

HOLDING FIRM WILL OPERATE TWO THEATRES

Negotiations With Fox West Coast so far Failure; Change due Oct. 1

New Owners Proceed With Plans; Hoyt, McIntyre Will be Managers

Unless a lease is concluded with the Fox West Coast theatres before Tuesday night the operation of the Elsinore and Capitol theatres in Salem will be taken over on October 1 by the local holding company recently formed to manage the properties.

The lease held by the Fox interests on the Elsinore theatre will terminate Tuesday night, the Fox West Coast corporation having previously given notice that it would exercise its option to terminate its lease at the end of one year.

Since that notice was given and since the formation of the holding company to direct the affairs of both the Elsinore and Capitol the West Coast theatres have been negotiating for the rental of both show houses.

The terms considered by both parties have been so wide apart that the prospect of the conclusion of a lease in the short interval remaining is regarded as slight.

The entire Fox interests have been undergoing reorganization in recent months and just a few days ago President Franklin of Fox West Coast theatres resigned his office; all of which coming at this time has served to interfere with negotiations covering the leasing of the local theatres.

The officers of the holding company have therefore proceeded with plans to take over and operate both theatres on October 1. While George B. Guthrie of the Elsinore and Frank Bligh of the Capitol retain their interests in (Turn to page 2, col. 1)

STATESMAN SCHOOL OF COOKING LOOMS

The next big event on the calendar is the Statesman Cooking School which will be held this week at the armory, Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This is the Statesman's own school. This newspaper has engaged the Ella Lehr organization to put on the school and they will supply as instructor, Miss Helen Goodwin.

These schools have been held with marked success in other Oregon cities this year: Eugene, Albany, Corvallis, McMinville and The Dalles. The hours are from 2 to 4 o'clock each day. The sessions are for women and are cordially invited to attend and derive the benefits which a course of this kind offers.

No baking contest is held in connection with this year. The entire time and energy devoted to making the instructional side most profitable. Miss Goodwin will take up various kinds of cookery and reveal their inmost secrets. "What the well dressed meal will look like in 1930," may be said to be the theme. There are styles in dishes as in dress and Miss Goodwin brings the latest fashions in the culinary art.

Previous Statesman cooking schools have been loudly acclaimed by the ladies of Salem and vicinity; and every effort is being put forth to make this event the best of a long series of similar occasions.

Remember the days: Thursday, Friday and Saturday, from 2 to 4 o'clock, at the armory, corner Ferry and Liberty streets.

Officers were searching the wooded section northwest of the city, scene of the killing.

Conquers Youthful Homans 8 to 7 in one-Sided Final; Marines Called out to Protect Champion From Frenzied Fans

MERION CRICKET CLUB, Ardmore, Pa., Sept. 27.—(AP)—On the famous East course of Merion, where as a shock-haired youthful phenomenon of 14 he first appeared in national championship competition, Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., today completed the greatest march of conquest in golf history.

By the one-sided margin of 8 up and 7 to go, Jones brushed aside 22-year-old Eugene Vandervoort Homans of Eaglewood, N. J., to win the United States amateur championship and score his fourth straight national victory for the year—the "grand slam" of golf.

There are no more golfing worlds left to conquer for a solid week of competition was by far the easiest of any of the quarter he scored to sweep everything in sight for the campaign of 1930. It was just a breeze by comparison with the battles he waged earlier in the year, the British open, the British amateur and the American open.

There was drama and a surging, rushing, and at the finish an uncontrollable crowd of perhaps 15,000 spectators, running and shouting, as the golfing history made such as may never be recorded again, but there were few if any competitive thrills to a final match that was just another big parade for the all-conquering son of the south.

The end was in sight when Jones finished the morning 18 holes of the 36-hole final seven up. Good and game a young golfer as is Homans, he was no match whatever for the stocky king of the links. It was just a question of how long it would go in the afternoon, and Bobby kept the galloping gallery in suspense longer than it was anticipated, largely because "Calamity Jane," the Jones' putter was far from her usually consistent self.

Homans puts up Game Finish
Jones began 9 up at the 22nd, with only 14 to go, and the crowd became frenziedly eager to be in on the "kill" but it went seven more holes. At the 27th, Homans cut away a hole with a fine birdie two. At (Turn to page 7, col. 8)

These fruits and vegetables which leave the regulated area under permit, will be allowed to move in re-shipments throughout the continental United States.

