Marion County Association Has all day Meeting at Jefferson

JEFFERSON, Sept. 10—The Marion County Homes association met in the Marion Friends church Tuesday, for an all day's session, with Rev. E. I. Harrington, pastor of the Free Methodist church at Woodburn, president of the association in charge. The morning address was given by Rev. Fletcher Galloway, pastor of the Nazarene church of Salem, using as a text James 1: 14-15.

At the noon hour a cafeteria luncheon was served. After dinner a short business session was held, followed by a song and praise service. Rev. J. K. Stewart, pastor of the Free Methodist church of Salem delivered the message of the afternoon. His text was found in Galatians 6: 14.

UNITED EUROPE IS FAR AWAY, BELIEF

NEW YORK, Sept. 10—(AP)—The plan of Aristide Briand, minister of foreign affairs of France for a united States of Europe "is a possibility in 1949" Dr. Walter Simons, former acting president of Germany and former president of the German supreme court, declared here at a luncheon given in his honor by the board of grade for German-American commerce.

A great many obstacles to the plan must first be surmounted, chief among them "the English difficulty and the Russian difficulty," Dr. Simons said, but none of the obstacles are insurmountable.

England, he asserted, is more Asiatic, Australian and African than it is European, and it will not join any "Pan-European plan without the consent of its dominions."

The "Russian difficulty," he said, lies in the contradiction between the Soviet economic system and that of western Europe. Each state in Europe, too, is trying to set up artificial prosperity by tariff walls which will probably have to be eliminated in favor of "more natural" economies based on the products of the country involved.

Six are Burned To Death When Airplane Falls

MERIDA, Yucatan, Mexico, Sept. 10—(AP)—Six persons were burned to death Tuesday after the huge Sikorsky amphibian airplane Mayar, fell on the outskirts of the city after a test flight and caught fire.

The victims on a pleasure trip, were Captain Orge Iferenas and Alonzo Reyes Flores, pilots; Salvador Kropfer, wireless operator, and the wife, daughter and sister-in-law of Kropfer. The big ship was being tested preparatory for a flight to Mexico City Saturday by Gov. Garcia Carrea. It was owned by the Yucatan government. It was used last May as an "air hoarse" to transport the body of Col. Pablo Sidar from Costa Rica to Mexico. Col. Sidar had died while attempting a flight to Buenos Aires.

Home Patronage In Travel Urged

Extension of the principle of "home patronage" to the purchase of railroad transportation, as a boon not merely to patrons but to the community as well, was urged here today by K. A. De Marais, local agent for Southern Pacific company.

Residents of Salem not only will have their own travel plans facilitated through local purchase of tickets to and from distant points, De Marais pointed out, but will further the advancement of their city through the stimulation of business that naturally follows the "spending of money at home."

Pointing out that many persons contemplating long journeys labor under the mistaken assumption that round-trip tickets must be bought, or can be more economically bought in neighboring metropolitan centers, the agent declared that railroad transportation for anywhere in the country can be purchased locally.

That the buying of such transportation locally means more to the community as well as to the buyer, De Marais said, "is a matter for serious thought."

"Southern Pacific company maintains a passenger ticket office here," he declared, "but like every other business operated in an efficient manner, it expects this office to be patronized. That is what it is here for, and if it is patronized by all who travel out of this community it will become an actually thriving business."

REIGN OF VIOLENCE PROBE IS ORDERED

CHICAGO, Sept. 10—(AP)—Investigation of the reign of violence directed against labor unions and business by racketeers was ordered here by Chief Justice John P. McGoorty of the criminal court.

In a special charge to the September grand jury, Judge McGoorty urged the institution of an inquiry which may be continued by other grand juries and result in the indictment and prosecutions of notorious racketeers. He mentioned no names and made his instructions general rather than specific.

"The great metropolitan area of Chicago is threatened with serious danger," he said. "Predatory interests, by use of coercive methods, including every kind of violence, are seeking domination and control of trade unions and business. Manifestly, I refer to racketeers who boldly challenge the principle of free government."

Judge McGoorty called attention to recent newspaper editorials citing instances of gang terrorism and demanding an end to the reign of violence with its bombings and shootings. "This court most urgently requests you to invite representatives of labor unions and business who are thus threatened to appear before you and disclose, under the protection of the law and the secrecy of the grand jury room, such facts as will lead to ultimate conviction and punishment of those who would rule by violence and injustice," he said.

Seattle Police Interfered in Dry Work Claim

SEATTLE, Sept. 10—(AP)—Interference by Seattle police officers prevented the capture of many loads of liquor landed on the water front here, William M. Whitney, suspended federal dry official testified in his trial in federal court Tuesday.

Whitney is one of four former prohibition officials charged with accepting huge bribes from bootleggers and conniving with them in the violation of prohibition tariff and revenue laws. Roy C. Lyle, suspended prohibition administrator, Earl Cowrin, former chief field agent and R. L. Fryant, former agent, are the other defendants. Whitney was legal adviser in the prohibition unit here.

