

OREGON SEIZES HILTON TROPHY

Guardsmen From This State Best in Class at big Camp Perry Shoot

The Oregon National Guard rifle team Saturday became the undisputed champion among the teams representing the national guard of the nation at Camp Perry, Ohio, when it led the field to a brilliant victory and won the famous and coveted Hilton trophy which is awarded annually to national guard team attaining the highest score in the national match. News of the spectacular achievement of Oregon's crack marksmen was contained in a telegram received Saturday by Major General George A. White, head of the national guard in the northwest.

The telegram which is signed by Lieutenant Colonel Fred M. West, team captain, states that the Oregon team finished well ahead of all national guard and civilian teams of the country in the national matches which were concluded Saturday on the rifle range at Camp Perry, Ohio.

Most Important Match of Meet

The national match is the main event and comes as the climax to the annual gathering of thousands of riflemen from every section of the country. Each team consists of 10 firing members, two alternates, a team captain, team coach, and range officer. A total of 600 shots are fired by each team in progressive steps from 200 to 1,000 yards and including both slow and rapid fire from the 20 and 300 yards and slow fire from the long ranges of 600 and 1,000 yards.

The Hilton trophy, an immense bronze tablet symbolic of the winning of the west is the goal of the contending teams and comes to Oregon for the second time having been won by the Oregon guards in 1923. Oregon has the distinction of being the only state in the west to win this distinction. The trophy was first offered in competition in 1878 and has been competed for annually since that time. In addition to winning the trophy which will be held by the Oregon national guard for one year, each member of the team receives a special medal.

Other Victories Scored by Oregon

The winning of the Hilton trophy by the Oregon team comes as a fitting climax to several outstanding records made by several individual team members during the past two weeks in some of the preliminary matches. Most important was the winning of the Wimbledon and Farr trophies by Sergeant Larry C. Genter of Grants Pass who became a long distance rifle champion as the result of his expertness with the rifle. High honors came to Sergeant Corwin E. Hein of Salem when he won a place in the President One Hundred which meant he was classified as one of the best one hundred shots in America. The team also won the national guard trophy in the Infantry match.

The victorious team which started back to Oregon last night consists of the following: Lieutenant Colonel Fred M. West, team captain, Portland;

STOCKHOLDERS OF MILL TO CONVENE

What steps may be taken to save the Oregon Lumber Mills plant, largely financed by Salem and valley capital, is the problem which will face stockholders of the concern when they hold their annual meeting at the chamber of commerce at 2:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. The mill it is said, is admittedly facing a chance of closing down unless some prompt and effective measures are taken toward its financing both for indebtedness and working capital.

One of the problems will be to work out a plan for meeting interest which will be due before long on a bond issue against the mill.

While it is likely that a number of plans may be suggested from throwing the mill into a receivership to a reorganization of the board or to some sort of a working company, just what may develop has no certainty at this time as far as can be learned.

The mill is working on a short basis at the present time taking care of some orders. While it is stated by those familiar with the situation much business is in sight for the mill it is suffering under a severe handicap of lack of working capital and a heavy burden of indebtedness and interest charges as well as improper equipment for linen manufacture, for which the mill was originally designed. As a result, manufacture of yarns and twines has been the mainstay of operations so far.

Jobs Needed For men at Willamette

If Salem merchants, business men and industrial executives need part-time workers for from one to five hours week days and eight hours on Saturdays, they need only to call the registrar of Willamette university and help will be on the way.

At present there are over two score men out of work who need more money to continue their educational careers. The registrar's office reports 33 men out of work, while Coach "Spec" Keene says he has 35. Some of these may be duplicates. No accurate count has been obtainable to date for the women of the institution.

Only 13 men have been placed in jobs so far. Employers are urged to list jobs in order that they may receive help immediately.

Some of the best athletes who ever entered Willamette university are among those who are job-hunters at the present time. It is urgent that they receive work to stay in school. Their best hours are in the morning or in the evening. Afternoons are taken up with practice. Many have middle-morning classes.

There are few things that the men cannot qualify for. Among other jobs they can fill are the following: bookkeepers, stenographers, mangle operator (laundry), dairy, grocery clerks, farm help, service station, addressograph operators, general office, and help in the home such as lawn cutting, furnace mending and cleaning, laundry, painting, window cleaning and general handy-man work.

