"No Favor Sways Us; No Fear Shall Awe"

From First Statesman, March 28, 1851

THE STATESMAN PUBLISHING CO. CHARLES A. SPRAGUE, SHELDON F. SACKETT, Publishers CHARLES A. SPRAGUE - - - - Editor-Manager SHELDON F. SACKETT - - - - Managing Editor .

Member of the Associated Press The Associated Press is exclusively entitled to the use for publica-tion of all news dispatches credited to it or not otherwise credited in Pacific Coast Advertising Representatives: Arthur W. Stypes, Inc., Portland, Security Bldg. San Francisco, Sharon Bldg.; Los Angeles, W. Pac. Bldg. Eastern Advertising Representatives: Ford-Parsons-Stecher.Inc., New York, 271 Madison Ave.; Chicago, 360 N. Michigan Ave.

Entered at the Postoffice at Salem, Oregon, as Second-Class Matter. Published every morning except Monday. Business office, 215 S. Commercial Street.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES: Mail Subscription Rates, in Advance Within Oregon: Daily and Sunday, 1 Mo. 50 cents; 3 Mo. 31 25 6 Mo. $2.25; 1 year $4.00. Elsewhere 56 cents per Mo. or $5.00 for 1 year in advance.

By City Carrier: 50 cents a month; $5.50 a year in advance. Per copy 2 cents. On trains and News Stands 5 cents.

The Public Service Commission

THE public service commission has suffered an amazing other organizations in the care and I ing lot of unwarranted abuse. It has been branded as a treatment of the mentally ill. And tool of the "power trust," as a minion of Wall street, as a be made to promote greater proconspirator against public interest. Meier proposes to abol- gress in the treatment of mental ish the commission entirely. Metschan and Bailey supply an defectives. implied rebuke when they propose to "strengthen" the commission.

But no one has come forward with a bill of particulars against the commission, either as to its personnel or do not have the same conception its policies. What crime has the public service commission of the factors that lie behind an committed? In what respect has the commission been de- offense. Through a psychiatric relict in its duty? Bald generalities may pass in the heat ed, something more than mere of a political campaign; but the critical mind will demand penal treatment can be given ofsome specific charges or complaints against the commis- fenders. A sharper line can be sion before damning that body as is now so freely done.

The public service commission has carried forward some really constructive work in recent years. Looking over receive greater protection against the field here in Oregon the commission observed that vast this type of offenders. areas of the state were not served with lines of railroad. Believing that the state's development was being retarded Mental troubles are far more prethrough lack of transportation, it has been active in urg- valent than ever before. Life is ing and in forcing railroad construction.

The public service commission initiated the proceedings for the building of the cross-state railroad, successfully prosecuted it before the interstate commerce commission, and is now represented by counsel in defending the commission in federal court.

The public service commission intervened in the Southern Pacific-Central Pacific case whereby the interests of ers come from perverted ideas. this state were protected in the leasing of the Central Pacific by the Southern Pacific, which was followed by the building of the Natron cut-off.

The public service commission approved and recom- ply correcting one's attitude of snooping girl cousin. Neil is all rambling around the room. The mended the building of the Great Northern south from depression, irritability, cynicism, Bend for a connection with Klamath Falls.

The public service commission recommended the ex- well-being. Then, of necessity, sees a picture of Ken Gleason, the flooded deck and the soft lipping losstension of the Great Northern south from Klamath Falls the mental life will be trans- man on the horse, in the roto- of water as the tide seeped up to a connection with the Western Pacific for the erection formed. of a new traffic lane through Oregon.

We are talking about state development. Where, we a mental breakdown. Our underhas there been so much development in this state in standing of the mind is very ette Parker calls at the store of the will amber the store of the will ambe the store of the will amber the store of the ask, has there been so much development in this state in standing of the mind is very the past decade as in railroad construction? And the public meager, but we must exert some where Ardeth works and offers the car Ken produced a thick ached with unspoken words. service commission has been a vital factor in promoting is the man who is capable of dishop she is starting. Ardeth acthis development and fighting for Oregon's progress.