PRESCRIPTION in use over 47 Years Really Helps Bowels

Don't you want this way of making the bowels behave? A move so well that you feel better doctor's way to make the bowels ter all over! Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does it. Turns everything to water, but cleans out all that hard waste clogging your system. It cleans you out without any shock, for it's only fresh laxative herbs a famous doctor found so good for the bowels, combined with pure pepsin and other harmless ingredients.

A doctor should know what is best for the bowels. Let Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin show you how soon you can train the bowels to move freely, every day, the way they should. It's wonderful the way this prescription works, but it's perfectly harmless; so you can use it whenever a coated tongue or sick headache tells you that you're bilious. Fine for children, too (it tastes so nice) and they ought to have a spoonful the minute they seem fretful, feverish or sluggish, or have a shallow look.

You can get the original prescription Dr. Caldwell wrote so many years ago; your druggist keeps it all ready in big bottles. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and use it always for constipation.

BILLION IN NOTES CALLED BY MELLON

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 (AP)—Secretary Mellon Tuesday called for the redemption of more than $1,000,000,000 in outstanding treasury notes bearing 3 1/2 per cent interest when it became apparent that the latest treasury offering of certificates bearing only 2-3 per cent interest had been subscribed.

The gigantic refunding operation resulting from the redemption of the billion dollars in 3 1/2 per cent notes will permit the government to take advantage of the prevailing low interest rates and get the public debt on a lower interest level.

The offering for the Sept. 15 financing of 2 1/2-3 per cent certificates was the lowest interest rate proposed by the treasury on its short term securities. Mellon offered $325,000,000 of these certificates and it was announced tonight that subscriptions were closed at the end of today's business.

The 3 per cent notes which are to be redeemed March 15 under the order issued today by the treasury include the treasury notes of series A-1930-1932 and series B-1930-1932. The first issue did not mature until March 15, 1932, and the second until Sept. 15, 1932.

Of the original issues of the securities there are outstanding $649,076,450 of series A and

GOVERNOR CUTS Taylor's Term To two Years

Governor Norblad Tuesday commuted from six to two years the penitentiary sentence of Edward Taylor, who was committed to the prison from Yamhill county May 16, 1929, for a statutory offense. The commutation of sentence was recommended by Judge L. E. McMahan of the Marion county circuit court.

Judge McMahan said that circumstances revealed since sentence was imposed justified a lighter term.

Ensign Killed; Plane Hits Mast

SAN DIEGO, Sept. 10—(AP)—Ensign S. G. Walsh was killed here Tuesday when his plane crashed into the foremast of the U. S. Elliot. His was the third navy air fatality in 18 days, after a six months period in which navy fliers based here flew more than 30,000 hours without serious mishap.

TEACHER SEEKING U. S. ADMITTANCE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—(AP)—Negotiations were started today between the labor and state departments in an effort to arrange the admission into the United States of Miss Ella Hewitt, daughter of George Hewitt, a labor member of the English parliament.

Miss Hewitt was detained at Ellis Island last Thursday when she arrived at New York to teach music at the Manumit school, a labor preparatory institution at Pawling, N. Y. Immigration officials said she had the wrong kind of a visa to be admitted as a teacher.

The case was reviewed today by W. W. Husband, assistant secretary of labor, who then communicated with state department officials in regard to obtaining another visa to satisfy the legal requirements.

Just where do the farmers benefit?

... asks F. E. ROWELL
Willamette Valley Orchardist

HORSE SENSE SERIES . . . NO. 5

"I DON'T want to be narrow-minded about this power situation in Oregon. All of us who live out in the country know that cities are our markets for farm products and we want our Oregon cities to grow and prosper.

"If municipal ownership would help them—even if it did cost the farmer more than his share of taxes in the proposed 'Utility Districts'—I'd be in favor of it.

"But industrial leaders in the cities tell us that power rates are already low enough to attract all the new industries which cheap power can bring to Oregon!

"And the city taxes would have to be boosted, too, if we issued a lot of bonds to buy power plants. Higher taxes would do us more harm than any possible few cents saving in power rates.

"Besides, I haven't much faith in the politicians' ability to run the power business as well as its owners run it now, or to keep rates as low.

"Maybe this world will some day get 'advanced' enough so that we can be happy even on 'collective farms'—like they are trying in Soviet Russia—working for no profit. Until then I think we'll all be better off trying to keep open the opportunity for all private capital; giving every good American dollar a chance to work where it can develop any part of the country and being willing to pay a reasonable profit for the use of the dollar.

"The city and county and state officials have enough to do already. They regulate how much profit the private power companies can make.

"There's no use of the government taking on the risk of paying for losses in the power business—that's what 'municipal ownership' does—assumes all the risks of the business and agrees not to make any profits from its customers!

"That doesn't sound like good business, does it?"

F. E. Rowell

This unique common-sense view advanced by Mr. Rowell is very excellent American doctrine. His interest in keeping Oregon from entering a period of hysterical experiments in "municipal ownership" is typical of thousands of people throughout the state. Such "good horse sense" will keep Oregon growing and do more to reassure investors in the state's future than all the political maneuvering in the world. Pacific Northwest Public Service Co.
