Jonathan Apples Interest Center Of Dealers now

Jonathans are now the center of interest to apple dealers, with increasing supplies moving to Portland and other metropolitan centers from all Northwest producing districts. At Portland, demand is fairly good @ $1.75-2.00 per box of extra fancies, dependng on size.

Cool rainy weather is delaying naturity of Roseburg cantaloupes. Many car loads are still unharrested. Tomatoes are also slow in ripening supplies are lighter, and Portland prizes advanced to 45-60c per box.

Potatoes show a stronger undertone, with continued light shipments from all Northwest districts, and recent heavy supplies at Pacific Coast distributing centers cleaning up nicely. Prices are unchanged, but some buying has been resumed at Yakima, after several days of inactivity.