PERSHING IS BUSY ON 70TH BIRTHDAY

Receives Congratulations From Many Lands and Numerous Callers

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13 (AP).—General John J. Pershing, retired, acknowledged his 70th birthday today with many a salute and handshake, but nevertheless remained at his desk long after all other war department offices had closed.

During the day an almost constant stream of callers moved through the door marked "General of the Armies." Singly and by twos, nine generals came to pay respects to their former commander, and at one time a sheet of more than 150 telegrams collected from many parts of the world was taken to his flower-covered desk.

The felicitations of President Hoover were brought by Lieutenant Colonel Campbell B. Hodges, military aide at the White House, while other government officials, civilian friends, army officers, and even an admiral were in the long line which came to congratulate the former leader of the biggest army this country has ever known.

Does Routine Work Despite Occasion

Pershing himself, white-haired and wearing a dark business suit, and blue tie, showed few signs of his three score and ten years. His greetings were crisp and his step springy as he moved about the suite of offices that not so long ago served as President Hoover's workroom of state, following the White House fire.

During the afternoon, as government offices closed for the customary Saturday half-holiday, and the stream of callers diminished, General Pershing continued the routine tasks which daily occupy his time.

He answered correspondence coming to him as head of the battle monuments commission and custodian of the resting places of American dead in France. Later he discussed with publishers matters pertaining to his just-finished memoirs as leader of the American Expeditionary force in France.

FRESHMEN ENJOY RECEPTION AT Y.

Among events of freshman convocation of Willamette university was the informal reception and good time at the city Y. M. C. A. under the joint auspices of the college Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. General chairmen were Miss Helen Stiles and Gus Moore.

Pep songs and humorous ones were sung around the piano in the early part of the evening. Miss Helen Cochran, Willamette song queen, led the singing while Miss Edith Findley accompanied.

Games followed, directed by Frank Van Dyke and Warren McMinnee. Swimming for those who wished was in charge of Fred Smith.

Following the swimming party, a program was presented in the main lobby. Miss Margaret Warnock played a number of piano solos, followed by several vocal solos by Miss Josephine Albert, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Clement.

Amazing the freshmen and upper classmen who were present, Clark Wood offered a program of baffling magic and slight of hand stunts. The program was concluded by Miss Edith Findley in marble selections.

JOBS WAITING IN HOP YARDS

Blackberry Patches Calling For Harvesters Also, Says S. Phillips

Jobs in hop and berry patches in Marion and Polk counties are still open for several hundred men and women, with only the urge to work at home standing between more speedy harvest of hops and berries. That is the word from Sim Phillips, director of the U. S. employment office here. He says a lot of help is needed right now. Prunes, too, will be claiming more laborers next week.

Phillips sent a number of evergreen blackberry pickers to the Pedee valley late this week, and reports yesterday were that the pickers were making from $2.50 to $4.00 a day. The prevailing price is two and a half cents a pound. It is reported that many are making more this fall picking berries than they can make in the hop yards. Despite this, more berry pickers are needed if the full yield in territory tributary to Salem is to be saved.

The weekly report shows almost twice as many jobs are open as there were applicants for jobs. Two hundred and seventy-six men were reported placed and 587 calls for help came to Phillips. Three hundred and thirty-four men registered for work and 284 were referred to jobs. Agricultural or seasonal laborers constituted by far the bulk of those placed.

There was more demand and also more supply of common labor than has been noticed in the past few weeks. Half of the eight woodsmen who registered for work were sent to jobs. Nearly 200 women registered for work as against 170 who received jobs. There were 231 calls for female help and 174 women were referred to jobs.

Horses caused 18 deaths in Wisconsin during April, May and June, while airplanes killed only five.

While it is likely that a number of plans may be suggested from throwing the mill into a receivership to a reorganization of the board or to some sort of a working company, just what may develop has no certainty at this time as far as can be learned.

The mill is working on a short basis at the present time taking care of some orders. While it is stated by those familiar with the situation much business is in sight for the mill it is suffering under a severe handicap of lack of working capital and a heavy burden of indebtedness and interest charges as well as improper equipment for linen manufacture, for which the mill was originally designed.
