

Local News Briefs

Dr. Brown Here—Dr. and Mrs. Walter H. Brown of Palo Alto, Calif., arrived yesterday to visit here until today with Salem friends. They are on a vacation tour to northern points. Dr. Brown was head of the Marion county child health demonstration during the early stages of its organization here nearly six years ago. He is now in the department of public health at Stanford university, and in addition to teaching health classes looks after health examinations and problems of the entering class.

For Rent—Adults—Close in Flats—Each has 5 large rooms. Suitable for teachers, nurses, business people. Unfurnished except for gas stoves and water heaters. Rents $35 and $30. See at 650-658 Ferry street. Beck and Hendricks, 189 N. High St.

Gets Job in Hops—The transient woman who was brought to the Y. W. C. A. here Monday by the police matron after she had reached Salem in a pitiable condition, due largely to lack of food and sleep, yesterday afternoon secured a job in one of the hop yards around here. She was fitted out for the work by the owner of the yard; otherwise she would have been unable to go, as she had with her only the clothes she wore, and no funds to purchase the usual outfit needed for work in the fields.

At School Tomorrow—Miss Vera McCune, secretary to the principal at Parrish junior high school, will be in the office there, beginning Friday morning, until school starts to register pupils who did not attend that school last year. Pupils are also requested to appear before school starts to sign up for lockers. Cooperation in these two matters will relieve considerable of the congestion that is attendant upon opening of the school year.

Sacrifice Sale—5 rooms, furnace, 1870 Fairmount St. $2000. Terms, W. H. Grabenhorst & Co. Phone 515.

Many After Job—A number of applications have already come to the desk of Supt. George Hug for the position of head of the high school machine shops. This department had been for years in charge of the late E. E. Bergman. The work is carried on under the Smith-Hughes cooperation, and because of this the superintendent is working with O. D. Adams state vocational education director, in securing a man.

Register for School—Among the eight students who have registered recently for senior high school are Robert Osland of North Bend who will be a sophomore, and Ruth Briedwell, who comes as a senior from Grant high school in Portland. Students who will enter Salem high this fall for the first time come from Texas, Wyoming, Nebraska, Kansas and Oregon, the cards now show.

Free Bus Rides, courtesy Miller's store, tomorrow on all incoming buses between hours of 8:30 a. m. to 2:30 p. m.

Bids to Open—Bids for construction of the new armory at Cottage Grove will be opened in that city next Monday. According to word from national guard headquarters here, where the armory plans are on display and where the bids are being received, indications are that an unusually large number of contractors will submit figures.

Metschan Here Soon—Phil Metschan, republican nominee for governor, is expected in Salem soon for a visit with republican leaders here. J. C. Perry, chairman for the county central committee, said Wednesday that when Metschan came he would call all the precinct committeemen, 80 in number, to Salem for a conference.

During the month of September Miller's Department Store will keep open every Saturday night until 8:30.

Attending Institute—Mrs. Mary Fulkerson, school superintendent of Marion county, is in Toledo, Lincoln county, today and Friday to speak at the annual teachers' institute conducted there. Lincoln county holds this gathering for teachers before the beginning of the school term in the fall.

Two Licenses Issued—Two marriage licenses were issued in the county clerk's office Wednesday. Frederick B. Lidlow, 26, 465 East 11th street, Eugene, obtained a license to marry Florence McDonald, 19, 1743 Lawrence street, Salem. Emidio L. DeSantis, 21, Silverton, obtained a license to marry Bertha Schafer, 17, Silverton.

For Sale—Purebred Cocker Spaniel pups. Tel. 2119-R.

Given 30 Days in Jail—Thirty days in jail were assigned to Raymond Small and LeRoy Fournelle, local boys who were charged in justice court Saturday with tampering with a car preparatory to making a getaway in the auto. They pleaded guilty in court here Saturday and were sentenced yesterday.

Addington Case Heard—Charges of non-support were again pressed against C. N. Addington in justice court Wednesday but action was held up by the court pending Addington's promise to take better care of his family.

Come to Mehama's Old Time dance tonight. Lots of fun.

Case Continued—Robert Thompson, Nyssa, Oregon youth, pleaded guilty to drive a car which he was unable to control when he was brought before Justice Brazier Small on Wednesday. The case was continued for sentencing.

LUMBER NEEDS TOLD BY CROW

Importance of Industry to Oregon Cited; Tariff Held Essential

Oregonians need to become lumber-minded, was the declaration of C. C. Crow, editor of a Lumber Digest, of Portland, before the Rotarians yesterday noon. Lumber is and will be for a long time to come this state's principal industry. Sixty cents of every dollar coming into the state is for lumber. Oregon and Washington have one-third of the standing timber and Oregon one-fifth, in the whole United States.

Mr. Crow told his Salem audience how important lumbering is to this city. The mills in Salem and immediate vicinity have an annual payroll of five million dollars. In this valley alone there are 124 billion feet of standing timber, enough to manufacture the lumber for five rows of five-room cottages set 100 feet apart, around the earth, with wooden sidewalks and paving and outbuildings in addition.

