

LEAGUE URGED TO ACT EARLY

Demonstration is Staged by Impatient Delegates; Italy Casts Gloom

GENEVA, Sept. 24—(AP)—rehearsal and sometimes impatient demonstration, urging the hastening of the League of Nations disarmament program and early calling of a general conference for reduction and limitation of armaments, was witnessed in the league assembly's disarmament committee tonight.

From this rally there arose a promise of J. J. Loudon, chairman of the preparatory disarmament commission that the commission would meet November 3 and fervently seek to finish its task of clearing the way completely for a congress of all nations to construct a scheme of general disarmament.

After a frank outburst of impatient criticism from Count Bernstorff of Germany, who declared that the preparatory commission "has done nothing," Viscount Cecil, representing Great Britain, consoled patience and urged that the preliminary work should be well and thoroughly done.

GENEVA, Sept. 24—(AP)—While the assembly of the League of Nations was rallying enthusiastically tonight to expedite its disarmament program, the Italian government's representatives announced that their technical negotiations here with French experts have ended in flat failure.

This acknowledgement cast a cloud of gloom over Geneva, where leaders of half a hundred nations have been hoping that some means of adjusting the troublesome Franco-Italian naval differences might soon be reached. There is no hope, according to informed Italian quarters, for anything to be gained by further conversations here which have been conducted between Rene Massigli, the French, and Augusto Rosso, the Italian expert.

JUSTICE AND NEW JUDGE TAKE OATH

cessor, Judge Kelly, or whether he will assume department No. 2, now presided over by Judge McMahon, will be determined in a conference scheduled for today between the two circuit judges.

Under interpretation of section 912, Oregon Laws, Hill would assume McMahon's duties, rather than those held by Kelly, whose appointment to the supreme bench brought Hill onto the bench.

Section 912 under which the question now before the two judges arises, says: "The judge then longest in continuous service, or if at any time they shall have been in continuous service the same length of time, the senior judge of age, shall act in department number one, and the other judge in department number two but either judge may act in either department; and said judges shall jointly have power to make all needful rules and regulations not inconsistent with law to effectuate the objects of this act and facilitate the transaction of business."

When Judge Kelly took duties of department one, when Judge William Galloway was presiding over department two, it was at Galloway's request that he continue in department two. From this and from the wording of the statute itself, it is assumed that the judges may reach agreement on departments over which they sit.

THOMPSON CHOSEN UPON GAME BOARD

S. R. Thompson of Pendleton, prominent wheat grower and businessman, Wednesday was appointed by Governor Norblad a member of the state game commission to succeed L. A. Wright of Union. Mr. Thompson will serve under his commission for a term of three years.

Mr. Thompson is president of the Pendleton country club and is a member of various other civic organizations. He also is prominent in fraternal affairs.

Governor Norblad said Thompson was highly recommended for the office.

Mr. Thompson has telegraphed Governor Norblad that he will arrive in Salem today when he will receive his commission. Governor Norblad previously appointed M. R. Matthew of The Dalles, but he declined to accept the office.

ROGERS ADMITS HE INTRODUCED CLARA

But "It" Girl not Betting Much; Declined to Ride To Fame on Skirts

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 24.—(AP)—Will Rogers, film comedian and ambassador at large, seemed to be the only one today who would talk on the subject of whether Clara Bow, titian-haired screen star, gambled in a Nevada hotel and paid out $13,900 in checks on which she later stopped payment.

James McKay, one of the proprietors of the hotel, said Miss Bow did and that Rogers introduced her.

Rogers said he saw Miss Bow in the hotel, but didn't introduce her.

"Introducing Clara Bow to anybody," he said, "is like introducing Hoover to the senate, Clara and her boyie, Rex Bell (film actor) were going to dinner one night and I asked them to be my guests. The hotel is not solely a gambling house. A lot of divorces stay over there in preference to Reno."

"I saw the wives of so many of my friends from back east that it was like old home week. Doesn't Want Boost to Fame

"I don't gamble much. Fifty or seventy five dollars is my limit. I don't suppose it's going to hurt my reputation much for people to know I've been in a gambling house. I couldn't have been much of a cowboy without having seen a lot of gambling. I've been to Monte Carlo, too. I went over there to see what all those old women were doing bending over those tables."

"Clara wasn't gambling much while I was there. I saw her going around making a few bets, but she didn't appear to be betting much."

"But I don't like this idea of my riding to fame on the skirts of Clara Bow."

B. P. Shulberg, chief executive at Paramount studios, issued a statement saying it appeared to be purely a personal matter of Miss Bow's and officially washed his hands of it.

The film star, however, could not be reached by interviewers.

Auto Crash Heard Many Blocks Away

With a crash that could be heard for blocks a large sedan driven by H. E. Warner of Lexington collided with and nearly upset a small Standard Oil delivery sedan driven by A. M. King, 2189 Ferry street, at the later section of Court and Cottage streets Wednesday about 1:30 p. m.

The remarkable circumstances, according to eye witnesses, were that no one was injured and that the small car was not overturned and demolished, for it was turned completely around and catapulted backwards against the curb.

King in a report to the police states that he had the right of way and that Warner failed to observe the through street stop. King was proceeding east on Court street, Warner south on Cottage.

The right rear fender was crumpled and both rear rims of the little delivery machine bent. The right fender of Warner's car was jammed up, headlights knocked out of line and the steering arm of the left wheel so badly out of alignment that it was only with difficulty that he could drive the car away.

Warner had not reported his side of the story to the police at a late hour last night.
