HEALTH WORK HERE RANKED NEAR TOP

Progress in Last few Years Outlined by Dr. Douglas At Rotary Meeting

Marion county is one of the bright spots in the country so far as the health of its citizens is concerned was the comment of Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, head of the Marion county health unit, in a talk to members of the Rotary club yesterday. Marked progress has been made in reducing the number of cases of preventable diseases. For instance no typhoid has been reported in this city this summer.

The progress has been made possible through cleaning up the environment by making it more sanitary; immunization from special communicable diseases, and general health education.

There are many serious problems in the way of public health work, however, Dr. Douglas said. Tuberculosis still claims many victims. The death rates from cancer, heart trouble, diabetes and nephritis show increases.

The cost of the Marion county health unit is 71c per capita of which 15c comes from the Commonwealth fund. Health protection should be regarded of as much necessity in way of merit public support as fire and police protection, was the doctor's opinion. He concluded by urging Rotarians to have regular health examinations.

Picnic Will Held at Hager's. The Rotary-Kiwanis picnic was announced for Hager's grove this afternoon.

Tom Kay reported that Dr. Lee Stover, who is at Hot Lake, reports he is improving and will come home next week. The club greeted Prof. W. I. Staley in honor of his completion of 40 years of work in business in Salem.

G. Allen gave a three-minute biographical talk. Mr. Allen was ambitious as a student to be a mining engineer but got into the canning business with his father and has continued in this line. He is now northwest manager for Hunt Bros. Packing company.

FORMER TEAMSTER WILLS 75 MILLION

CLARION, Pa., Aug. 27. — (AP) — The will of a former teamster was revealed today as leaving a fortune of between $75,000,000 and $100,000,000 to five members of his family. The will was that of Thomas B. Slick, whose independent operations in Illinois and the southwest led to his being known as the wealthiest independent oil operator in the world. Those the paper named were his widow and three children, and his mother. Slick died in a Baltimore hospital August 16.

Bits of Personal News Gleaned About Interesting People

Oil may be discovered in the Klamath Falls country, and that that city will have the greatest property in Oregon said E. J. Murray, former Klamath Falls and Marshfield publisher, when in Salem for a short time Wednesday. Murray is leading a company which is drilling for oil at a spot about 30 miles from the city of Klamath Falls. The well is down 2000 feet and Murray expects the shaft will need to be sunk 1000 to 2000 feet more. On his trip north he bought more casing at Portland. He finds considerable political sentiment for Meter in Klamath Falls but believes Bailey is gaining in popularity there. Murray recently headed a fight against the city manager form of government. The plan was defeated by a five to one vote.

Grover Hillman has just returned from four weeks spent in the central east at Minneapolis, where he visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Hillman, and at St. Paul and St. Martins, Iowa, each of which places he visited relatives and friends. As to business conditions in the east, Mr. Hillman said that according to his brother, who is superintendent of the Minneapolis, St. Louis railroad, the prospects for business is materially improved. Freight is moving faster and the whole business situation is more brisk. As for Mr. Hillman's own observations the whole country looked extremely dry. Business were dried up, and especially in Iowa, there were plenty of ears on the corn, but they had failed to fill because the weather was terrifically hot.

Total Spent on County Schools Over a Million

Tabulation of receipts for educational purposes for all the school districts of the county have been slow in coming in because of detail and the necessity for infinite checking on the part of auditors but is now released from the county superintendent of school's office, and shows a total of $1,367,290.59, which covers general and special taxes, sales of bonds, and every other source from which money has been received.

Peters bad Poison for All Rodents

H. H. Peters, with a string of grey digger scaps longer than a dozen Chinese pig-tails walked into the county clerk's office Wednesday and asked for the bounty on 721 scaps.

Peters got the money at the rate of 5 cents a head as the ears and nose were in each scap he presented for bounty. At the county rate his grey digger bounty amounted to $36.05. He also claimed bounty of 10 cents each on 12 mole scaps and of 10 cents each on 94 gopher scaps. Peters used a gun in making his collection. He says "business as well as pleasure" causes him to be a bounty collector.