POLITICS SAID BEHIND BOARD OF TRADE ACT

Arnot Charges Expediency Caused Banning Move Against Nations

Schism Among Members is Feared; Authority is Exceeded, Claim

CHICAGO, Sept. 27.—(AP)—A charge that board of trade directors exceeded their authority and bowed to a government motivated by political expediency in banning foreign nations from trading privileges was made today by Samuel P. Arnot, several times president of the board.

His statement presaged a possible schism among board members over the action of the directors who yesterday took the stand that sales of grain futures by a foreign government are objectionable and should be stopped.

Their resolution was communicated to Secretary Hyde of the department of agriculture by John A. Buehler, Mr. Arnot's successor last year as president of the world's largest grain exchange.

The directors "clearly transcended their authority in the resolution" of this nature are regulated by rules passed by votes of the membership and not by resolutions passed by the board of directors," he said the board of trade had been made the "captive" of government authorities who were "manifestly inspired by political expediency and a rather undignified exhibition of hysteria."

During the last week the spectre of Soviet Russia stalking across the stage in a resumption of the old role of grain exporter had given a new fright to fellow players in the world market. Wheat sold down in Liverpool because of Russian offerings today and American markets followed.

The Russian sales so unsettled the trade that wheat prices on the Chicago board, already sunk to depths familiar only to traders of pre-war years, dropped away this week to almost daily new low records. The final sales today found September wheat going begging at 74 1/2 cents a bushel and December contracts at 77 7/8—losses of 1 7/8 to 2 3/4 cents for the day. At Winnipeg wheat touched 70 cents.

According to policemen at the station, he was found atop a box car on Front street by a train crew. A short, stocky man, with a light, possibly bloodstained cap, is said to have run away from the scene at the time.

As the poor man winced with pain, but bore up manfully under the ordeal, three stitches were taken to close the injury and a half inch opening in the scalp at the hairline of his forehead. Dr. Douglas carefully dressed the wound, "backwoods" surgery, he called it, and promised to return in the morning to attend to the "patient."

How Goodwin, who said his head was anywhere, nowhere, received his injury could not be ascertained. He claimed he had six or seven dollars in his pocket. But it was gone. He did not seem to remember what had happened. According to officers he had probably been imbibing wine. The wound was such as might have been inflicted by a good "sap" or by a coupling pin.

Party Suspected in Norris Affair

WASHINGTON, Sept. 27.—(AP)—Violent suspicion the republican party had "a hand" in the attempt to run a second George W. Norris against Senator George W. Norris in the recent Nebraska republican senatorial primary, Chairman Nye of the senate campaign funds committee said today he would seek to trace money spent in that campaign.

Senator Nye said he was interested principally in the source of a $500 Liberty bond given to the Norris of Broken Bow at the time he fled against Senator Norris. He also said he wanted to find the source of $7,000 deposited in the bank account of Victor Seymour of Lincoln.

Returning to the capital from the Nebraska inquiry, Senator Nye said he was confident United States Attorney Sandall at Omaha might be able to identify charges against Seymour and the George W. Norris of Broken Bow.

Law Enforcement Favored by G. O. P. Of Massachusetts

Prohibition Plank Avers no Criticism Due Those who Seek to Change Constitution; Seek Federal Child Labor Law

BOSTON, Sept. 27.—(AP)—The republican party of Massachusetts, in convention here today, endorsed the party's 1928 declaration on law enforcement and at the same time reaffirmed the pronouncement of President Hoover that those who seek to amend the constitution "are no subject to criticism."

In this form the convention wrote into its platform a plank on prohibition.

Less than half a dozen "nays" were heard from among the 1,600 delegates when Amos L. Taylor, permanent chairman of the convention, put the question of adoption of the platform. There was no debate.

Outstanding among the other planks were: A pledge to continue economic policies in state and in national government.

A demand for federal legislation to make the hours of labor for women and children in all other states conform to the Massachusetts standard.

Advocacy of the enactment of a federal anti-lynching law and a statement of belief in "absolute equality of all men before the law."

Calvin Coolidge was a guest of honor as was Mrs. Coolidge, but the former president did not speak. Only once, when during the course of his remarks Governor Frank G. Allen referred to the financial accomplishments of the Coolidge gubernatorial administration did the former chief executive acknowledge the applause of the delegates. Then in answer to prolonged cheering, he rose to his feet and bowed smilingly.

