Prevent Windows From Sticking

Is it not provoking to have your windows stick after they have been freshly painted? It is very easy to prevent this from happening. Just remember for two or three days after the painting, to run each window up and down several times each day. When they are thoroughly dry they will not stick. THE HOUSEWIFE.

Shelley Clan Plans Organization

A gathering of unusual interest to the older residents of Willamette valley was the group of the John Shelley descendants which met at the state fair ground Sunday. Fifty four members of the clan were present and plans were made to make this an annual event and the next year an effort will be made to include the descendants of John Shelley's four brothers.

John Shelley, accompanied by his wife Margaret, crossed the plains from Fairfield, Iowa, in 1853, and settled at Pleasant Hill. There were 13 children born to Mr. and Mrs. Shelley, five of whom are still living, and who have been identified with the history of the state in many creditable ways. Two guns brought across the plains by Mr. Shelley are now in the collection at the capitol building in Salem. There are about 300 descendants of the Shelleys living in Oregon and it is hoped to get them all together for the reunion next year.

Statesman Pattern

By ANNE ADAMS

An unusually smart cape coat, and a front pleated skirt combine to make a delightful suit for the well dressed school girl. Of course, you may omit the cape if you wish, but besides being extremely chic, it affords additional warmth for chilly days later in the season.

Pattern 2010 makes up delightfully in kasha, serge, velveteen, lightweight tweed or flannel. Navy blue, brown, bottle green, dull rose or the mixed weaves are serviceable and most becoming. May be obtained only in sizes 4, 6, 8, 10, and 12. Size 4 requires 1 1/2 yards of 54-inch material.

No dressmaking experience is necessary to make this model with our pattern. Yards for every size, and simple, exact instructions are given.

Send fifteen cents in coins carefully wrapped, or stamps for each pattern. Write plainly your name, address and style number. Be sure to state size wanted.

Our new fall and winter fashion book containing exquisite models for adults and children and an excellent assortment of transfer patterns and stamper needles, is now ready. Price fifteen cents. Book with pattern, 25 cents. Address all mail and orders to Statesman Pattern Department, 248 West 17th street, New York City.

Miss June Philpot and Miss Laura Hale will be hostesses for an informal tea at the Hale home this afternoon in compliment to Miss Caroline Hrubetz who will leave shortly for New York City where she will enter Columbia university for advanced work as a teacher.

Have Money in your pocket Next Winter by putting up fruit

This year pure cane sugar is so cheap and fruit so plentiful that home canning is real economy.

For the winter diet you can't have too much canned fruit. It is wholesome for everybody and adds variety to every menu.

Since pure cane sugar is exceedingly cheap and fine fruit plentiful, you will be surprised at how many jars of fruit and glasses of jelly can be put up without taxing your food budget. And next winter when you start using this fruit you will be ahead financially.

In addition to putting up preserves, jellies and jams, it is decidedly worth while to make some relishes and pickles. These are restful accompaniments for meat and fish.

Plan now to put up some fruit. Just look at the low price of sugar and fruit and you'll see that home canning is real economy. A bit of sweet makes the meal complete. The Sugar Institute.

PROBATE BUSINESS RUSHING AT COURT

A miscellany of probate business was brought before County Judge Siegmund for attention Wednesday.

Theron O. Kester was named executor of the estate of Sylvia J. Kester, deceased. She left real property of an estimated value of $4400 and personal property of an estimated value of $3200. Appraiser names for the estate are H. D. Mars, Paul McKee and G. C. Mason.

The final order was filed in the estate of Cyrus Butler, deceased. Jesse G. Warrington has acted as executor.

J. W. Hyett as administrator of the estate of Sylvia Smith Hyett filed a notice of final account for that property. Receipts from the administration of the estate amounted to $3746. Hyett reported.

Knute Digerness and Merene Digerness were named jointly executor and executrix of the estate of Nels Digerness, deceased. Real property of the estimated value of $9000 and personal property of the estimated value of $7000 was left by Digerness. There are six legatees named in his will.

There are 14 heirs to the estate of John Krebs, deceased, according to first probate papers filed in court. Lizzie Krebs is to serve as administrator with the will annexed. The value of the property left is estimated at $8000.

TURNER PARALYZED BY LATE TRAGEDY

TURNER, Sept. 3.—The town of Turner was all but paralyzed Monday from the news of the death of Turner's most awful tragedy in its history, that of the death of five women on one of Turner's R. R. crossings by a fast train before seven o'clock Monday morning.

Groups of towns people stood helplessly waiting to do anything that would ease the burden of the bereaved families. To add to the sadness, A. E. Robertson and son-in-law, Herbert Briggs were away up in the mountains, hunting huckleberries and it was some time before they could be located and informed of the tragic death of their wives; also of the death of Mr. Briggs' mother, Mrs. Bettie Briggs.

Miss Aileen Robertson was the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Robertson and a charming girl, talented musically and would in three weeks have entered her senior year in high school. Miss Inez Barnett was the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barnett, and a pleasant girl whom everyone liked, and who would have finished her junior year in high school the coming year. The girls were cousins and all five women were related and several of them doubly so.

Turner people will not soon recover from the shock and sadness and will always wonder "why," and just what did cause the accident. All wish to be of assistance and are anxious to express

LEADERS IN STATE WILL SPEAK HERE

Plans were being formed Wednesday by J. N. Chambers, president of the chamber of commerce, for bringing to Salem this fall some of the outstanding speakers of the state to discuss subjects of general importance. The question of suitable speakers for chamber meetings will be up at the board of directors meeting next Monday night.

Chambers is anxious to keep a large attendance at chamber luncheons and thinks that capable speakers will do much to secure a crowd. A debate between a proponent and an opponent to the cabinet form of government has been suggested as a feature for one of the fall meetings.

BALZAR HAS HUGE LEAD IN PRIMARY

RENO, Nev., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Scattering returns from 15 of Nevada's 17 counties, some of them complete, give for Governor: Republican—Balzar 3,467, Cowles 744, Roberts 1,330. Democratic—Agee 2,044, Richards 2,442.

RENO, Nev., Sept. 3.—(AP)—Lack of issues and casual interest, except in the contest for governor and a local judgeship apparently brought out a light vote in Nevada's state-wide primary election today.

Five men sought nominations for governor, three on the republican ticket and two on the democratic. Governor Fred B. Balzar, republican, seeks re-election and was opposed by Mayor E. E. Roberts of Reno and State Senator R. H. Cowles, also of Reno. A close race between Balzar and Roberts was expected.

Charles L. Richards, former congressman and H. A. Agee, Nevada livestock man were the contenders for the democratic nomination for governor. The campaign was of the backslapping variety, largely, with personalities rather than issues being involved.

Churchill vs. Alma Mater NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—When the University of Oklahoma and New Mexico meet on the gridiron here Oct. 4, in the opening game on the Sooner schedule, Tom Churchill, former Oklahoma athlete and star in the decaathlon events, will be pulling against his alma mater. He will take up his duties as assistant coach at New Mexico soon.
