

12TH STREET JOB TO START

Extension to Meet Pacific Highway Will Begin This Week

Construction work on the new extension of 12th street in Salem, south and east for two miles to the main Pacific highway, is to start this week when Frank Johnson, roadmaster, sets a crew at work preparing the grade. Johnson was uncertain yesterday whether the road would be graded and rocked in time for use this winter. He said if the rains held back for several months he hoped the job would be completed. Some time this month, Johnson will pull a power shovel from another job in the county and use it on the 12th street extension.

All the property rights for the new land to be crossed by the road as well as the property needed for the elimination of existing curves has been arranged for by the county court save for a small piece on the McDonald place. This is still being negotiated for.

When the 12th street extension is finished, Johnson thinks much of the through traffic will use this short cut north and south through Salem. Approximately one mile will be saved in the cross-town trip and in addition, the heavy traffic of downtown Salem will be missed.

MINISTER OF WAR RESIGNS POSITION

BUENOS AIRES, Argentine, Sept. 3 — (AP) — General Luis Dellepiane, minister of war in the cabinet of President Yrigoyen, today sent his resignation to the president, saying he was unable to continue direction of the country's military forces.

La Nacion's political expert believed the resignation would be followed by resignations of other members of the cabinet. Among those the writer expected to give up office were: Jose Abalos, minister of public works; Vice-Admiral Tomas Zucchi, minister of marine, and possibly others.

Conflicting rumors continued to circulate in the city. Meanwhile, officials at the government house were uncommunicative. President Yrigoyen's illness continued today and his temperature remained fairly high.

A force of marines disembarked in the port early today, but returned to their ships after dawn. Police raided the University Popular (the people's university) and searched for firearms, but without success. The raid caused general surprise and intensified rumors of student activity in political circles. None of the students was arrested, however.

This can not help but be a hodge-podge. I've been hither and you over the countryside, eating at all sorts o' places and all kinds o' things—and now I'm off on my vacation and if the contents of my suitcase are found listed under coffee cake as ingredients—I shouldn't be a bit surprised!

But perhaps those bits will help to make the daily three more interesting and varied.

Fish Sandwich (This was—oh, so good. And it doesn't rest so heavily on your soul—and digestive system.)

Two salmon or halibut steaks, Onion, Pimento

Oysters (canned if the month hasn't an R in its name) Butter Slice and fry onion until clear, a proud onion and chopped pimento on one steak, lay other steak on it and let stand about two hours (not absolutely necessary). Take off upper steak: salt, pepper. Lay oysters thickly over it put salt, pepper and bits of butter over oysters and place upper steak on it.

Bake with four strips salt pork under it and over it. Bake about one hour in a moderate oven—350 degrees—when almost done, spread it with bread crumbs soaked in butter and brown.

Serve with white sauce and chopped egg on plate with lemon and radishes.

Quick Caramel Delight Boil gently for about two hours, one or more cans of sweetened condensed milk—Eagle brand—without opening the can.

Stir on pantry shelf or refrigerator until ready to use. Then chill and open can. The caramelized product will come out solid.

Slice and serve on a slice of pineapple. Top with whipped cream and nuts.

Variations Mix the caramel with about equal quantities of whipped cream. Chill. Arrange halves of lady fingers in sherbert glass.

Pile in the chilled mixture. Add with a candied cherry. Add grated pineapple and chopped nuts to above mixture.

Serve on angel food or sponge cake slices.

Serve in sherbert glasses with alternate layers of strawberry jello and top with whipped cream and nuts.

This dessert may be kept unopened—Indefinitely. It is handy for that unexpected guest.

MARION 4-H ENTRY TO BE BEST EVER

The biggest and best exhibit of 4-H club work ever displayed at the state fair is promised for Marion county this month by William W. Fox, county club leader.

Already Fox has 80 livestock exhibits lined up for fall showing and a number of different types of exhibits are planned including a showing of corn, potatoes, livestock of different kinds and poultry raised by Marion county boys and girls.

Fox busy Wednesday in checking the work of the clubs in the county, found that 32 cookery clubs and 37 sewing clubs had entirely completed work prescribed for the 1930 schedule. The closing date for work is November 1, 1930.

In the cookery clubs now finished with their work, 424 young people took part while 402 individuals had completed their work in the sewing clubs. Fox has 50 clubs yet to check.

In the county this year 16 different types of major projects have been followed. These include the growing of corn and potatoes, the raising of rabbits, poultry and cattle.

Melon Thief Scared, may Be Drowned

HUNTERS, Wash., Sept. 3 — (AP) — A general search was started today for Shirley Brooks, 16, who his parents feared lost his life during a watermelon stealing expedition.

Brooks was one of ten boys who moved the patch of a farmer named Gibson, 17 miles south of here Sunday night. The farmer met the party with a shotgun, fired into the air, the boys said, then called them back and gave them a melon feast.

A checkup revealed that Brooks was missing, and an all night search led by Gibson and his wife was fruitless.

The theory was held that Brooks, who was unable to swim, waded into the Spokane river in his eagerness to escape and was drowned.

His parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Brooks, live on the Colville Indian reservation near here.

Large Area of Timber Burned; Crew Enlarged

VANCOUVER, Wash., Sept. 3 — (AP) — Reports received from White Salmon tonight said a forest fire fifteen miles north of there had burned 2500 acres and was sweeping on toward the Columbia national forest before a strong east wind. Fifty men were fighting the blaze today and fifty more left Willard tonight.

Forestry officials believed the fire was started by a smoker. Much of the burned over area was swept by fire several years ago.
