Saturday Night Street Address Is Puzzled Out

SANTA BARBARA, Aug. 20.—(AP)—It may have been a practical joker's work, or the person who addressed a letter to a friend on "Saturday night street," may have made the mistake because of association of ideas. Post office clerks are still arguing the question.

At any rate only a few hours elapsed between the time the letter arrived, marked for delivery to the non-existent address, until a postman delivered it to the intended recipient on Bath street.

IDAHO CONVENTION DELEGATES SPLIT

BOISE, Idaho, Aug. 20.—(AP)—Idaho's two largest county republican delegations divided forces here in the gubernatorial race, Ada county instructing its 24 delegates to the state convention for Bryon Deffenbach, state treasurer, while Canyon county with its 14 delegates was conceded to John McMurray. The delegation went formally "uninstructed."

The instructions for Deffenbach in Ada county were linked up with instructions for support of W. E. Borah for the United States senate and Raymond L. Givens of Boise for reelection to the supreme court.

Counties in other parts of the state were widely divided, supporters of McMurray, Deffenbach and W. D. Gillis, attorney general, making varied claims of strength. There were many uninstructed delegations to which all three republican camps laid claims while in others there was a tacit understanding how support would be lent at the state convention.

Armistice Day Slayer Slated To Be Released

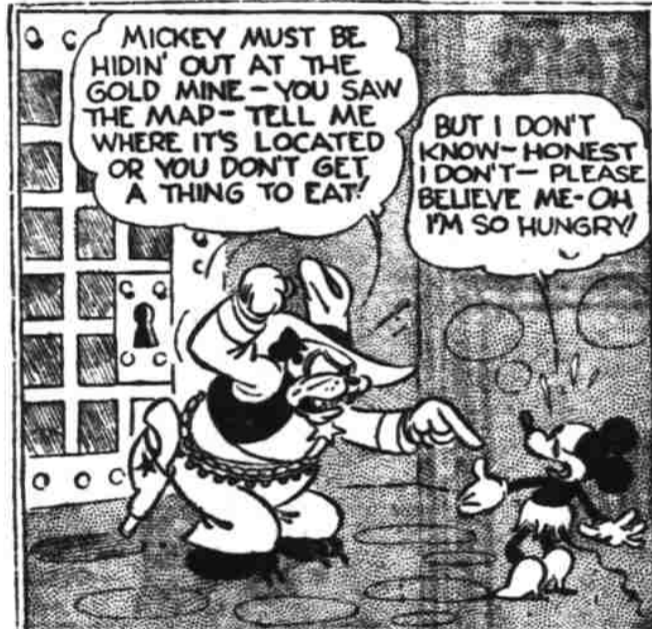

WALLA WALLA, Wash., Aug. 20.—(AP)—The end of one chapter of the Centralia Armistice day slayings of 1919 will be written within a few days with the release from the penitentiary of Loren Roberts, one of the defendants.

The release of Roberts was ordered yesterday by Judge William Campbell at Montesano.

Roberts was found not guilty because of insanity and ordered transferred to the insane ward at the penitentiary.

Ten years later, last March, a jury found him sane after his sanity had been certified by the prison physician.