UNKNOWN PERSONS ATTACK TRANSIENT

Alfred Goodwin Found Atop Box car With Forehead Gashed, Bleeding

His forehead deeply gashed and flowing blood, a transient giving his name as Alfred Goodwin was taken to the city police station late last night and given first aid by Dr. Vernon A. Douglas, city physician, called by the police.

According to policemen at the station, he was found atop a box car on Front street by a train crew. A short, stocky man, with a light, possibly bloodstained cap, is said to have run away from the scene at the time.

As the poor man winced with pain, but bore up manfully under the ordeal, three stitches were taken to close the injury and a half inch opening in the scalp at the hairline of his forehead. Joy of Thirsty At Beer Ruling Is Short Lived

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Joy brought to Oregon's thirsty citizens by announcement credited to Amos W. Woodcock, national prohibition director, that beer and wine could be made legally in the home for home consumption, was short lived.

George Neuner, United States attorney at Portland, said tonight Oregon had a law prohibiting the manufacture of any liquor containing more than 1/2 of one percent of alcohol. Mr. Neuner said anyone found transporting wine would be containing more than that amount of alcohol would be arrested and prosecuted.

EVENTS TODAY TO MARK FINIS ON STATE FAIR

Children's day Draws big Crowd; More Awards Are Announced

Children held the center of the stage for Saturday at the Oregon state fair. All under 12 years of age were admitted free and as one moved about over the grounds there seemed little doubt but that most of those near enough to get to Salem had taken advantage of the offer.

The announcements for the day had to do with children, too. The final awards in 4-H club work were made known Saturday morning.

The most important of these was the L. Patterson trophy cup, silver with the name of the winner engraved upon it. The cup was presented for the boy or girl outstanding in club work for leadership or ability. Viola Hansen, 15 years old, of Moro.

Miss Hansen has worked in 35 club activities, a county assistant county leader and has taken as her special field of work club leadership. At present he is leading six clubs.

Announcement was also made that Mabel Edson of Lane county won today a dinner contest which had been going on all week.

The health parade which had been scheduled for 10 o'clock on Saturday morning, was cancelled. A luncheon in compliment to the state fair board was given at noon Saturday, a compliment from the state editorial association. Arne Rae, secretary of the association, was in charge, Verne McKinley of the Hillsboro Argus, presided.

At the annual meeting of the Oregon state fair campers association today a resolution was adopted by Oregon City, was elected president, and Mrs. Philip Fisher, of Silverton, secretary. The 70th anniversary of the founding of the organization will be observed during the 1931 state fair. The association adopted a resolution showing the installation of shower baths in the camp grounds.

The Campers passed a resolution of interest at their meeting. This request was a request that shower baths be installed by the state at the fair grounds. The next state fair time comes at the end of a large crowd is expected for the last day of the state fair today. Several outstanding features have been planned for the enjoyment of the visitors. FRUIT PACKET AND SIX ON BOARD LOST

MUSKEGON, Mich., Sept. 27.—(AP)—Grape baskets were being washed ashore in great numbers between Holland and South Haven tonight, believed to come from the wreckage of a fruit packet North Shore. Commander W. M. Wolff of the coast guard said this was an almost certain indication the packet went down with the five men and one woman on board.

Coast guard crews on both sides of Lake Michigan today watched in vain for trace of the North Shore, missing since she left St. Joseph, Mich., yesterday morning with a cargo of grapes for Muskegon. The vessel, a steel hulled motor launch, was captained by E. J. Anderson, his bride of four weeks and four men.

Although hope had been held during the day that the North Shore might have found refuge in some shelter port, this was abandoned as the day passed without word from her captain.

If the North Shore went down in yesterday's 40-mile gale, the toll of the storm has been increased to a loss of 11 lives and three ships.

Dainty Pony Prejudices Crowd Against Judges

For the first time since Monday night and the beginning of the night horse shows of the Oregon state fair, the judges found themselves presented with a good healthy "boo" Saturday night.

And the cause of it was a little money to the Carnation Farm Products Co., with J. M. Huston driving; second, to A. C. Ruby, Jr., who did his own driving; third to McCroskey & White with Harvey White driving; fourth to D. F. Brier, a model harness pony owned by D. G. Welby, and who had won the heart of the audience with her dainty prancing to the extent that it wanted her to win first place and because the judges gave first place to Lady Helen, a black little midger, who has never been defeated and who comes from the same stable, the crowd gave vent to its displeasure.

The final award for the six in hand driving and the spectacular driving which took it brought everybody on the edge of his chair. Five entries with six horses each galloped, wheeled, turned and barely missed each other in thrill-
