LAD'S STATE IS GRAVE

Orris Kebaugh Tumbles From Truck to Road HIS SKULL FRACTURED

SILVERTON, Sept. 20.—Orris Kebaugh of Scotts Mills, who was brought into the Silvertown hospital Wednesday night in an unconscious condition had showed no change by Saturday forenoon but still remained unconscious.

Orris, who is about nine years old, was found unconscious on the pavement between Scotts Mills and Silvertown and brought to a local hospital where it was discovered that he had a badly fractured skull. He had been riding on some empty prune crates going to Scotts Mills and for some reason or other had fallen off. The man driving the truck loaded with the crates did not discover that Kebaugh had fallen off until he got to his destination. He turned back only to learn the lad had been taken to the Silvertown hospital.

HOP PICKING DONE; PRUNE WORK ON

WALDO HILLS, Sept. 20.—Prune and hop picking will be finished next week. Nearly all hop yards were finished this week. Sunday, Rudolph Stadell, Sr., served home-made ice cream, cookies and lemonade to those who worked in his yard. It is hard to get prune pickers. Brown rot and cracked fruit makes it difficult and slow work and the price is low. Prices for picking in some yards is six cents, others eight cents.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Geer and house guests, Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Wilson, motored to Portland Thursday.

Albert Nerison spent the day Wednesday at the home of his aunt, Mrs. K. O. Rue. Mr. Nerison's seven year old son is staying a month at the Rue home and may remain there and attend school at Centerville.

Waconda Hops Fine Quality; Picking Ending

WACONDA, Sept. 20.—Hop-picking will soon be at an end for another year. Although the rain prevented an early finish, no further damage has been done in this section. The hops are of very fine quality and are unaffected by mould. Work is scarce, but pickers this year have not been any more plentiful than formerly. They come and go.

WEATHER VERY GOOD FOR CLOVER YIELDS

One Farmer in Monmouth Reports Two Bushels To Acre Output

MONMOUTH, Sept. 20.—Clover haying has provided a scene of activity on many farms in this section this week, as a result of the clear dry weather. Several farmers report yields of two bushels to the acre, but most of the results aggregate a smaller yield.
