Japanese Program Feature of Club Friday

The first social meeting of the Salem Woman's club to be held this year is planned for Friday afternoon, September 26, in the clubhouse on North Cottage

Preceeding the regular meeting which will begin at 2:30 o'clock, will be a meeting of the executive board which has been announced for 2 o'clock.

The afternoon will be devoted to various phases of Japanese life, including art, literature and music. A particularly interesting feature of the afternoon's entertainment will be a group of readings of Japanese poetry by Miss Carol Dibble who has made a complete and intensive study of this work. Miss Hoshi Watanabe, an accomplished musician of this city, will also sing and play Japanese songs in native costume.

A special invitation has been issued to all visiting club women who are in the city attending the be extended by the new president, Mrs. David Wright who will preside during the afternoon. Mrs. Merrill Ohling is chairman of the social committee and she will be assisted by Mrs. Karl Becke, Mrs. Harry Belt, Mrs. Ralph Wirth, Mrs. Phil Newmeyer, Mrs. G. C. Bellinger, Mrs. H. K. Stockwell, Mrs. C. F. Turner, Mrs. V. E. Kuhn, Mrs. Charles Galloway, Mrs. Morton Peck, Mrs. Scott Page, and Mrs. E. M. Page Mrs. Earl Daue is general social chairman for the club year.

Plans for the "White Elephant Sale" which is being sponsored by the Junior Guild of the St. Paul's Episcopal church Saturday in the Bligh building on High street, are well under way and all details are being carefully arranged says Mrs. H. A. Cornoyer, general chairman for the sale, Mr. Frank G. Bligh has made a substantial donation for the benefit, in giv-ing the use of the building for the day to the Junior Guild.

The "Woman's Club" of Salem Heights will hold a cooked food sale, Saturday the 27th, at the Southern Pacific ticket office on North Liberty street. This is a benefit sale and the proceeds will be used to apply on the debt the community contracted when it remodeled its hall last year.

Mrs. Fred Holmes and daughter, Miss Nell Grimmett, of La utes late, she talked to him as us. Mrs. George F. It's little things like these that make for great irritations. She hadn't had money very fair and a special greeting will long, and it didn't burn her fingers, but it seemed to inflate her head. She bought herself many expensibles, and she held her head at a rather painful angle when she wound her choice furs about her comely person. Whenever she met women of lesser financial rating, she smiled tolerantly if at all. Sometimes she looked straight through them, no matter how long she had known them and their home folks. She was being elegant, and it takes a great deal of concentration for such a person to make a good job of it.

And how she treated clerks! College graduates, some of them, and awfully nice girls. But the way she snapped her orders was terrific. Did they feet hurt? Not at all. They knew they were better than she was so they were only amused. Except of course on very hot days when they were pretty tired and irritation was easy.

She had a well trained chauffeur who had a family and needed a job. His courtesy was unfailing. But if he was five minunmoved.

Such a woman! They did put her on welfare committees. She gave generously for the privilege of attending meetings at the Astorbilts home, and the Astorbilts could stand it, particularly as they were usually away at the time of the meetings, and people like Mrs. Rich did the work and gave the money. The new rich considered it a bargain because they could say "On Tuesday I had tea at Mrs. Astorbilts."

Unusually Low Price of Sugar and Fruit Makes Homecanning Pay

The continuous appearance of luscious fruits and berries in the market, and sugar at an unheard-of low price, give every housewife the know about Phillips Milk of Mag. riety of preserves, jellies and jams at a most reasonable cost. With these home-canned delicacies on hand, the problem of next winter's desserts can be easily solved.

From the viewpoint of health canned fruit, jellies and jams should appear daily in the winter diet. Many canned fruits are rich in vitamins. Their flavor arouses the appetite, and their sugar content helps to make a meal enjoyable.

Aside from eating jelly or jam with bread or toast, they are a de-licious accompaniment for roast meats and fish. And a spoonful used to top rice or bread puddings makes these nourishing desserts more taste-appealing.

As sugar plays an important part in preserving, so can it be equally essential in the preparation of every-day meals. Sugar when used to season canned or fresh vegetables improves their flavor, thereby making them more enjoyable to the taste. Most foods are more delicious and nourishing with sugar.