In the matter of railroad rates the commission has surest guarantee is a strong norbeen very active. It secured substantial reductions on agri- mal body. cultural tariffs after the depression of 1921. It fought for and has defended the ten per cent differential in favor of Portland over Seattle on wheat shipments from points south of the Snake river. It has presented cases before the interstate commerce commission for reductions in transcontinental fruit rates, on hay rates, and on livestock rates, which cases are now pending before the interstate commerce com-

In the matter of power rates, the commission some months ago announced reductions in the power rates charg- dry hair ed by Pepco, the leading utility in the state. Recently it promulgated reductions in lighting rates for the same utility. In the matter of street car fares there was nothing it could face to feel hot all the time. do but permit the increase to 10c to take place; for the Portland rate experts themselves declared the rate would have to go into effect unless a new franchise could be adopted shifting some of the burdens from the company to the city. A few months ago the commission issued an order greatly favoring the extension of rural electric lines by placing more of the burden of cost upon the power company.

Besides orders for rate reductions entered after formal hearings, the commission often secures rate adjustments without the expense of long hearings. Through the work of its rate engineer it has secured reduction or elimination of extra charges of the telephone company, like the one an- Court street. Stege, Carnes and nounced for today by which the "person-to-person" charge on "collect" calls is wiped out. Recently it obtained a revision downward of bus fares within Oregon. Yet the demagogues whose only desire is to hold a tar-and-feather party are continuously upbraiding the commission as the creature celebrated. of the vested interests; and any person or paper that dares to speak a word in its defense is similarly branded.

The commission undoubtedly has made mistakes. Its staff and funds are limited so that it cannot pursue as vig- defeated by a score of 12 to 0. orous and wide an investigation of all the utilities under Although Stanford had the better its jurdisdiction which it should. At some future time we ream, Willamette made a better shall discuss some points in which we believe utility regulation might be strengthened, both in law and in practice. But The Statesman wants to voice a protest against the contumely which has been heaped upon this body. It has suffered in silence; has been inured to the abuse for it has Epworth League of the Methodist been long continued. Oregon has persecuted its commission-church. ers so relentlessly that they scarcely dare defend themselves. The members were periodically defeated or recalled with each fresh agitation against them.

The public service commission of Oregon is not a fail- ing. ure. It has rendered conspicuous service. Its members are men of character and probity. The chairman, Frank J. Miller, has spent his life in Oregon and is widely known and universally respected as a man of the highest honor and the highest standards of service.

The Statesman does not want to see the public service commission abolished because this paper believes in private ownership under strict state regulation. Portland is no more dominated by the power companies than it is by Meier and Frank, at the present time. We have no animosity toward municipal ownership; and in the case of waterworks have Johnson, and her family Wednesalways believed in municipal ownership. But public owner- day. ship on a large scale throws too much temptation in the way of public officials, promotes bureaucracy, slothfulness and extravagance. In the ordinary administration of offices over the weekend. our cities and other units of government are constantly subjected to graft. Adding utility operation to the function of teaching in Stayton high school government simply multiplies the opportunities for graft, J. N. Ammundson over the weekspoils of office, and political inefficiency.

The Statesman opposes Julius Meier for governor because his platform is nebulous, is unsound, and if carried out in the abolition of the public service commission would Mrs. Cameron is be a great backward step. Mr. Meier from training and experience ought to be well qualified to serve the state as a business administrator. But he chooses to run on a wierd business administrator. But he chooses to run on a wierd SILVERTON, Sept. 30—Mrs. and turned from the city. The platform of generalities which will not bear analysis, like Gertrude Cameron arrived home country road they followed gave platform of generalities which will not bear analysis, like this proposal to abolish the public service commission. To abolish the commission and repeal regulatory legislation of abolish the commission and repeal regulatory legislation of the salt marsh. Wide abolish the body of her father, William the state would be to play directly into the hands of the salt marsh at the salt marsh. Wide sky—wide flat—the blue car the salt marsh at the salt marsh. Wide sky—wide flat—the blue car the salt marsh at the salt marsh at the salt marsh. Wide sky—wide flat—the blue car the salt marsh at the salt marsh at the salt marsh. Wide sky—wide flat—the blue car the salt marsh at the sa utility companies.

