36 Per Cent Crop Unmatured on Vines at Woodburn; 410 Tons Sold

WOODBURN, Sept. 24 - Had not the red berry disease been so prevelant this year a normal crop of blackberries would have been harvested by local growers this year. As it is, between 30 and 35 per cent of the berries are still on the vines, unmatured. The disease, according to experts, is caused by a tiny insect.

A short crop of about 410 tons the local pool of the Woodburn Cooperative Fruit Growers association this year, according to Ray Clatt, president. All berries in the pool were sold to the Libby. McNeil and Libby cannery in Salem at five cents a pound. Receiving was discontinued Tuesday

Recent rains have improved the quality of the cucumbers in the Woodburn district. Before the rains the cucumbers were light and not of good quality but at present the crop is in fine shape.

CHURCHES UNITE IN

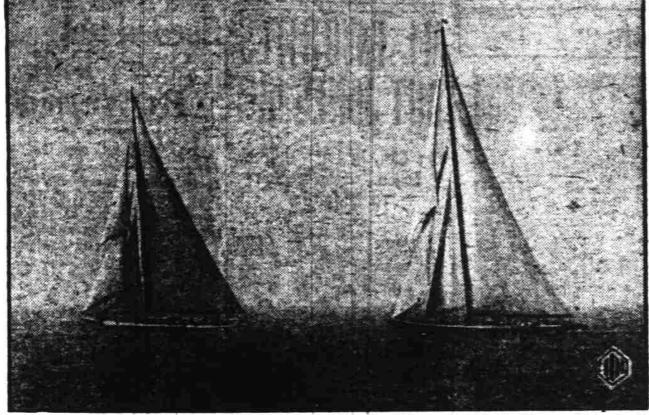

WOODBURN, Sept. 24. — The first scout to get honors as a first Woodburn Methodist and Presbyterian churches are uniting in order to give a reception to all the school teachers of the vicinity on Thursday evening. The reception begins at 8 o'clock at the Presbyterian church. A program of readings and musical numbers is being planned. All teachers of the ing planned. All teachers of the Woodburn vicinity are cordially invited to attend the function.
