making insurance to the new system was brought about largely through Hawley, with whom had conferred head officials of eastern life insurance offices.

The "coup" was made at a W. O. meeting in Oakland, Calif., attended by 1,000 delegates, said Coulter. All but 59 of these delegates were sent on a tour of the city; the picked 59 got behind closed doors and changed the insurance system of the lodge, Coulter related.

The spokesman declared this record would be brought out in the campaign against Hawley. Delzell, nominee for representative, closed the series of talks, dwelling especially on Hawley's record in rebating of excess profit taxes to big corporations, and pointing out that Hawley presided over this committee, actions of which were all in favor of the big man and opposed to the little one.

Criticism, Not Praise Handed Clifford, Word

The Jackson County Game Protective association, in a second telegram received here late Friday, declared that it had lauded Harold Clifford as an efficient game warden in its first telegram having to do with the game commission controversy. The first telegram was said to have been garbled, and should have read that Clifford's administration was "inefficient instead of efficient."