Today's Talk By R. S. Copeland, M. D.

No greater affliction can come to man than loss of reason. When mental control is lost, direction of the body and its acts is gone.

sion today over the steady growth and complexity of mental diseases. The problem of the mentally defective is always a serious

There is

DR COPELAND

The Ameriean Medical association at its recent meeting, took action to bring about a more scientific handling of these problems. To further scientific investigation it was thought desirable to appoint a special committee This will concern itself solely with psychiatric services in the criminal courts and prisons. It will cooperate with hospitals and

The efforts to deal justly and wisely with criminal offenders ar often handlcapped. They fail because some lawyers and judges drawn between criminals and those suffering from mental disorders. By this service society will

The mental hygiene problems of today are exceedingly complex. more complex than it used to be. Many persons have difficulty to adjust themselves to society and to the requirements of living. The health of the body and the health of the mind act and react on each other. If we are to be really happy our mental attitude must be health. Many physical disord-

Worry drains away a large store of nervous energy. Many sorts of

health breakdown until there is earth with the usual bickering towel under her armpits and helprecting his thinking wisely. The cepts. Nell objects to Ardeth's

Answers to Health Queries L.H.M. Q .- Is yellow oxide of mercury harmful to the eyes?

A Reader. Q .- What will remove tatoo marks? A .- I would advise that you consult a skin specialist. The, Xray and the electric needle are to go, so Ken is alone with Ar-

H.P. Q .- Is olive oil good for

S.L. J .- What causes one's A .- Have your temperature

Y esterdays

man Our Fathers Read

October 1, 1905 The Mission furniture factory

Portland-Just 85,183 persons attended the Lewis and Clark exposition, when Portland day was

The Willamette football team met Stanford university at Palo

Two hundred people attended the reception given for Willamette university students by the

Dr. B. H. White is a new physician in the city, and has taken rooms in the new Breyman build-

Visitors Come From Idaho to Scotts Mills

SCOTTS MILLS. Sept. 30 Cecil and Bernice Reed and Mary Kelso of Cambridge, Idaho visted Miss Reed's aunt, Mrs. C. W.

Doris Hogg who is attending parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Hogg

Beatrice Amundson, who teaching in Stayton high school visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Back From North

AT LEAST ONE GOOD FEED

"GIRL UNAFRAID" By GLADYS JOHNSTON

SYNOPSIS and dissatisfaction with life in ing a horse. Neil chides Ardeth looking over miles of marsh. The a shaky little laugh. general one can bring physical jealously. The next day Ardeth warped floor boards of the sungravure section and her heart the slough. Very often there is no real thumps. But Ardeth comes to deth meets Ken when he visits the shop. Shortly after, knowing that Jeanette has left for the day. Ken calls at the shop, feigning that he had planned to drive Jeanette home. He asks Ardeth to go instead. Next day, Ken plans a foursome of Ardeth, Jeanette,

CHAPTER 10 Across the bay from San Francisco the Alameda coastline stretches itself to the south in a vast salt marsh. An empty, fascinating country, brooding under eternal silence. The only inhabitants are lonely little wooden shacks stuck up on stilts in the mud, used for shooting parties or small wooden arks anchored on the edges of the innumerable sloughs which cut the flats into a grey picture puzzle. Half hidden in the saw-grass on the edge of one such slough was the houseboat which Ken and dish towel. That moment of close Tom Corbett called their "duck shack." Most of the time it lay bleaching alone in the sunny stillness-so deserted that gulls and oots and even the wild ducks had come to regard it as part of he landscape. But today the bird life had spirits again. He played waiter, fled in panic. The mud hens had waded away in scandalized agitation and seagulls had a knowing air as they circled its roof. invaded by a tall laughing fellow and a slim girl in a sport dress.

sense of drama. "Glad you came, Moth?"