Canadian Lumber Being Shipped In
He cited the need for a protective tariff because British Columbia mills employ Hindu and Oriental labor at low cost and have a shipping rate by water of $2.00 per thousand to New York less than Oregon and Washington mills. Lumber imports from Canada the first half of this year exceeded those of the first half of 1929, in spite of the lumber slump in this country, which shows the need for protection to hold up the market.

Postal Receipts Still Increasing
Business at the Salem postoffice continues to show a decided increase over the same periods last year, with the August, 1930, receipts totaling $16,760.06 as compared to $15,163.89 for the same month in 1929.

Wells in Salem—Rev. Fred Alban Weil, minister of the First Unitarian church here, with Mrs. Weil and their children, has returned to Salem after spending the summer at the summer home in Bellingham, Wash. He will occupy the pulpit next Sunday morning.

Kansas Visitors—Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Goodwin of Abilene, Kansas, are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Dickinson at their home on Union street. After a few days here the Kansas guests will leave for California. Mrs. Goodwin was a former teacher in Salem schools and is a cousin of Mr. Dickinson.

Pays $50—Louis Trotter, apprehended Wednesday morning by the south prowler car about 3 o'clock, was released in the afternoon after paying a fine of $50. He was arrested for speeding and possession of intoxicating liquor.

Health People Here—Dr. Weldon of Texas, connected with the United States public health service, and Wayne Cole of Portland, manager of Morningside sanitarium were visitors at the state insane hospital Wednesday.

Takes New Position—Miss Blandina Kenney is new stenographer in the office of R. H. Bassett, attorney. She takes the place of Miss Mildred Barber who resigned the first of the month.

Returns From Coast—Mrs. Willford Pettijohn and two daughters, Miss Helen Pettijohn and Mrs. Lucile Pettijohn-Kaufman, returned last night from a 10-day vacation spent at Taft.

Leaving for Wasco—Frank Medler and his family will leave this week for Wasco, where they will make their home. They have been living at 677 South Commercial street here.

'BONANZA' IS STRUCK Stephens and Hillpot Claim Rich ore Find IN WILDS OF DOUGLAS

The lure of gold which has ever led men into uncharted countries lured two Salem men, Captain W. C. Stephens and John V. L. Hillpot, into the wilds of Douglas county where, during 59 days of prospecting, they made their "strike."

Captain Stephens is a veteran miner and he terms this ore the best that he has seen. They are calm about it, however, and entirely free from the hysteria usually associated with the prospector who has "struck pay dirt."

Five guards from the state penitentiary here were dispatched to Eugene Tuesday night to participate in the search for Vic Sutherland, alleged moonshine slayer. Warden Lewis said a request for the guards was received from the ore had to be brought down the mountain with mules for a distance of 10 miles. The men spent 33 days last year and 59 this year in the prospecting work. "No stock for sale" is the first declaration of both of them. They intend to go back next spring and work the claim in a small way and if it develops as it is expected they will sell out to a mining corporation. The nearest working mine is the Bohemia which is about 20 miles northeast of the Stephens-Hillpot claim.

Lane county officials. The guards assigned to the hunt include Sol Worden, H. T. Hoare, Louis Olsen, J. F. Hitson and M. O. Edwards. All of the men have had experience in man-hunts and are expert shots. Reports received at the prison today indicated that the posses were hot on the trail of the slayer.

Hawley Resumes District Tour; At St. Helens
Congressman W. C. Hawley on Tuesday resumed his annual tour of the first congressional district inquiring into its needs and obtaining useful information. He was at Oswego Tuesday night; yesterday he attended the meeting of the state republican central committee, at Portland.

Today he will be at St. Helens in the interest of its waterway; Friday at Rainier, and Longview, attending the North Pacific waterways congress, and Saturday will be at Astoria, remaining a few days, especially in the interest of the $6,000,000 bridge across the Columbia, authority for which was granted in an act he had passed at the last session of congress.

ARTIST VIOLINIST TO APPEAR SUNDAY

Announcement was made last night by Rev. D. J. Howe, pastor of the First Christian church here, that a concert of music of unusual interest will be given at the church Sunday night, September 7, by Frances Smith, artist violinist, with Florence Howe McCracken as accompanist.

Frances Smith is a recognized artist of Portland, where her home is and where she has been spending the summer. She is a pupil of Richard Czerwonky of the Bush conservatory, of which she is a graduate and to which she will return this fall as a member of the violin faculty there.

Miss Smith and Mrs. McCracken, a former Salem girl and daughter of Rev. Howe, have recently appeared in a series of radio concerts and other programs in Portland. The program which they will give here will consist largely of numbers not frequently heard as yet, including two compositions by Czerwonky.

EASY TO LOOK AT—good to look at—that's your reaction to charm and beauty. Easy to smoke—good to smoke—that's the lure of Camels. Good because of the natural mildness and fragrance of mellow tobaccos, with all the delicacy and aroma preserved by scientific skill in preparation and blending—good because there's no over-processing or doctoring—no flatness of taste.

Easy—because they are so mild and smooth that you can smoke them all the day through with never a suggestion of throat discomfort. Notice that it's Camels now—your crowd and elsewhere—because Camels are so good to smoke.
