

MARY L. BUTLER CALLED BEYOND

Pioneer Resident of Polk County Passes Away at Family Home

MONMOUTH, Aug. 21.—Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at two o'clock at Smith's funeral chapel, for Mrs. Mary Lee Butler, 79, who died Tuesday afternoon at her home in Monmouth after a long illness. She had been occupying a cottage at DeLake with her daughter, Mrs. Leighton Smith, and was attended by her son, Dr. Frank E. Butler, of Portland. Tuesday morning she requested that she be taken to her home in Monmouth, where she was conveyed by ambulance, and her passing occurred late the same afternoon.

Mary Lee was born June 16, 1851, on the land claim of her parents, Nicholas and Sarah Lee, near Dallas. In 1872 she was married to Orville Butler, who died May 27, 1927. Four children survive: Mrs. Smith of Monmouth; Vance L. Butler of Ventura, Cal.; J. Dean Butler of Oregon City; and Dr. Frank E. Butler of Portland; also seven grandchildren; and four sisters: Mrs. J. W. Bean of Ventura, Cal.; Mrs. Martha Odell of Nehalem; Mrs. Eliza J. Smith and Mrs. Adelaide Williams of Portland.

Mrs. Butler had been a resident of Monmouth for many years and was active in social and church work of the city. For nine years she and Mr. Butler made their home on a farm in Marion county across the Willamette from Independence, where the Oregon Electric station, Orville, was named for Mr. Butler, and is built on the Butler farm.

Burial was in the Knights of Pythias cemetery south of Monmouth.

'Walkathon' Contest Wins Embroidered Blacksmith's Apron for Dumb Ingenuity

By RUSSELL J. NEWLAND
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 20. — (AP)—Since Charley (Cash and Carry) Pyle ran off his first transcontinental foot race three years ago, endurance contests beyond belief have sprung up. We have tree sitting, flat pole sitting, dance marathons, reading and talking marathons and possibly a couple of hundred other endurance efforts whose identification escape the memory at the moment.

This department, acting as a self appointed commission, unanimously awards the embroidered blacksmith's apron to the person whose fertile brain conceived the "Walkathon," or walking marathon idea. It absolutely is in a class by itself.

It seems that 20 or 30 couples (men and women) started walking in a dance hall here more than a month ago. Rules of the contest permit them to square off like dancers, or entwine arms about each other's waists or merely hold hands . . . as long as they keep walking.

They walk day and night. Every hour they are allowed ten minutes rest, for sleeping or eating. This writer was duly unimpressed during the first month but what with all his friends dropping into the place at all hours of the night and thereafter raving about the thing, he gave it the onceover. You can peg me for a "goose" if it isn't on the up and up and exactly as advertised.

In these meager ten minutes they sleep on one another's shoulders. The one who stays awake, pilots the other and vice versa. They eat standing up to a lunch counter that is shoved onto the floor at designated times. Entertainment of all kinds from vaudeville to near-grand opera, is provided for spectators and contestants.

As is usually the case in anything that goes to bear out Earnum's contention, my old friend Mike Fisher is in on the business. Mike helped organize the Pacific coast league in 1903 and he owned the Sacramento and Tacoma clubs but he says this is a lot better than baseball—"The take" is easier. He owns the hall where these "perpetual plodders" are performing.

All Mike does is stand around and look wise and collect handsome dividends in the way of rent checks. "That," said Mike with a wave of his hand toward the enclosure where the five remaining couples were wandering aimlessly about, "is my idea of two degrees less than nothing. Can you imagine anybody working like that for a $1,000 (winning couple's prize). I wouldn't do it for a gunny sack of ten dollars bills. But they can rent my hall as long as they like."

PROOF OF CONVICT LABOR IS CLAIMED

HOQUIAM, Wash., Aug. 21.—(AP)—Congressman Albert Johnson, Hoquiam, today exhibited several affidavits with which he proposed to prove that lumber, pulpwood, coal, wheat and other goods received in the United States from Russia are produced by "Soviet induced labor."

The United States treasury department has demanded actual proof of lumber and pulpwood produced in Russia and Siberia is the product of "induced" or convict labor before the government will act to enforce the anti-dumping and other clauses in the new tariff act.

"I've got plenty of proof, all properly sworn to by men from Grays Harbor, Shelton and Tacoma," said Johnson. "The most important statement is from a Tacoma man just back from Soviet Russia and Siberia and consists of 6,000 words. I'll exhibit the statements at the state American Legion convention at Aberdeen before sending them to Washington."

Picking of Hops And Peaches on At Independence

INDEPENDENCE, Aug. 21.—Swope and Berry are harvesting their peach crop. They have a very heavy crop this year, and of an exceptionally fine grade. This orchard was formerly owned by "Uncle" Billy Wright and is situated north of town, and is of the river bottom soil.

The Homer Woods, Dean Walker and Grover Titus hop yards have all started to pick hops. The first hop-picking dance was held in the Kent hall Saturday night, and a large crowd attended.

ODELL LAKE TRIP PROVES ENJOYABLE

AURORA, Aug. 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Louis Weber, Andy Fry, and Elmer Zimmerman, Jr., of Portland, who have been spending the summer with his aunt, Mrs. Weber, were among the passengers on the Odell Lake special excursion train, Sunday, August 17. They left at 6:38 in the morning, reaching the lake at 12:40 p. m.

As they approached the summit they traveled through the beautiful rugged scenery of the Cascades. After lunch at the end of the trip they took an hour's ride upon the White Swan, an excursion boat on Odell Lake. This body of water is seven miles long, three miles wide and 2300 feet deep. In the one hour the excursionists spent on the water, they encountered a variety of weather conditions.

When starting the lake was as weather and view beautiful, in a short time clouds arose and a severe thunder storm played over the water, the breakers began rolling high, and the boat rocked as if in a storm at sea. Before landing, the temperamental elements, after having played their little joke, became calm and serene once more.

Back in the timber where they can not be seen from the mountain surrounded water, is a hotel built of logs, and a number of summer cottages, placed there so the natural beauty of the scene may be preserved, and unspoiled by the hand of man. The trip was reported an enjoyable one, and the train comfortable and untroubled.