Her look was his answer, When Ken had told of Jeanable had swept Ardeth. She like a disappointed child. Her lovely day-her beautiful daysnatched away at the last min-

A golden day on the marshes.

Then came angry rebellion. She'd go with Ken anyway! Suppose there were but the two of them? People weren't prudish about such things any more! She would go-she would!

They were defiantly gay coming over on the ferry boat, thrilling to a daring sense of romance. Blue sky-blue sky-and the sun gleaming on the man's uncovered head. There was a little crease in his thick hair where the hat brim had pressed a crease which would just hold her finger, thought the girl dreamily. Then she had given a little startled laugh at the shought and would not tell him why she laughed.

This golden day dropped into her lap, far removed from the other gray days of the week. Nothing mattered—Aunt Stel's nagging—Neil's jealousy—Cecile Parker-not even tomorrow, which would put the worldly gulf between them again. Nothing mattered, while she was here with Ken on this golden day!

The thrilling sense of intimacy deepened when they left the beat

She tied a huge flour sack dish ber of French pastry had been plans and they have a row. Ar- badly fammed in the trip over, and sent them into gales of laugh-

Just the sight of Ken with a dish towel tied about his neck solemnly licking whipped cream from his fingertips was sufficient to move the girl to tender ridihis friend, Tom Corbett, and himself. Jeanette and Tom are unable

Just the sight of a sooty mudge streaking Ardeth's nose was enough to start Ken's shout ringing over the marshes.

They were throbbingly aware of each other's presence. Aware them here together. They combatted their secret excitement with an almost hectic gayety.

They burned their fingers and broke plates. They dropped forks and dived for them at the same moment so their heads came smartly together. They salted the salad too much and entirely forgot to season the steak Ardeth cut her finger and Ken bound it with a strip of clean contact, when he held her hand in his own silenced the man's high spirits and sent the blood surging through his body. They ate lunch on the shady side of the deck overlooking the blue bay. Ken was in hilarious hanging a napkin over his arm, and waving Ardeth to her seat with an elaborate flourish. "Ham, lamb, ram, sheep of The warped little ark had been mutton? Name yer animal, leddy!

The steak is the piece of resistance-if you bend it we can't take it back! day underlaid with a thrilling After luncheon they cleared the table, stacked the clean plates back on the kitchen shelves and went out again onto the deck. Ardeth flung herself on a ratette's absence, desolation unbear- tan couch piled with faded cush- skull and broken his jaw and ions. Ken perched on the rail and lit a cigarette, At first they talked easily. Gay inconsequential chatter-of the hospital. shop-of Jeanette-Ken told incidents of his college days. He spoke of Tom Corbett who owned the ark with him.

time to meet you. I've an idea family.

When they reached the ark Jeanette likes him pretty well. Ardeth works in a shop and is they were filled with the wild Maybe if he'd come today Jeanbeing wooed by Neil Burke. Her spirits of children. Ardeth ex- ette would have forgot to rememmental conditions or attitudes home life is far from pleasant. claimed over it all-the shabby ber her house party. Oh. well. bring about real disease. By sim- She lives with an aunt and a cabin with its cushioned seat we don't miss 'em, do we, Moth?" Her gaze wavered. Broke away right until she spies a "swell" rid- tiny kitchen, its one window from his in confusion. She gave

And suddenly she could not go

Silence growing between them. help the movement for providing

She felt the weight of Ken's gaze, but found, of a sudden that Columbia and its tributaries. It she could not life her lashes. Her heart set up a rapid pounding. Ken had slipped from the rail. He came over-seated himself beside her on the couch. Then his arms were about her -his ardent face poised over her

. . no!" Her own voice in an unconvincing little gasp just before his lips crushed down on her own in a kiss which seemed to draw her heart between

(To be continued) "Copyright 1930, by King Fea-

Helen Clark's Victory Makes Pleasant News

NORTH HOWELL, Sept. 30 .-Of interest to many in this community is the selection of Helen Clark of Portland, as one of the four outstanding 4-H club members in the state.

Miss Clark has spent many of her vacations here with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hynes and Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Hynes while her mother, Helen Hynes Clark, lived here for many years and taught at the North Howell school,

Youth, Hurt in Truck Fall, is Making Progress

SCOTTS MILLS, Sept. 30-Orbe getting along fine. He fell from a load of prune boxes to the mouth.

He is conscious most of the time, now. He is in the Silverton MRS. KIRKPATRICK BACK AUMSVILLE, Sept. 30 .- Mrs Elizabeth Kirkpatrick returned "We roomed together at the to her home from Portland university. Tom's a prince of a where she has been visiting her fellow. I'll bring him in some- daughter, Mrs. B. Ammon and a campaign for Governor of Kansas on an independent ticket.

SEEKS GOVERNORSHIP OF KANSAS

BITS for BREAKFAST

-By R. J. HENDRICKS

Two biggest things:

visitors at the mary need. luncheon hour on Monday.

in the nature of a report of pro- tion is the most open. gress on three of the biggest tion of the entire state.

5 5 5 proposed canalization of the Willamette river; that is, its improvement to the point of preparing the stream for a boating and barging stage the year throughgiving still water at all seasons all the way up to Salem, thence to Albany and Corvallis and Eugene, and perhaps a short distance beyond. Senator McNary through his committeeships and his long experience in congress is in a place of authority and power at Washington, and, having put his hand to the plow, there is no turning back. . . .

He told his hearers that it is as natural and necessary that the Willamette river should be improved and made navigable the a time when we will see the governor. heavy freight of this valley carwith all the world's deep sea ports by water borne traffic; with | party." only a slight charge for transfer-Portland to ocean going vessels. ~ ~ ~

More than this, the same process of improvement will control the flood waters of the river in dependent candidate the republitimes of winter and spring fresh- can drys did not feel they were "I should say not! It's their ets. Still more, it will aid in the splitting from the republican parharnessing of the river and its tributaries for hydro-electric power. And still further, it will are real republicans.

> will make that second greatest river in the United States navigable; it will render it easy to be harnessed for power and light; will help put its flow onto the lands that need it for irrigation, and it will control its flood sea-

> "No drop of water should be allowed to run idly to the sea," said Senator McNary, "without contributing to the economic necessities of the people." projected improvements, for which bills are pending, introduced by Senator McNary, are properly in the province of congress of the United States. Because the Columbia is an inter state stream. And because the Willamette is a navigable river or can with a comparatively low cost be made navigable the year

Senator McNary also told his eighbors and friends about his bill, introduced on the suggestion of Col. Carle Abrams, secretary of the state board of control, and at the behest of the members of that board, for setting aside for the use of the state forest lands, so as to provide a fund, perhaps $30,000,000 to $50,000,000 to build capitol buildings on spacious grounds provided here in Salem for the purpose-after the manner of the magnificent grounds and buildings of the state of Washington at Olympia; and providing Oregon with the best facilities in the west for the transaction of its commonwealth

Senator McNary talked of this almost as "fait accompli," as the is Keebaugh, who was seriously French call a thing accomplished. injured two weeks ago, seems to He said his bill calls for no unreasonable thing, for the United States owns in its forest reserves, pavement, having fractured his Indian reservations and other public lands 52 per cent of all the area of Oregon. Therefore i would be nothing more than fair that the parent government should allow the government of this state a basis of income sufficient to properly house, for all time, its various activities as a commonwealth business. Senator McNary said he believed the matter may be forwarded to a successful conclusion.

That should have been enough to send all the individuals of the large crowd of listeners on Monday on their ways with hopeful hearts, for Salem and her future, for the Willamette vallety and its coming great development, for the state of Oregon as ultimately one of the brightest stars in the

The canalization of the Willamette river will give a higher selling value to every ton of freight produced by the industries on the land and every bale and bundle and crate and box and package fashioned in our factories large and small in our cities and towns -a higher value, because it will save something on every article of the whole volume on freights on the charges that must be met in getting things from producers to consumers.

there is available water for irrigation here of all the lands needing such artificial rain in the dry They were embraced in the less and growing months. And there than 30 minutes in which United will be no call for so complete a States Senator development until the river is Chas. L. Mc- canalized and controlled in order Nary talked to to make it available the year the members of through for carrying the raw and the Salem processed and manufactured pro-Chamber of ducts of the land. River im-Commerce and provement is therefore the pri-

Railways, roadways, airways and waterways-these are all nat-The quiet, ural and necessary arteries of matter of fact commerce. But the primary and way in which chief one is waterways. The other Oregon's senior three, so far as the best minds of senator greet- the world can now see, will aled his fellow ways be more expensive in contownsmen and old friends prob- struction, maintenance and operably made some of them think ation than is necessary in the they were listening to a neighbor- case of water borne transportaly and intimate talk rather than tion. The charges wil therefore having related to them what was be the smallest, and the competi-

4 4 4 things now before the people of There are many great develop-Salem, those of the Willamette ments in various lines ahead for valley as a whole, and the popula- the Willamette valey. But every one of them will be hastened and made more vital and stable and Senator McNary talked of the enduring by the boat and barge lines that will follow the providing of still water in the Willamette river throughout its course.

That is fundamental, and will ikely always be, to the end of the chapter. Not a stone should be left unturned in making smooth the road to its accomplishment.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30-(AP) -The conference of dry organiwhole 12 menths as it was to so zations of New York state held a improve the Ohio river at gov- three-hour secret meeting Monday ernment expense. Of course it is. at which plans were formulated The matter has been allowed to for the support of Professor Roblag far too long, and must and ert P. Carroll of Syracuse univerwill be prosecuted to a finish; to sity as independent candidate for

The petition for Prof. Carroll ried by water-putting in effect already has been circulated and a possible wharf site on both probably will be filed at once, banks all the way up, connecting naming him as gubernatorial candidate of the "law preservation

After the meeting, which was ring cargoes in the harbor of presided over by Fred E. Victor, state superintendent of the antisaloon league; Mrs. D. Leigh Colvin, state president of the W. C. T. U., said that in backing an in-

"We feel," she said, "that we

Representatives of the dry orthere has been entire harmony and that a spirit of optimism prevailed. Some of them even predicted a Carroll vote of 500,000. Mrs. Colvin said the drys would not put a full ticket in the field, but in a few instances would probably run dry candidates against wet republicans.

Steigers Back To Visit With Pratum Friends

PRATUM, Sept. ?0 .- Mr. and Mrs. G. Steiger and children and Mrs. F. Fischer from Portland were visiting with relatives here Saturday and attended the state fair. They returned to Portland Sunday afternoon. A. W. Powell was filling his silo Tuesday. Several families from here atended the Hayesville district convention at Clear Lake last Sun-

Grange Women Called to Make Corn Show Plan

NORTH HOWELL, Sept. 30 -The president of the Grange H. E. club. Mrs. A. L. Cline has called a meeting of all the women at th egrange hall this coming Thursday afternoon, October 2. The coming corn show to be held in the hall soon, needs much planningand actual work so good attendance is urged. It has also become necessary to build a fence around the grange property and this also needs con-

Mrs. Towe Head At Bethany; 45 Pupils Attend

BETHANY, Sept. 30-Monday, the beginning of the second week school at Bethany, there were 45 pupils in attendance. Of these seven were beginners, Mrs. C. J. Towe is the principal of this school and Mrs. Stewart Mo-Clure is the teacher in the primary department.

Mrs. Towe is for the present taying with her sister, Mrs. Clara Lowe at Silverton, McClure is living at her in the Brush Creek district.

The HOTEL PORTLAND, OREGO